OTTOMAN DETERMINED NOT TO YIELD BIG CITY TO THE BULGARIANS—MAY CONTINUE HOSTILITIES—AL-

OF ALBANIA

(Special to Daily News.)
London, Dec. 21.—The Telegraph claims to have impeached authority for its statement that Turkey is resolved to retain Adrianople at all costs and is willing and ready to resume hostilities with the Balkan states.
A most pessimistic view is taken here of the final outcome of the peace negotiations.

London, Dec. 21.—The Balkan allies are said to not take a kindly view of the Turkish proposals in regard to the autonomy of Albania. The allies insist that Albania be given her independence and be absolutely free from the suzerainty of the Ottoman Empire.

Prince Edward Island, where they will be bred. Several silver foxes were also among the lot. Their hides are worth a thousand dollars each.

MAY AMEND ACT

Seals Becoming Plentiful and Males Should Be Thinned Out.

(Special to Daily News.)
Washington, Dec. 21.—Amendments to the sealing act may be made owing to the rapid increase of the herds. Unless the males are thinned out there is serious danger to the seal herds, and for this purpose the killing of males may be allowed.

Christmas Sermon.

"Memories of Bethlehem" will be the topic on which Rev. F. W.
Kerr will preach tomorrow evening in the Empress Theatre. The speaker will take the address from his own experiences while travelling in the Holy Land. Everyone is cordially welcome at this Christmas service. Morning service is held in the Presbyterian Hall. On Monday evening the Sunday school are having a Christmas tree and musical can-

Banker in the City.

F. F. Hannington, who for the last eighteen months has held the position of manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Stewart, accompanied by his mother, arrived in the city yesterday morning on the Prince John. Mr.
Hannington, previous to assuming the management of the bank in Stewart, was for some little time a member of the local staff of the Bank of Commerce. Business at Stewart not being of sufficient volume to warrant keeping the bank there open for the winter, the branch has been closed until spring. The accounts have all been transferred to this city.

ROYALS WIN MARREN CUP FOR BASKET BALL

Hard Fought Game Last Night Ends in Favor of Baptists—Baseball to Start.

By a score of 13 to 11, the Brotherhood defeated the Men's Own last night at the Auditorium in the concluding match of the basket ball season. There was a fair sized crowd of basket ball fans present, who had an excellent run for their money, the game being of a very fast and exciting character. The lineup of the teams was as follows:

Brotherhood—Leo Ives (captain), Garton, Shaeffer, Adair Carss and Jarvis McLeod.
Men's Own—Maurice Corkill

(captain), E. L. Fisher, Barrie Weston and Shrubbsall.

As everyone knows, of course, the Marren cup was won after a succession of brilliant games by the Royals, who did not once go down to defeat.

This ends the basket ball for this season, the Royals being possessors of the trophy until next fall, when they will have to enter the arena once again and show their prowess over their antagonists in order to retain it in their possession. After New Year's indoor baseball will reign supreme, the teams taking part in this excellent winter sport being made up of practically those who have been playing basket ball. The skating rink on Sixth avenue affords as good a place for holding games of this character as could be found in any city in the province.

MR. AND MRS. HELGERSON RETURN TO THE CITY

H. G. Helgersson and Bride Arrived Last Night on Princess Beatrice

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Helgersson arrived on the Princess Beatrice yesterday afternoon, to take up their future residence in this city. Mr. Helgersson, who is a brother of O. M. Helgersson, the young wizard of finance whose exploits during the last eighteen months in Saskatoon were chronicled in yesterday's issue of The Daily News, is one of the most popular and successful young business men of the city. Miss Moore, the young lady whom Mr.
Helgersson recently made his bride at the latter's home in the Eastern States, was a visitor to Prince Rupert during the early part of last summer. Both are extremely popular here. A large number of friends and acquaintances were at the wharf yesterday to greet their arrival. Mr.
Helgersson is at present the head of the real estate firm of H. G.
Helgersson & Co., Ltd.

NOT HURT ON ROAD

James Quinn Received Injuries in Vicinity of Fiddler Creek—Resting Easily.

James Quinn, the man who was so seriously hurt by a fall of rock near Fiddler Creek on Thursday, is resting quietly today and his condition is as well as could be expected. He was not injured in connection with the G. T. P. construction work, as was stated at first, but in some workings in the prospect mines in the vicinity. He was brought by his companions to Fiddler Creek, where the train stopped to take him aboard. Word was sent ahead to Terrace to Dr.
Traynor, who boarded the cars at that place and took charge of the injured man and accompanied him to the city.

Fresh Christmas Flowers.

Those who love flowers will be glad to know that a shipment will arrive at the Arctic Studio on Tuesday morning next via the Venture, the last ship before Christmas. Customers will thus be able to have them for Christmas four days fresher than if they had been ordered via the Beatrice on Friday. A shipment of beautiful violets direct from San Francisco was received Friday in splendid condition. Orders for these should be placed at once. 300-301

Last Boat for Masset.

