FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS.

Surely some arrangements can be made with one or other of the theatre companies to have moving pictures taken of the present council in action. It would indeed be a shame to have the Mayor and aldermen pass into oblivion without preserving for future generations some idea of the workings of this wonderful body. Perhaps for the occasion Mayor Newton would rehearse his calling for the police to prevent an alderman asking a question, or the famous debate on the telephone girls would do. At least it would give progeny an idea of the momentous questions which taxed the brains of Prince Rupert's City Council for 1912.

The Good Book says: "By their fruits ye shall know WRANGLING them," or words to that effect. ALREADY. In the case of the present city council, they have not even been introduced to us, for their good works are as hard to find as hen's teeth.

PRINCE RUPERT

DISGRACED.

Mayor Newton has never made any allusion to our repeated references to his action, characteristic of the man, in insulting the fathers, mothers and children of Prince Rupert on the occasion of the Duke of Connaught's visit, and all because the chairman of the School Board was a business competitor.

The children of Prince Rupert will compare favorably with any set of youngsters in the country, either in point of intelligence or manner, and His Royal Highess was much disappointed that they had no part in the festivities in honor of his official visit to this city. Prince Rupert, members of his party remarked, was the only place in Canada in which the school children did not take a prominent part in the celebration in honor of Canada's Governor General.

Mayor Newton did not forget the school children; he could not be ashamed of them, but he point blank refused to even have the chairman of the School Board on the reception platform, although he had representatives from the other public bodies.

The whole thing was so evident that it was coarse. O. H. Nelson, the chairman of the ities for the reason, it is under-School Board, is the editor of the Journal, which has been opposing the present administration.

It is indeed a small matter and one the chairman of the School Board has probably forgotten, but the question involved is a larger one. Do the people of Prince Rupert want a man to be chief magistrate who will stoop to an action of such a petty character to gain a personal triumph? When he would carry spite to such a length in a public duty of that kind, would he be impartial in his dealings with a larger matter in which persons obnoxious to him were involved?
