

SCHOOL TEACHER SHOOT DOWN FORMER PUPILS

STUCK PARTY SCALES MOUNT MCKINLEY—DOMINION DAY EXCURSION IS ALL ARRANGED

NOT SUFFICIENTLY CLOTHED WITH SACKCLOTH AND ASHES

CABINET MINISTERS IN MARCONI SCANDAL SEVERELY CRITICIZED FOR FAILING TO EXPRESS THE REGRET SO GENERALLY FELT.

London, June 19.—That the opposition in the house of commons is disposed to press to a division its vote of censure on the British cabinet in connection with the Marconi scandal was announced today by Alfred Lyttleton, former Unionist cabinet member.

Mr. Lyttleton held that the apology made by Attorney General Sir Rufus Isaacs yesterday was too much qualified and that the impugned cabinet ministers had not "sufficiently clothed themselves with sackcloth." Premier Asquith expressed keen regret at the decision of the Unionists. He agreed that the cabinet ministers would have been better advised to have told the whole story in October during the debate on the Marconi contracts.

At the same time, however, he said that the terms of the opposition motion were in the highest degree ungenerous. The charges having been conclusively disproved, the opposition should have put in the forefront of its resolution "an explicit finding that the cabinet ministers had been foully traduced."

Arthur J. Balfour, the former Unionist prime minister, said he regarded all charges of corruption as absurd, but that the two cabinet ministers had been guilty of the gravest indiscretion.

Mr. Balfour added: "Neither of the ministers expressed regret at the transactions. What they regretted was the differences arising from them."

"If the prime minister will find words in which to express the regret we all feel, he will find no enemies among the opposition. I appeal to him to accept the course which I suggest."

MOBLEY'S INTERESTING VOYAGE IN QUEEN CHARLOTTE WATERS

EXPLORED INLAND WATERWAYS IN GASOLINE LAUNCH. OBSERVING NEW TOWNS AND EVIDENCES OF RAPID DEVELOPMENT AND GROWTH.

Mr. F. H. Mobley has just returned from a cruise to the north end of the Queen Charlotte Islands. He gives an interesting account of his trip to the News.

"There were four of us in the party—George J. Frizzell, Captain Rood, C. H. McGregor, of the Royal Bank, and myself. We left here at 11 p. m. on June 16th on the Laura F., the property of Mr. Frizzell. After a pleasant but somewhat rough voyage, on which Mr. Frizzell and I were the only ones able to eat breakfast, we reached Old Masset by 9 o'clock the next morning. Here we were met by the Rev. Mr. Hogan and Mrs. Hogan, Mr. Deasy, the Indian agent, and Henry Edenshaw, the Indian chief. We were shown over the town and much admired the fine gardens there, especially the garden of Rev. Mr. Hogan, which was luxuriant in budding fruit and flowers. Mr. Deasy showed us a fine collection of old Indian curios.

"We left Old Masset at 11 o'clock the same morning and went to Woden River, fourteen miles up Masset Inlet. There we were met by Father McDonald, who has a pretty little church there. We found about a dozen buildings at Woden River, a general store, kept by Mr. Grange, and other marks of progress.

"From Woden we went on sixteen miles up the river to Queens- town, where we arrived by 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Here we found a fine settlement. There was a large hotel and annex, a general store and a school. There are three hundred people or more settled in the vicinity. We noted the harbor and saw its mosquito fleet and felt its fleet of mosquitoes. The town is situated at the head of the inlet, which is like a big lake. All around the shores industries of one kind and another are springing up.

"We left Queenstown at 8:30 next morning and arrived at New Masset at 10 a. m. We found both DeKatiah and New Masset to be enterprising little places, both of which should be of consequence in the future to Prince Rupert.

"From New Masset we went on at 2 p. m. to Naden Harbor, where we arrived three hours later. Here we were hospitably entertained by J. E. Gilmour, now manager of the Wallace Brothers cannery, who used to run the Premier Hotel here. After lunch we went to the whaling station, five miles up Naden Harbor, and were shown over it by the very genial captain in charge. Last year three hundred and twenty whales were brought to this station. It has sufficient capacity for taking a whale of sixty tons, cutting it up and disposing of it completely within four hours. This year the whaling season has little more than opened, but already thirty-three whales have been brought in.

"Naden Harbor appeared to us to be one of the best in the north. It has a fine situation, being adjacent to the best fishing banks in the Hecate Straits. Between it and North Island there are eight hundred fishing boats engaged and their catch is phenomenal. The country is low lying and rather heavily wooded. As the soil is rich it should prove a good agricultural district later on.

