No Pay for Contractor

from the auxiliary, they did not feel like conceding the privilege of the direction of the spending of the money to the latter body. They asked the board to hold the money in trust until it was required for the purpose intended, when they would be on hand to direct its disbursement.

This did not meet with the approval of certain members of the board, Mr. P. I. Palmer being particularly emphatic in declaring that he was absolutely opposed to such a course. The concert had been given under the auspices of the auxiliary, who were a powerful and helpful adjunct to the Hospital Board, and to them alone should the handling of the fund be left. He further said that the letter of Mrs. Burritt and Mrs. McNeill really could not be considered by the board beyond being courteously acknowledged.

After some further discussion a motion was carried that the original action of the board to hold the funds until required and then allow the auxiliary the directing of the furnishing of the ward was carried.

At a special meeting of the board, held during the month, it was agreed that in the case of the disposal of the remains of patients dying at the hospital without friends or having given any special directions in the matter, the several undertaking firms in the city would be given the interments in turn.

It was announced that four more probationers were to be appointed to assume duty about the first of next February, when they hoped the new wing would be completed. This would bring the number up to eight. Later they proposed to augment the number to twelve.

A letter had been forwarded to the medical association of Prince Rupert in regard to their furnishing a series of lectures to the hospital staff this coming winter. A reply had been received stating that owing to a number of the fraternity being away from the city at the present time a definite answer could not be furnished.

Miss Fulton, one of the qualified nurses on the staff, handed in her resignation to the board, which was accepted to go into effect upon the third of the coming month.

The matter of Contractor Hicks and the building of the new wing was thrashed out in a most decisive manner.

Some strong remarks were made by Mr. P. I. Palmer in regard to the way the contractor was living up to his contract. Mr. Palmer did not hesitate to say that he did not believe the building could be put up for the sum of money the contractor had taken it for and it was up to the board to look after their own or they would be decidedly left in the matter of receiving a dollar's worth of goods for a dollar's worth of pay. The permanent work should be finished as it went along before any certificates were issued by the architect allowing of money being paid by the board on account.

Despite the fact that several of the board thought that in order to expedite the early completion of the building 80 per cent. of the money for completed work passed by the architect might be paid, Mr. Palmer's motion that "no further certificates be issued to the contractor until all permanent work was completed according to the specifications and was passed by the architect" was carried.

Mr. Potter, the architect, who returns from a short visit to the South today, will be notified to this effect.

The Provincial government, through Mr. W. Manson, is to be asked for a grant of at least $10,000 at the next session of the House.

NAAS INDIAN WAS DROWNED

James Smythe's gasoline boat floundered near the same place, but fortunately no one was drowned.

Commissioners Meet.

The Police Commission met yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's office at the city hall. Besides the Mayor, who occupied the chair, there were present the two other commissioners, Alderman Bullock-Webster and Mr. J. H. Thompson. The report of Chief W. H. Vickers was received. There were forty cases entered during the month, thirty convictions, four dismissals, four cases withdrawn and two pending. The amount of fines received was $396. The pay roll for the month was $849. The request of the chief that six heavy blue cloth rainproof overcoats with capes be furnished for the use of the force this winter was granted, the chief being given instructions to procure the same.
