DEATH THREAT FOR SQUEALERS

New, York, Aug. 20.—Death threats have been repeatedly sent to "Black Jack" Rose, "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon, who have made confessions showing alleged relations between the police and the gamblers, and all three prisoners are in a state of panic over fears that their lives may be taken. The three gamblers say they expect to be killed if they are taken through the streets to court. It is reported the prisoners have been intimidated by emissaries who have been smuggled into the west side jail. The states attorney is anxious to capture Sam Schepps, who, according to the confession of Rose, paid over the money to the gun-men after the killing. Schepps received the money, Rose says, from Webber.

MERELY MABEL REMARKS

That the bylaw bogey is out again raging around the city hall.

That the McNeill bridge is beginning to take shape on the distant horizon.

That President Chamberlin had a warm corner on his programme after all for the City Council.

That the city sleuths are shaking hands on the success of last night's little outing.

That when the constable climbs in at the window the chips fly all over the floor.

That the high school for Prince Rupert means hard work for several young people.

That everybody's doing it. What? Waiting for the return of the school teachers.

That it's quite a business getting ready to entertain the Duke of Connaught.

That it might be quite a plan just to let the Governor General see us as we are.

That the old timers are preparing while the Wanderers are still repairing.

HEAR THE ORCHESTRA'S GOOD ONES

Last night the new orchestra at the Westholme Opera House delighted crowds; the musical performance being up to standard of the highest, and immensely appreciated. In the Empress Theatre, too, there is now an augmented orchestra, the rivalry of the houses being to the advantage of their patrons, who are gratified by music such as has been only occasionally rendered in Prince Rupert before. Unstinted praise is given the picture shows at present, the Irish play at the Westholme being a particularly fine one.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTICE.

The school year of 1912-13 opens on the 26th inst. Those unfamiliar with the conduct of British Columbia schools will note that until Nov. 1st school is called at 9 a. m. and is closed at 3:30 p. m. All teachers, including the principal, are required in their respective class rooms from the moment of call to the moment of dismissal. It is therefore expected that parents and guardians will make it their unvarying and courteous practice to have all interviews with teachers and pupils before or after sessions. Those desiring to have new pupils placed will find the principal free to deal with the matter from 3:30 to 4 p. m. each day.
