NAAS SETTLERS WANT

Transportation Now Costs 3 Cents a Pound for Twelve Miles.

Captain Freeman, of the launch Narbethong, who left last week with a surveying party of fourteen members, headed by Engi neer Taylor, returned to the city FOR SALE-Lot 25, Block 34, Sec. on Monday. He reports the lower part of the Naas as one of the safest channels for small craft along the coast. From the FOR SALE-Half price, equity canyon to Aiyansh, a distance of twelve or fourteen miles, navigation is considerably more difficult except for those who are thoroughly familiar with the channel. There is a trail between these two points, but it is only a foot trail and transportation comportably furnished costs 31/2 cents per pound. In consideration of the large number of settlers who are taking up land in the pre-emption reserve Captain Freeman thinks the government should build a good able cost.
