Your WEEKLY LETTER

Home

How difficult it is, sometimes, to carry out your good intention of writing a letter every week to your relatives or friends back home or in the particular locality in which you lived before you settled in Northern British Columbia. A good way out of the difficulty is to order the "Weekly News" to be sent to them. It gives all the news of Prince Rupert and district.

You will accomplish a twofold purpose by doing so. Not only will you be sending a weekly letter home, but you will be contributing in no small means to the advertising abroad of Prince Rupert and Northern B. C. Just think how a newspaper from Prince Rupert will be passed on by your faraway friend to some other person who will be interested in learning something of the wonderful opportunities of this pioneer land. Is it not your duty to do that much for your city? It would be money well invested.

The "Weekly News" posted to any place in Canada or the United Kingdom is only $2.00 per year; to points in the United States, $2.50 per year.

Mrs. I. Director went south this morning on the steamship Prince George.

Rev. G. H. Raley of Port Simpson returned yesterday from the interior.

J. D. Sword of Victoria, a well known mining man, is in Prince Rupert for a few days.

Miss McTavish, matron of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, left for Vancouver this morning on the steamship Prince George. She will take a vacation of about three weeks in the south.

Miss Martin left last night on the steamer City of Seattle for her home at Kansas City, after spending several weeks here, a guest of her cousin, Miss Kin-kade.

Mrs. Morte Harley Craig was at home to her visiting list yesterday afternoon at her pretty flat in the Clapp building, in honor of her daughter Mrs. Duncan McTavish of Victoria, who has been her guest for the past few weeks. The rooms were gaily decorated with trails of asparagus fern and clusters of red carnations. The hostess received in a smart gown of soft yellow silk, with handsome lace and diamond ornaments, while Mrs. McTavish was daintily frocked in pale grey bengaline. An orchestra consisting of violin and guitar rendered delightful music during the afternoon. Mrs. Westenhaver in a charming brown velvet costume, with large flower laden hat, assisted the hostess and her daughter in serving the delicious refreshments. The following is a list of invited guests: Mrs. Du Vernet, Mrs. F. McB. Young, Mrs. David H. Hays, Mrs. Haley, Mrs. Mehan, Mrs. J. C. McLennan, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. J. H. Pillsbury, Mrs. F. S. Clements, Mrs. J. H. McMullin, Mrs. L. Bullock-Webster, Mrs. Philpotts, Mrs. de Mussy, Mrs. G. R. Naden, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, Mrs. P. I. Palmer, Mrs. Norman Broadhurst, Mrs. W. F. Hart, Mrs. Westenhaver, Mrs. F. R. G. Browne, Mrs. Hubert Ward, Mrs. A. J. Morris, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Kergin, Mrs. W. T. Kergin, Mrs. Angel, Mrs. A. E. Wright, Mrs. M. J. Hobbin, Mrs. Lamont, Mrs. Cambie, Mrs. F. T. Saunders, Mrs. W. E. Fisher, Mrs. Eggert, Mrs. Green (Victoria), Mrs. A. Carss, Mrs. Lee Baker, Mrs. Angus Stewart, Mrs. D. G. SEVERAL OF THE SURVIVORS FROM DISASTER ARRIVE HERE that the boat was in water over 200 feet deep, in which it was impossible to work. They had at first thought of using dynamite, but that would have blown the bodies to pieces as well as the wreck.

Mr. O'Neill and Mr. Brown were very glad to be once more in Prince Rupert after their trying experiences. Mr. O'Neill, when seen by a representative of The Nws this morning, said that he thought no blame whatever was to be attached to the company for the accident, which was due solely to the fact that the rock had not been charted by the vessels of the United States government survey, although these had been working along the coast for years. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company had done everything in its power to attend to the comfort of the survivors from the wreck. The conduct of the officers of the boat had been of the finest. Captain Cann had stayed by the vessel until the last and was among those who went down with the vessel. It was only through good fortune that he afterward was able to escape to shore.

