BEAUTIFUL WHITE GIRL WILL NOT DESERT HER BLACK LOVER

JOHNSON SNEERS AT ANGUISH OF MOTHER WHO PLEADS WITH HER DAUGHTER TO RETURN AND BE FORGIVEN—FEELING RUNS HIGH AGAINST THE BLACK.

Chicago, Oct. 24—Miss Lucille Cameron, the beautiful 19-year-old girl, whom Jack Johnson is alleged to have kidnapped still persists in her declaration that she will marry the great black. Her friends say the negro has her hypnotized.

Even the police were moved by the scene between mother and daughter, when the elderly woman sought her, and in the presence of her dusky lover appealed to her to return to her home. While, with tears streaming down her withered cheeks the girl's mother urged her to forsake the champion, he stood by and laughed at the parent's anguish.

"I have gone too far," the girl wailed, "and cannot go back now." "No matter what you have done, Lucy," begged the broken-hearted mother, "come back. I will forgive you everything."

At times, as if swayed by filial love and devotion, the girl would turn toward the breast that shielded her when she was young as if she would answer the entreaties of love, but the sneer of the thick brutish lips, which have been constantly characterised as wearing the "golden smile," seemed to fascinate her, and as if hypnotized she would return to him. After trying in vain for over an hour to change the girl, the heart-broken old lady went away.

Feeling runs very high and Johnson is not safe to travel abroad without his bodyguard of private detectives.

DOPED HORSES TO WIN RACE

Sensation in Paris Racing Cirlces Over Disqualification of Horses and Trainers for Doping.

Paris, Oct. 24.—A sensation in racing circles was caused by the report of Prof. Kauffman to the French Jockey Club a few days ago wherein three horses which won recent events were disqualified on account of doping. Prof. Kauffman made an analysis of the saliva of several race horses. In a great majority of cases he found no traces of stimulants or drugs; five or six were doubtful, while in three cases stimulants undoubtedly were administered. The stewards thereupon decided to disqualify three horses, Mabels, Bon Bon and Rose, and Trainer Tirio, whose horse won the Coup D'Ir at Maissons Lafitte; Michael Lazards, of Hallebard, trainer for Shields, who won the Prix Saint Angela at Le Hrembay, and Wadworth Rogers of Palo Alto, trainer for W. Flatman , who won the Prix Saint Simon. No decision was made regarding the trainers, whose personal responsibility was not proved. It is probable the committee will alter the rules in order to fix the responsibility for future cases.

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN JOE

Victoria Fans Believe in Bayley's Ability to Best Dick Hyland.

Joe Bayley, it is said, will have the hardest tussle of his career to get away with "Fighting Dick" Hyland at Calgary on Thanksgiving Day, and many look to see him go down before the American's experience and ring generalship. Fight fans from the Capital City are not at all dubious and after watching Joe practice at the J. B. A. A. for several weeks are sending their coin up to the prairie town to take the 5 to 4 odds that are being offered on Hyland. If Bayley does get away with the long end of the fight, it will place him in a direct line for the top notchers on the other side of the line.

After the Thanksgiving Day bout, Bayley will fight Kid Scaler at Edmonton, and then will come here for a go with O'Leary, the Seattle lightweight.

Indian Soccer Players.

Undoubtedly one of the best junior aggregations of soccer players in British Columbia is to be found at the Catholic Indian school at Cowper Island, not far from Chemainus. The native boys play with a vim and vigor that is remarkable, and the work of their halves and full backs is wonderful. As individual players the forwards are very good, being very fast runners and fair dribblers, but they do not work well together and often lose a sure goal for lack of team play. This defect is being improved through practice, as is also their knowledge of the offside rules.

FIRST CHAMPS OF THE WORLD

Baseball games between rival champion clubs for the championship of the universe began away back in 1884, when Arthus Irwin, now scout of the New York Yankees, was captain of the Providence team, the winners of the National League pennant.

Providence that year played a series of games with the Metropolitan team of New York, the winners of the pennant in the American Association. Irwin was shortstop, captain and coach of the Providence outfit, and his players included the great pitchers Charley Radbourne and Charley Sweeney, also Jerry Denny and several other old time stars.

The Metropolitan proved an easy foe in the first world's series, for they lost the first three games to Providence. The Metropolitans were managed by James Mutrie, and their best pitchers were Tim Keefe and Lynch, who were no match for the Providence stars.

The three games were played at the old Polo Grounds, One Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue, and the first exhibition presents a glaring contrast in attendance in comparison with the world's series games today.

At the first game at the old Polo Grounds in 1884 the contest was witnessed by a crowd of 2,000. This was the beginning of the baseball contests for the world's title, and interest in these games grew steadily after that year. A baseball title of the world was a new thing then and did not attract much attention.

"So you really have been given the acid test, have you?"

"Rather. I have danced with just five lemons this evening."

You Are on the Bench

YOU—the Public—are the judge. On your good opinion and your good word depends the success of the advertised article. For no amount of advertising will induce you to buy a second time what you do not like. No advertising will offset the bad effect of a dissatisfied buyer.

That is why advertisers must and do maintain the quality of their goods.

Advertisers realize that to turn their outlay for advertising into profit they must give good value.

They are not looking for one-time sales. First sales, in most cases, would not pay for the advertising.

To be successful, they must make steady customers. So, quality is being put in to hold the trade that advertising produces.

Thus, to be sure of quality, one naturally turns to goods that are advertised. And isn't it only reasonable?

No manufacturer can afford to advertise for long an inferior article. From the moment the advertising begins, the quality must either be kept uniform or improved—to go back means ruin.

The day is passing when you ask for a pint of pickles. You name the brand.

You don't ask for Rolled Oats. You name the brand you prefer.

The unknown article may be good, but you are not so sure of it as you are of the advertised article, which bears the seal of quality, —a well known maker's trade name.

TO MANUFACTURERS

You who make good goods and do not advertise—show your confidence in your product.
Advertise it.
Let the public know that you stand back of your goods to maintain their high quality.

Make your trade name the recognized standard in your line.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
