GRANBY SMELTER COMPANY TO INSTALL A FURNACE FOR LEAD

WILL BE ABLE TO PRODUCE COPPER FROM HIDDEN CREEK NEARLY TWO CENTS CHEAPER THAN AT THEIR PHOENIX PLANT.

"Just as soon as our copper furnaces are in operation, sometime early next year, it is the intention of the company, providing we are assured of a sufficient supply of lead ores, to install a lead furnace at the new Granby Bay works," said J. P. Graves of Spokane, vice president and general manager of the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., to The Miner on the occasion of his recent visit to Stewart. The general manager was accompanied north on a trip of inspection by A. C. Flummerfelt, a fellow director in the big enterprise.

While here both made many inquiries regarding the mining outlook, and were particularly interested in the project of the Portland Canal Tunnels, Ltd., to tap the Glacier creek vein series at depth, and in the development being undertaken in the Salmon river. Mr. Graves stated that while no invitation had been extended to his company to send mining men into the district he intended to take up this phase of the matter after a conference with F. M. Sylvester, acting general manager at Granby Bay. He also stated that there was, generally speaking, a far greater interest being manifested in mining, and that the development of the Hidden Creek mines on Observatory Inlet, together with the erection of an immense smelting plant which would represent an investment of about $3,500,000, had in its turn attracted considerable attention to the mining possibilities of the Portland Canal district, and he felt sanguine in stating that his company would not be behind in participating in velopment of other mines besides its Hidden creek holdings. In speaking of the immense sum now being invested in the north, he said:

"Our initial outlay for the improvements being carried out at Granby Bay will represent an expenditure of about $3,500,000, all of which has been provided for by the board of directors. This sum will cover the cost of properties, development, a smelter with a capacity of 2,000 tons daily, a converter, dam and power house, a railway connecting the mine and smelter, and ore docks. We have over 1,000 men engaged now, mainly in smelter construction work, and expect to have the new plant in operation early in January of next year. The permanent force will not fall short of the same figure.

"The smelter will be the most modern plant of its kind ever built on this continent, and we expect to produce copper at from 1½ cents to 2 cents cheaper than our costs in the Boundary district. According to an estimate of our engineer, O. B. Smith Jr., the ore now in sight in the mines at Granby Bay is about 8,000,000 tons, from which we expect recovery values double those secured from our mines at Phoenix, B. C. The ores in the north contain good subsidiary values in gold and silver. Tunnels, shafts and drifts have blocked out and proven up the ore bodies to a point 650 feet below the outcrop on the top of a mountain, and in addition diamond drills have encountered the same characteristic ore below the bottom of the lowest working to a depth of 300 feet below sea level. This ensures an available tonnage far exceeding the probable production during my lifetime," he concluded.

To Mr. Graves and the late S. H. C. Miner of Granby, Que., belong the credit of laying the foundations of the largest mining and smelting industries of Canada, at Phoenix and Grand Forks, in the Boundary district. The company began active operations thirteen years ago, its plant treating over 1,000,000 tons of copper-gold ore annually in recent years, and having paid to date dividends of nearly $3,000,000. In the company's new Hidden Creek mine Mr. Graves asserts his corporation has a larger proposition than its Phoenix properties, famed for their magnitude and the self-fluxing character of their ores—Portland Canal Miner.

SECRET CABAL HAS CONTROL OF THE ARMY OF MILITANTS

POLICE HAVE BEEN UNABLE TO DISCOVER THE MACHINERY OF GREAT ORGANIZATION WHICH TERRORIZES BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

London, July 18.—The days when the suffragettes were treated with mild amusement or kindly banter by Englishmen have gone by, and if one of the bomb throwing and incendiary militants should now be caught in the act she would be lucky to escape without serious handling.

Reasons have been found for believing that the militant clans are by no means known to the police. The rank and file of the militants are receiving instructions and encouragements by methods which novelists have made familiar as those employed by secret societies on the continent.

Even militants of considerable standing profess to be ignorant of who is in charge of the organization, who is drawing up the plans for the future, or who has the care of the funds.

Widespread apprehension exists of the possibility of an outrage which will surpass all its predecessors, something that will come near the realization of the boast about "staggering humanity," and although the government's belated action against the leaders of the Women's Social and Political Union struck a severe blow at the organization it is still believed that serious danger remains so long as Christabel Pankhurst is allowed to conduct the campaign from Paris and terror has not been put in the hearts of the rank and file by the infliction of condign punishment fitting the crime.

The Ottawa Journal hails Arthur Meighen as the man who put the "sure" in closure. There appears to be no doubt that the doubtful honor of devising the "gag" rests with Mr. Meighen.

NEWS NOTES FROM TELKWA.

The provincial game warden has appointed Walter Gale, of the firm of R. L. Gale, Telkwa, as deputy for the district for the issue of gun licenses of every grade, also free permits for prospectors and ranchers as set forth in the game act of 1913.

Mr. Harrup, representing Piercy, Morris & Co. of Prince Rupert, paid a business visit to the valley last week.

The firm of Cohen, Zackon & Co. has sold out their New Hazelton store to Lynch Bros., and the partnership has been dissolved. D. Cohen is taking over the Telkwa store.

Telephone connection is to be established between Smithers and Telkwa as soon as the necessary work in connection with the installation can be done. It is to be a part of the Foley, Welch & Stewart system, but the merchants interested in the two towns are to bear the expense.

J. S. Kennedy and Pete Carr have returned from the Starr Basin, where they started a couple of men at work on the Starr group, owned by Carr Bros. and Kennedy.

Jack Ashman has come in from Hudson Bay Mountain for supplies. The property in which he is interested adjoins the Coronado group, and Ashman is engaged in development work.

F. B. Chettleburgh and William Sweeney have left town for Coal Creek. It is their intention to go on down Copper River and examine some placer holdings somewhere in that vicinity, returning by way of Hazelton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Scott are among the new arrivals this week, coming right through from Scotland to the Bulkley Valley. Mr. Scott, who is a butcher by trade, was employed last year by P. Burns & Co. at Mission Point. He is a brother of Ben Scott, well known in Telkwa.

The baseball enthusiasts of Smithers have organized a team which they think will be able to clean up the Telkwa ball team with ease, and they are going up Sunday, the 20th, to lock horns with them.—Telkwa Tribune.

A DREAM SALARY

Evelyn Thaw Gives Caution Against Raising Hopes of Creditors

London ,July 15—"Yes, it is quite true; I am engaged for the Victoria in New York by William Hammerstein, opening on August 4," said Evelyn Thaw last night. "What about that rumored $4,000 a week salary," she was asked. Evelyn shut her eyes and clasped her hands.

"What a glorious dream," she said. "If it were only true. And what would my husband's creditors say? poor dear things. Don't go raising their hopes that way."
