SPORT CLIPPINGS

Has anyone noticed that the goals than some other of the Queen's Park have scored more first league clubs? If the amateurs had taken 50 per cent. of the good-as-goal chances missed, you would want a ready reckoner to tot them up.

That a footballer changes his allegiance along with his jersey is certain. Being certain, it shows that the footballer is a sport all the time. Davie Hamilton was a gleeful lad when he scored for Dundee against his old team, the Celtic, and Chalmers looked a picture of contentment when he smashed the ball through Clyde goal for Morton.

Arthur Bridgett might be forgotten at Roker Park, but Sunderland don't seem able to replace him.

Fletcher, the young Manchester City back, should get amongst the honors this season, barring accidents.

Though John Kling has announced that he has quit the game, it is said at least three National League managers, McGraw, Dooin and Clarke, have made him offers for next year.

Royal Victoria yachtsmen have been invited to take part in the regatta which is to be a part of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Because of the failure of the Australian committee to guarantee all expenses, Cal Ewing has abandoned his baseball tour of the Antipodes.

Joe Bayley, personally, feels that he can beat Dick Hyland when they again clash. He is very bitter against Tommy Burns as a referee.

Professional Sculling Champion Ernest Barry has secured the Sportsman cup as his property by winning three contests inside of two years. The first Sportsman cup was won outright by Hanlan.

Because of a riot at Celtic Park, association football grounds, Belfast, the Irish Football Association has notified clubs that in future flags and emblems must be rigorously excluded from the grounds.

The Amateur Athletic Union will celebrate its 25th anniversary as a governing body of amateur athletics in the United States at its annual meeting, to be held in New York on November 18th.

Grand Rapids alumni and followers of Michigan University football team plan to charter a special train in order to see the annual game between the Wolverine eleven and the University of Pennsylvania on November 9.

An English amateur lacrosse team that contemplated a trip to Australia asked of the Australian authorities: "First class passages to and from Australia for fifteen players and one manager, all travelling and hotel expenses while the team is in Australia, and an allowance of three shillings per day per man from the day the team leaves England until their return." They are not likely to make the trip on the proposed plan.

T. J. Richards, vice captain of the Australian rugby team now playing against college and club teams in San Francisco and vicinity, says regarding rugby union football in his country: "The season opens in May and closes in September of each year and 2,325 school boys take part in the various grades of competition—one grade of boys having their weight limited to 98 pounds. There are also 1,540 men playing in competition, other than school sides. The winners of each grade receive at the end of the season a permanent pennant.

Ten teams comprise the first grade section of the above players, 3,865 in all, are under the direct supervision of the Metropolitan Union of Sydney only, a city with a population of 600,000 people.

BAYLEY AND HYLAND WILL MEET AGAIN IN PADDED RING

PRINCIPALS AGREE TO SECOND BOUT—SEATTLE FIGHTING EXPERT FIGURES BAYLEY A BETTER MAN THAN 'FRISCO VETERAN.

Joe Bayley and Fighting Dick Hyland will meet again. Though the date of the battle has not yet been selected, the two principals are agreeable to another match and all that remain to bring the pair together is for their respective managers to sign the necessary articles.

Tommy Burns is willing to stage a second bout at Calgary, but Hyland is not particular where the bout takes place. Morris Condon states that Bayley will fight again within a month and it is possible that the battle will be arranged immediately following Bayley's fight with Johnny O'Leary, of Seattle, at Prince Rupert on November 15.

To Meet Barrieau

It also looks as though a bout between Ernie Barrieau, the crack Vancouver boxer, and Joe Bayley, of Victoria, lightweight champion of Canada, is assured. Managers Chet McIntyre and Morris Condon got together last evening and made tentative arrangements for the proposed bout, which it is proposed to pull off somewhere on the coast.

While no forfeits were posted, the managers agreed that in view of the strong public demand for this match they would undertake not to tie up their charges for any bouts other than those which they now have in hand. Barrieau is matched to meet Kid Scaler at Edmonton a week from today while Bayley is booked to take on Johnny O'Leary, the clever Seattle lightweight, in a fifteen round argument at Prince Rupert in the near future. Neither Bayley nor Barrieau will engage in any other bouts before their champion ship battle according to the agreement entered into by the managers.

Favors Bayley

Oscar Grant, a well known Coast boxing authority, who is now paying Victoria a visit, was a spectator at the Bayley-Hyland fight, states that Hyland can never defeat the champion. "Bayley is too rugged, strong and can stand more punishment than Hyland can hand out" is Mr. Grant's opinion of the two men. "Bayley's punching powers, also, will wear Hyland down, should the pair meet over the long route."—Victoria Times.

PEN BECOMING ARISTOCRATIC

Women Sentenced in Vancouver Refused Admittance in Penitentiary—Not Desirable Class

New Westminster, Nov. 8—Discussing the refusal of the provincial jail authorities to receive fifteen women prisoners yesterday, and others on previous occasions, Chief Bradshaw states that the reason for the refusal is because of lack of accommodation.

He and his force strongly objected to New Westminster becoming the dumping ground of Vancouver's underworld. He considers that under present conditions the sentencing of these women and their subsequent removal to this city only results in their becoming an addition to the local ranks of their class.