The Prince John left for Mas-set shortly after 12 o'clock last night with a fair sized passenger list. This will be the last chance to make that place for nearly three weeks, there not being another boat until January 10th.
The settlers on the islands feel somewhat aggrieved at being practically cut off from communication with the outside world for that length of time. It is probable that by next year this will be remedied, a more frequent and regular service being put into effect.

OFF TO THE RELIEF OF CAPTAIN SCOTT

Antarctic Steamer Terra Nova Leaves for the Far South.

Christchurch, N. Z., Dec. 20.— The sailing of the Terra Nova from Christchurch to pick up the party of Captain Scott is a sign of the end in its third year of the Scott expedition to the Antarctic.
It is likely the vessel will bring Scott back to civilization in March.

The ship arrived in Akaroa, N. Z., on April 1, 1911, with the last news of Scott. It was then learned that on January 3, 1912, Captain Scott, with a party of four men, was 150 miles from the pole and was advancing hopefully for his goal although he was far behind in his schedule of march and had been beaten by some weeks by Captain Amundsen. Captain Scott sent back by Lieutenant Evans this laconic message:

"I am remaining in the Antarctic another winter in order to continue and complete my work."

Council Visits Work.

Yesterday the members of the City Council paid another of their historic visits to Shawatians Passage in order to be present at the completion of the work of laying the line of pipe across the channel in connection with the city's waterworks system that is to be. The work, which has been progressing very satisfactorily during the last few weeks, has been advanced to a very appreciable extent by the completion of this difficult part of the undertaking. The pipe is joined by specially constructed joints, so as to allow for slightly bending the pipe without breaking the joints.

MAN CAPTURED IN VANCOUVER IS IDENTIFIED AS A TRAIN ROBBER

Man Captured After Desperate Fight With Young Sinclair is Identified by Three Witnesses as the Man Who Held up the C.P.R. Train Near Vancouver on December

(Special to Daily News.)
Vancouver, Dec. 21.—George Wilson, highwayman, captured by Mr. J. H. Sinclair with the aid of Vancouver police, is the bandit who held up the passengers in the observation coach of the Imperial Limited of the Canadian Pacific Railway on the night of December 7th. He was positively identified by three of the passengers in that coach.

Despite the fact that the prisoner was masked and with eleven other masked men at the time of his identification, each witness unhesitatingly and positively pointed out Wilson as the highwayman who boarded and held up the C. P. R. car. Although the police were sure that they had the right man, it was not until yesterday morning that they had collected sufficient evidence to take the case to the courts.

Arriving from the east yesterday morning, the third and last of the passengers to be brought here by the C. P. R. was in company with several other witnesses taken to the police station. Wilson was then in a condition to be identified, the bruises sustained in the fight with Sinclair and the police being practically all healed.

In order that every chance be given the prisoner and that the identification be the more trustworthy, eleven other prisoners were masked and lined up alongside the wall. Then the first passenger, whose name the police are unable to divulge until the trial, was brought into the room and faced the line.

From a distance of ten feet he was allowed to scrutinize the men, and his eyes passed down the line without a glint of recognition until he came to the ninth.

They paused there but a moment, then with a step forward and pointing at Wilson with his right hand he declared:

"There is the man."

Following this the passenger was again taken from the room, blindfolded and the prisoners rearranged before his return.

Each man in the line was compelled to make a remark in his natural voice, and again, blindfolded and with his back to Wilson, the passenger unhesitatingly picked out his tone as that of the robber. These tests were repeated with each of the other passengers with the same result.

There are now five charges registered against Wilson on the police record. One, attempted robbery with violence; two, attempted murder; three, holding up the C. P. R. transcontinental; four and five, holding up two Vancouver residents.

SUFFRAGETTES KEEP ON DESTROYING THE MAIL

Frenzied Women Pour Ink and Acid into Letter Boxes—Set Fire to Train

London, Dec. 20.—After a few days of inactivity the militant suffragettes have renewed their letter box outrages. Outside of attacking a pillar box near the Stock Exchange, where sixty letters were destroyed by an ink fluid, the outrages were mainly confined to Southeast London. A bottle which contained ink was found in a pillar box labelled "Defiance to His Majesty's Government. Votes for Women." Similar attacks are reported in Edinburgh and Tunbridge Wells.

Three women have been arrested in London owing to the outrages; also one who broke a fire alarm box at Covent Garden, summoning the fire department.

A more serious outrage, this time by a male suffragette, came before a Wealdstone magistrate, who issued a warrant for the arrest of a man accused of endangering the safety of passengers on the Great Central Railway by setting fire to the compartment of a train in which he was travelling. The accused refused to attend court and wrote a letter to the magistrate expressing suffragette sympathy.

Mrs. Pethick Lawrence at a woman's suffragette meeting in London said they must prepare for destruction. They must prepare to smash and be smashed, even if their bodies be made to suffer.

A militant suffragette named

Kitty Marion indignantly refused to accept the offer of a fine of $125 instead of imprisonment for a month when she was brought up at Bow Street on the charge of giving false fire alarms. In reply to the magistrate she de- clared that if she possessed a hundred millions she would not pay a cent and was thereupon sent to prison.