Neither Mr. O'Neill nor Mr. Brown was acquainted with Miss Wilson, of the public school staff, and they cannot, therefore, add anything to the very slight information received regarding her. Mr. O'Neill saw how one of the men from Prince Rupert met his death. The man's name, he thinks, is Flynn. Not realizing that the vessel was sinking in a great depth of water, this man thought he would be safe if he climbed one of the masts. But this action proved his ruin. The mast snapped and crashed to the deck, killing him and injuring others.

Mr. O'Neill spoke of the suction of the sinking vessel as immense. He and Mr. Brown were standing together when the vessel sank. They both went down with her but came up about 150 feet apart.

At least three of the boats on the deck were launched, says Mr. Brown. One of them was full of women, but it was struck by the falling mast and swamped. He escaped to shore not by means of a crate of cabbages, as was first reported, but on an upturned boat.

The rock on which the vessel was wrecked has since been found to be about twenty-three feet below low water. As the steamer was drawing over twenty-six feet of water at the time the gash made was a big one.

JELLY FISH SURROUND SCHOONER IN SWARMS

Vessel Was Beset for Two Days by Portuguese "Men of War."

Los Angeles, Aug. 25.—For two days the three masted schooner Azalea, which arrived in Los Angeles harbor recently, was surrounded by "men-of-war." No shots were fired, and the schooner drifted lazily in the fleet, striking the men-of-war on all sides and ramming them with her prow when she would dive down a long swell, causing an enormous mortality among them.

The men-of-war were fish—a species of jelly fish, termed by seafarers "Portuguese men-of-war," and were met by thousands a few miles out of San Pedro. The vessel loaded at Grays Harbor and had a good passage until within sight of the San Pedro hills.

Then it was that thousands of the jelly fish surrounded the schooner until hundreds of acres of the surface of the water in all directions from the schooner were filled with the fish.

On the Spokane.

Among those who will leave for the north on the steamship Spokane this evening are: Oscar Rae, Boyd Blair, A. H. Blair, John Whittaker, Arthur Spur, Frank Ward, Clay Carlton.

STEWART WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED AT FAIR

Public Meeting Was Called to Stimulate Interest in the Exhibition

"I am happy to report that Stewart and the district generally will be represented by a varied collection of exhibits at the Prince Rupert fair," said Percy F. Godenrath on his return this morning from a week's visit to his home town. "On Wednesday evening I had the pleasure of addressing a public meeting, called by T. J. Vaughan-Rhys, chairman of the mining committee of the Citizens Association, for the purpose of stimulating interest in the Fair, particularly in regard to sending down a magnificent display of the ore resources of the Portland Canal Mining division. The meeting was enthusiastic and pledged itself to compete for the district prize and I have every reason to believe that the mineral showing will be a worthy one. There will be several entries for the Dr. Tremayne potato competition, including Mining Recorder John Conway, Dan Davis and others. In the athletic sports George Brugy, Stewart's long distance runner, purposes entering the four mile and other races. Mrs. W. C. Cameron intends exhibiting some fine water color sketches in the Arts and Crafts department, in fact as I said at the public meeting, if we can only persuade some of the mothers of Stewart's lovely babies to enter that competition, we could certainly boast of sending the best all round collection of exhibits for the fair."

Mr. Godenrath will resume his publicity work here and the coming week complete the local canvass for funds.

INTO LARGER PREMISES

Mrs. Frizzell Has Taken Two Stores on Third Ave.

Mrs. S. Frizzell is moving her millinery and dress goods establishment from her present store on Sixth street into quite large premises on Third avenue. Her new store will include both the stores formerly occupied by Renworth & Jefferson and by W. J. Hughes. Such a move shows that the millinery business in Prince Rupert must be flourishing and is a great credit to Mrs. Frizzell's enterprise. The site, on the corner of Third avenue and Fifth street, is one of the best in Prince Rupert.
