BASEBALL MANAGERS AND NEWSPAPERMEN

Playing a Game of Bluff in Regard to Time at Which Games Start.

New York's newspaper publishers and New York's baseball managers are engaged upon an entertaining game of bluff. The side which can longest keep a stiff upper lip will win.

The publishers demand that baseball games start at 3 o'clock. The managers refuse to grant the earlier hour in order to get the Wall Street dollars through the windows. The publishers feel that a 3:30 opening costs the newspapers of the city more money than the ball clubs make by it. Also, a 3 o'clock opening

John Evers, Manager of the Chicago Cubs of the National League, yesterday lost the game at Brooklyn the other day according to baseball experts.

The publishers say that unless their demand is acceded to there will not be a line of baseball published in any morning or evening paper in New York.

The baseball men say that the newspapers dare not discontinue publishing this news. They say they can get along without advertising better than the papers can without the news.

Each side wonders if the other means it.

The paper that prints the facts—The Daily News.

Budweiser

Made in a Gigantic Plant

6,000 people are employed in the main plant of Anheuser-Busch—1,500 more in branches.

The plant is a model of order, efficiency, cleanliness and thrift.

There are 110 separate buildings, covering 142 acres—more than 70 city blocks.

To go through Budweiser's home, as hundreds do daily, is the best way to realize Budweiser's quality.

PLENTY OF WORK FOR A SHERLOCK HOLMES

Three Great Mysteries that are Puzzling the British Detectives at London.

London, May 13—Three great mysteries are being investigated in this country at the present time, two by Scotland Yard and the other by lawyers. All are concerned with persons who disappeared. The cases are:

The mystery of a young German found shot at Toulon. The case is searching widely for a "Miss Vining," for an equally mysterious yacht, the Foresight, and for various persons mentioned in the case.

for him by a woman, makes this mystery one of unusual interest. The mystery of Aymas Briggs, a barrister of the Middle Temple and a nephew of Sir Forest Fulton, recorder of the city of London. Briggs has not been seen since April 19.

The mystery of W. R. Lidderdale, bank manager at Somerset, who disappeared in 1892. On Wednesday when the case came before the Probate Court Dean decided that further enquiries were necessary before Lidderdale's death could be presumed, and the lawyers in the case are searching widely for a "Miss Vining," for an equally mysterious yacht, the Foresight, and for various persons mentioned in the case.

Yukon Ice Goes Out.
Dawson, Y. T., May 15.—The Yukon ice in front of Dawson moved out at 11 minutes after 5 o'clock last evening. Residents were informed of the event by the continuous and prolonged blowing of all the whistles in town and the river bank was soon lined with the excited populace. It is conservatively estimated that more than $20,000 will change hands in wages and pools on this occasion.

Sure.
Man wants but little here below, And you will win your bets If you will wager money, bo, That that is all he gets.
