Editorial Notes and Clippings

A DISGRACEFUL MEETING.

For four hours last night the City Council sat and talked, listened to the abusive language of the Mayor, and as a net result have to show for their work and consumption of light and fuel an order to furnish the city hall.

Of all the freak, out-of-order, ridiculous meetings ever held in Prince Rupert it was the worst. As usual in these weekly sittings of the Council, which in the eyes of many are regarded in the light of a vaudeville performance, the Mayor was the central figure. For over half an hour he abused those who were opposed to the opening of the pool rooms on Sunday, and with tears in his voice called to his colleague, Alderman Bullock-Webster, in the chair, to show where either of them had been the recipients of the least bit of gratitude from the citizens for their moral principles. No word of commendation had been given either of them for their efforts with the chief of police to improve the moral tone of the city.

The whole discussion was out of order and Alderman Bullock-Webster, either out of ignorance of the common practices of parliamentary law or fear of the Mayor, allowed him to criticize the intentions and Christian principles of the clergy of Prince Rupert and roundly condemn everyone who did not support him in his administration of the affairs of the city.

NO EXPERT WANTED.

Alderman Clayton last night, in a last effort to have some businesslike method adopted in presenting the proposed sewerage system to the electors, advocated again the necessity of an expert's opinion in regard to the work. He pointed out that it would ultimately cost the city several millions of dollars and that it was far cheaper to have an expert opinion, and indeed was due to the citizens to have the opinion of a qualified man, before voting on the bylaw.

Mayor Newton led the debate against him, saying that it mattered not to him whether or not the bylaw carried.

It was remarked that the Councillors themselves did not know anything about the bylaw. How much less will the electors know when called upon to vote for the expenditure of not hundreds but millions? Are they qualified to know whether the system laid out now will accommodate the needs of a city of fifty thousand persons?

In securing a typewriter for the superintendent of electric light the Council required the expert opinion of a qualified judge of machines of that class before buying. How much more necessary is it then to have expert advice on the buying of a sewerage system for which the citizens will not be paying $75, but millions?

There certainly is not even a paste imitation of the jewel "consistency" in any of the actions of the Council in regard to the sewerage bylaw or the general handling of the numerous civic problems.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

The Omineca Herald in its Prince Rupert column, in discussing the present City Council, seems to have hit the right nail on the head. Among other pertinent comments is the following paragraph:

Complaint is made that a great deal of the time for which the city pays the Mayor $2,000 and the Councillors $400 each has been spent discussing the whereabouts of a lost deer, the personal charms of the young lady applicants for the job of telephone operator, or some other question of equal importance, while items involving real money are handled like a girl plays baseball. Prince Rupert's municipal government is a million dollar job, and the business men intimate that it is now in the hands of two-bit managers.

GRAHAM ISLAND TORIES WANT NOTHING TO DO WITH RUPERT

CLAIM THAT DISSENSIONS ARE RAISED IN ISLAND TORY CAMP BY "BUNCH" FROM THIS CITY WHO USED THREATS TO ASSOCIATION.

For the purpose of getting together after being at outs for a long time to the detriment of the Conservative party and the Queen Charlotte Islands in particular, the two Conservative associations known as "progressive" and "liberal" will hold a meeting soon for the big peace smoke.

Next Friday evening the "progressives" will hold a meeting at which it is the declared intention of the leaders to dissolve the association. This is the larger association in point of numbers. The "liberal" wing is to follow suit. They both are to begin over again with an old fashioned association without any frills and in all probability without any frictions. It is understood that the opposing leaders will not seek office in the new association.

But a greater purpose than the mere settlement of local differences is in view. It is apparent to anybody who has interested himself to any extent in the politics of the north country that in Prince Rupert there is a coterie of politicians inclined to dictate not only in their own councils, but to ride rough shod over the whole of the north, commanding here and demanding there. These few are responsible for the insurgent movement, which is not good for the Conservative party.

It is not the desire to longer submit to the dictates of the Prince Rupert bunch. They do not know conditions over here and some of them probably think this group still inhabited principally by Indians, bears and geese.

But the fact is during the past three years there has been a large influx of white people and the Conservatives among these do not want to be dictated to by a few in Prince Rupert, eighty miles away—a few whose business and political interests all are on the mainland.

What is proposed now is a Queen Charlotte Islands executive to look after the interests here. This proposal undoubtedly will be recognized as best by the party executives in the south, who, no doubt, are aware of the autocratic attitude of the petty few in Prince Rupert, who, it is alleged here, have declared "unless you fellows on Graham Island do so-and-so you won't get a d— thing."

The Prince Rupert gang was big enough when the puddle was small, but the puddle has grown. —Masset Leader.

PLEASED WITH RUPERT

E. Parkinson, Collector of Inland Revenue, is Delighted with This City.

E. Parkinson, collector of inland revenue for the province of British Columbia, who has been in the city for the last few days in connection with the appointment of J. Jephson as local collector, returned to Vancouver on the Princess Beatrice.

This has been Mr. Parkinson's first visit to Prince Rupert, and he has taken advantage of the opportunity to thoroughly look over the townsite. He is delighted with all that he has seen and is more than complimentary in regard to the energy and enterprise shown by the citizens in the building up of the latest terminal city.

HONESTY WAS NOT VERY GENEROUS TO TAXI MAN

French Auto Driver Returned Immense Sum and Received Fine.

A story of an honest taxi driver who had no luck recently appeared in a French newspaper. A Parisian taxi driver named Legourd has the useful habit of finding things, and being honest he does his best to return them to their rightful owners. His first adventure of this nature was not encouraging. A lady left behind in his taxicab a fur worth $400. He returned it and expected a slight recompense. He got a lecture on moral principles, and exhortation to remember that honesty was the best policy, and the door slammed in his face. Again, a gentleman left behind in the cab a bag containing $40,000 in securities. Legourd discovered it, put on top speed and raced through the streets of Paris to catch the man in the Gare de Lyon. He received two summons from policemen who objected to his pace, turned a deaf ear to the protests of indignant pedestrians and, after 60 minutes of wild racing, managed to find the owner of the bag, who "generously" gave him a five franc piece (less than a dollar). The summons alone came to more than that.

Deepest Part of Ocean.

The greatest known depth of the sea, 32,089 feet, occurs at a point forty miles distant from the northern coast of the Philippine Island of Mindanao. It was discovered by the American survey ship Planet in a recent voyage from Eastern Asia to the South Seas. This is the only point in the world where the ocean is known to be more than six miles deep. If Mount Everest, believed to be the highest mountain in the world, could be placed in this depression, its summit would be submerged beneath some 3,000 feet of water.

POWER OF THE PRESS

When Motor Broke Down Paper Was Run Off with Auto.

A newspaper, known as the African Standard, is said to have been recently published at Nair-obi, South Africa, under unusual circumstances. Owing to the breakdown of the electric supply the printing machinery was stopped, but the ingenuity of the proprietors was equal to the occasion. They harnessed a motor car to the printing press and ran off the edition at the expense of a considerable quantity of petrol, the paper appearing at the usual time without a hitch.
