WILL MAKE BULKLEY VALLEY GREAT AGRICULTURAL PRODUCER

PROVINCIAL LECTURERS GIVING EXPERT INSTRUCTIONS TO RANCHERS AND OTHERS ON HOW TO GROW THINGS FOR THE MARKET PROFITABLY.

Smithers, B. C., May 13.—For the last two days the frontier ranchmen and the optimistic tenderfeet of the Bulkley Valley have been enjoying the interesting experience of "going to school."

The Bulkley Valley Farmers' Institute for 1913 opened its sessions this week in the commodious auditorium of the English Church, Telkwa, and the closing lectures were delivered the next day. The professors in charge were Messrs. H. E. Upton and A. E. Keller, both lecturing experts of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The subjects covered by the lecturers were well chosen and the discussion of each subject aroused keen and wholesome interest. The four general subjects were: "Poultry Raising and Egg Production," "Cultivation of Small Fruits," "Soil Conditions," and "General Farming."

There has been widespread interest manifested in this constructive educational project all over the verdured Bulkley Valley, so that the attendance of old settlers and even the newest of newcomers at the two days' school must have been gratifying to the teachers. Much of the credit for the noteworthy success of the institute is due to the energy and enterprise of the Bulkley Valley Agricultural Association and Farmers' Institute, the local organization, which has co-operated with the department of agriculture to this end.

All told, there are perhaps not more than 300 settlers residing in the Bulkley Valley. The first actual settlement movement dates from 1904, although a few of the pioneers preceded that date by several years, while some of the notable veterans of the Bulkley reach back to 1871, when some five thousand stampedeers trailed through the interior to reach the Omineca gold fields to the north-eastward.

Up to this time the principal crops raised have been such as would be in most demand locally, such as hay and grain with which to feed cattle and horses, capable of providing their own transportation to market. The natural vegetation of the valley is rich and varied, there being prolific meadows of wild grasses, peavine, vetch, etc., many kinds of wild berries, hazel nuts, etc. It is also a wonderful country for hunting and fishing, as well as one of the richest mineral and coal districts of the province.

These elements of wealth and prospective activity were doubtless taken into account by the Grand Trunk Railway when it finally decided to establish its principal freight and passenger division headquarters here, midway between Fort George and Prince Rupert. What the Grand Trunk thinks of the probable destiny of this divisional point as a site for a transportation and trading centre may be inferred from the fact that the city is named in honor of the highest official of the great corporation, Mr. Alfred Waldron Smithers, chairman of the board of directors.

Now that railroad transportation opens the markets of distant centres to the farmers of Bulkley Valley, a new era in the matter of farming methods and materials is in process of introduction through the progressive agricultural organization of the Bulkley Valley, and the farmers are preparing to make their change coincident with the laying of the rails.

EMIGRATION GROWING —MENACE TO BRITAIN

Chancellor Lloyd George Makes Impassioned Appeal to Parliament to Stop the Outward Flow

London, May 13.—"This serious stream of migration," is how Hon. Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, describes the present state of affairs of Britain in regard to emigration to the dominions and elsewhere. The chancellor views with alarm the steadily growing tendency on the part of Britishers to leave their native land, and sees in it the striking of a severe blow against the backbone of Great Britain as represented by its industries.

That all these emigrants should be kept in the country and provided with work and adequate remuneration is the stand taken by Mr. George, and if he can manage it, he will kill emigration to a large extent.

Although not wishing to take from the dominion, the chancellor is of the opinion that Britain must consider herself first, and if the steady stream of emigration keeps up, Britain will find her population gradually being depleted to the detriment of her industries.

In the House of Commons today he said that he had a plan which he would divulge later whereby the stream will be diverted and the surplus population of the towns placed on the land.

WHERE IS MICHAEL DEGNAN?

Eight Months Ago He Was at Anyox

The "Daily News" is in receipt of a letter from Peter Degnan, 939 N. Tacoma Ave., Indianapolis, asking for information concerning his brother, Michael Degnan, who was last heard from eight months ago at Anyox. Following is the description given: Height, five feet six, weight 160 pounds, dark hair, dark complexion, a slight scar on left jaw. Information concerning his whereabouts may be sent direct to Peter Degnan, or to the Daily News.

M'CARTY HAS STARTED TRAINING FOR PELKEY

Fought His First Fight in Calgary for a Purse of Twenty-five Dollars.

Calgary, May 13.—Luther McCarty, who fought his first fight in Calgary two years ago for a purse of $25, now a star of the first magnitude in the fistie firmament, is in the city to prepare for his fight with Arthur Pelkey on May 24.

McCarty has established his training camp at Ogden and will begin active work tomorrow. He spent most of today visiting his old haunts around Calgary, where he started his pugilistic career. He rode out to the scene of his first battle two years ago which was then a mile outside the city limits and found the district covered with houses and a street car line running through the place where he met "Joe" Grim on April 17, 1911.

SOME HOME RUN.

A home run batted out by a high school boy in a vacant lot in Paterson, N. Y., won the game for his team in the ninth inning recently. The ball caromed off the head of Andrew Van Ninewegan, a baker who was driving past the ball field, and landed on the back of his horse. The horse ran away and the baker, partly stunned by the blow, tumbled off his wagon as it ran into a telegraph pole. The horse continued at a gallop until the wagon was wrecked. The baker, a baseball fan, decided to make no complaint when he heard that the ball that hit him had brought in a home run and won the game.

Wolgast and Dundee Matched.

Los Angeles, May 13.—Former Lightweight Champion Ad. Wolgast and Johnny Dundee, who recently fought a 20 round draw here with Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane, will box 20 rounds at Vernon for Promoter McCarey on the evening of June 10. The men will meet at catch weights.

That is why advertisers must and do maintain the quality of their goods.

Advertisers realize that to turn their outlay for advertising into profit they must give good value.

They are not looking for one-time sales. First sales, in most cases, would not pay for the advertising.

To be successful, they must make steady customers. So, quality is being put in to bold the trade that advertising produces.

Thus, to be sure of quality, one naturally turns to goods that are advertised. And isn't it only reasonable?

No manufacturer can afford to advertise for long an inferior article. From the moment the advertising begins, the quality must either be kept uniform or improved—to go back means ruin.

The day is passing when you ask for a pint of pickles. You name the brand.

You don't ask for Rolled Oats. You name the brand you prefer.

The unknown article may be good, but you are not so sure of it as you are of the advertised article, which bears the seal of quality, —a well known maker's trade name.

TO MANUFACTURERS

You who make good goods and do not advertise—show your confidence in your product. Advertise it. Let the public know that you stand back of your goods to maintain their high quality. Make your trade name the recognized standard