"From Naden Harbor we had a fine run home. Leaving there at 11 o'clock on Wednesday evening, we arrived once more in Prince Rupert at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning, thus bringing to an end a very pleasant voyage."

Archdeacon Stuck and his party, according to news received today, erected a six foot cross on the summit at a height of 20,500 feet. They were three weeks cutting a passage three miles long through the ice thrown across the ridge by an earthquake in the summer. RAILWAY COMMISSION MAKING ENQUIRY INTO FREIGHT RATES

BUILDING PAPER CLASSED AS HARDWARE BY THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY, AND WRAPPING PAPER AS GROCERIES.

Ottawa, June 19.—W. S. Lanigan, of the C. P. R., was again on the stand at the morning session of the western freight rates enquiry before the Railway Board. The first part of his evidence was of interest as indicating some of the fine distinctions made by the railways in classifying commodities. Building paper, for instance, Mr. Lanigan testified, was classed as hardware and wrapping paper as groceries. There was a somewhat heated spell when Mr. Lanigan resented the pointing out by Mr. Pitbaldo and Mr. Cowan of an alleged mistake in the C. P. R. exhibit. Mr. Cowan claimed that a comparison should have been with a United States rate known as No. 51.

"That was suspended when we made up our statement," said Mr. Lanigan. "I don't pretend to be infallible."

"Nobody accused you of being infallible," said Mr. Cowan.

"Don't infer that it's a trick or malice prepense, then," added the witness, angrily. "It's a mistake."

Mr. Lanigan said that the C. P. R. rates on live stock from points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan west were lower than the Great Northern rates across the border.

Mr. Carpenter, in one of his statements filed with the board said that the C. P. R. comparisons of rates on wrapping paper were unfair because their paper is shipped in carload lots to big centres, and then distributed. Mr. Lanigan said that this contention was not correct. Mr. Lanigan submitted several comparisons between C. P. R. and G. N. R. rates on wire fencing from Winnipeg and St. Paul, respectively, to western points for distances running from 98 to 836 miles. For four shorter distances the Great Northern rates were lower, while for the distances exceeding 400 miles the C. P. R. rate was known to be slightly lower.

BRIGHT PERFORMANCES

Of Sunshine Girls in Contest at the Westholme.

Another chorus girls' contest was held at the Westholme Theatre last night at the conclusion of the regular performance, "The Girl and the Hero." All the stunts given by the girls were good. The first of all, a highland song and dance by Lola Barker, was exceptionally good. Lola knows how to dance and how to sing, and certainly deserves a prize. It must be admitted, however, that those who were acclaimed the winners by the popular vote were also quite good. Frances Crane sang "A Song of the Soul" and took first prize. Florence Merrett took second with her exceptionally good ballad, "I'm on the Way to Reno." She is a lively little damsel who can certainly catch and hold the eye of the audience. Cecil Breach played a good violin solo. The other numbers also were attractive.

The company will give its farewell performance tonight, a comedy entitled "The Two Buzlards."

ALL ARRANGEMENTS FOR DOMINION DAY

Officers of Team Elected—Men to Be Chosen on the Ground—Other Particulars.

It is expected that at least three hundred of Prince Rupert's fans will join in the excursion to Old Hazelton on Dominion Day. All the arrangements for the game have been completed and a special train will be run with cut rate fares. The Conservative Association has deferred its picnic in order that there might be no rival attractions. Everything has been done at this end to make the excursion a success. The round fare will be $5.30 for the trip, including the cost of the bus drives to and fro between New and Old Hazelton. This means that the Grand Trunk Pacific has made the lowest rates that the Railway Commission allows. The ordinary one way fare is $7.25.

The officers of the club have been chosen and fifteen men from whom the team will be picked on the grounds. The officers are: V. A. Cole, president; W. D. Vance, secretary-treasurer; Fred Henning, manager; W. Haines, captain. The players will be picked from the following: Messrs. Fred Wallace, Phinney, Crane, Pooler, Henning, Vance, Embleton, Brooks, Tobey, Karl Weber, Dr. Evans, McNiven, Landis, Haines, G. Ingle.

The excursion will leave here about 6:30 a. m. and will probably return at 7 p. m. Mr. McMaster, who was in Hazelton last week, reports the residents of that town to be most enthusiastic over the prospect of the match.
