STRETCH OF KITIMAT VALLEY OPENED FOR PRE-EMPTION

ive; waterfront tracts were purchased in 1898, Canadian Northern Railway officials and others being among the purchasers. Mr. Louis Goste, the well known harbor engineer, went to make a report on harbor possibilities; Lord Dundonald, then in command of the Canadian military service, made an examination of the defensive possibilities, and Dr. Montizambert, superintendent of quarantines, selected a site for a quarantine station in Clio Bay, in the event of a terminal port being created. Whether harbor works, defences or quarantines will at any time be required, none can say. Kitimat Arm is a spacious inlet, two miles and a half wide, with steep-to sides and tide lands which dry for over a mile at the head of the arm. There is a wide flat, part of which is covered by high tides, stretching across the mouth of the valley.

The main Kitimat Valley is from four to five miles wide in the reserve, and the greater proportion consists of land available for agriculture when the timber is removed. The soil in the valley is alluvial. Generally it is a light, sandy loam. On the alder bottoms a great deal of black loam is in evidence. Farther back from the river the soil is usually of a peaty nature. The sub-soil is gravel, both at the river and on the benches and ridges. The escarpments on the banks of the rivers and sloughs show the surface to be from eighteen inches to four feet deep, overlying a stratum of coarse gravel.

The valley has a southerly aspect, sloping down to tidewater with a fall of approximately ten feet to the mile. It is practically all one valley from the Kitimat Arm to the Skeena River, for the divide is both low and narrow. If it were cleared and under cultivation it would not be unlike that of the Chilliwack Valley.

WILL FINALLY SETTLE INDIAN LANDS QUESTION IN PROVINCE

ves of the Cowichan agency and a number of the reserves in the New Westminster agency.

The present tour covering the Bella Coola and Queen Charlotte reserves was started on August 14. All the reserves of the Bella Coola agency were visited with the one exception of Ulkatcho, which is 150 miles inland. Evidence concerning this reserve was taken at Bella Coola but it is likely that it will be more accessible.

The commission will leave tomorrow evening for the Queen Charlotte Islands to visit the Masset and Skidegate reserves. It will then return to Victoria and will probably leave at the end of the month for the Okanagan and Kamloops reserves, the largest reserves in the province. Field work there will occupy the remainder of the season.

A. M. Tyson, inspector of Indian agencies, is accompanying the commission on its present tour.

KITSELAS WILL BE CENTRE OF IMPORTANT MINING CAMP

HIGH GRADE COPPER ORES FOUND IN ALMOST UNLIMITED QUANTITIES—OUTSIDE CAPITAL IS NOW BEING INTERESTED

During the present summer there has been unusual activity in the Kitselas mining district, both in the matter of assessment work and in the interest that has been manifested by outside capital. The work that has been done this year is such as to demonstrate that in the vicinity of Kitselas there are a large number of valuable copper mines which in the near future will be developed on a much more extensive scale.

The Peerless group at the head waters of Gold Creek, owned by Wells and Hamlet brothers, it is stated on good authority, has been bonded for $35,000 by New York capitalists. This concern intends building a road from Kitselas to Summit Lake, a distance of 18 miles, with an aerial tramway from that point to the mines. This is for the purpose of getting in supplies and materials as it is their intention to install a plant for treatment of the ore right at the mines.

The Wells group, which has been favorably reported on by Mr. Jennings, a mining engineer; was visited by a party of mining men from Hazelton last week. As to the outcome of this visit no report is to hand.

Manson Clarke's iron property has been bonded by New York capitalists for $50,000. A three mile trail has been built into the coal properties, 27 miles from Copper City on Copper River, in which a number of Prince Rupert people are interested.

The Pauline group, owned by Jack McDonnell, who left this week for Shushana, has been showing up well. This property shows exceptionally high values in copper. A good trail three miles long has been built from Summit Lake into the property.

The Anon group, owned by J. W. Patterson, Dick Lowry and Dan Olsson has also been showing good values. According to reports the ore in the Kitselas district varies from 35 to 85 per cent. copper and carries from twenty-two to thirty-five ounces of silver to the ton.

With an almost unlimited supply of such high grade ore in the vicinity Kitselas seems destined to become the centre of a very important mining camp.

Wallace represented to Jesse Stein, who runs a little cigar store, that he was a cousin of James G. Wallace, chief of the bureau of licenses, and could get Stein a soda fountain license, which had been denied. Stein paid Wallace $25 to "deliver" the chief of the license bureau and had him arrested when he failed to "make good."

In court Wallace seemed to believe that the influence of names is still powerful, for he pleaded with Justice Zeiler that he was a cousin of State Senator James F. Frawley. The plea did not help him.

Miss Braden, who has been in the city on business for a number of weeks, left this morning for Seattle.

J. K. Gordon, proprietor of the Terrace Hotel, left this morning for Vancouver. He will be away ten days.

The Escort No. 2 arrived in port this morning, having in tow a barge loaded with box cars for the G. T. P.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Spokane is expected from the north this afternoon or evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Agnew left this morning for Seattle. They will be away from the city for several weeks.

V. A. Halford, commercial manager of "Canada," a well known English publication, left for the south this morning.

Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, returned to Victoria by the Prince George after spending the past week in the city and district.

Miss Olive Saunders, daughter of Captain Saunders of Digby Island marine station, is spending a few weeks with friends in Vancouver.

J. F. Cork and son, who have spent the past two months taking photographs along the line of the G. T. P. from Prince Rupert east, left this morning for Vancouver, en route to Montreal.

According to a statement made by W. C. C. Mehan, general superintendent of the G. T. P., steel will reach Bulkley summit this week. The distance is approximately 300 miles from Prince Rupert.

SQUANDERED FORTUNE BECAME PETTY CHEAT

Man Sentenced to Six Months for Pretending He Could Sell
Official's Influence

New York, Sept. 4.—Having dissipated his wife's inheritance of $100,000 in ten years, Thomas Wallace, 39, giving No. 822 President street, Brooklyn, as his home, was taken to the penitentiary to serve a six months' sentence for pretending to sell the influence of a city official.

Wallace represented to Jesse Stein, who runs a little cigar store, that he was a cousin of James G. Wallace, chief of the bureau of licenses, and could get Stein a soda fountain license, which had been denied. Stein paid Wallace $25 to "deliver" the chief of the license bureau and had him arrested when he failed to "make good."

In court Wallace seemed to believe that the influence of names is still powerful, for he pleaded with Justice Zeiler that he was a cousin of State Senator James F. Frawley. The plea did not help him.

WATERFRONT DIFFICULTIES PRESENTED TO HON. MR. ROSS

sion, he asked Mr. Williams to lay the matter before him fully by letter and assured the meeting that it would be carefully considered.

Another matter of considerable importance to this district was presented to Hon. Mr. Ross by Thomas Morgan, who is interested in getting out telephone and telegraph poles for export. Mr. Morgan explained the difficulties and handicaps under which this work is done. The poles are scattered very much along the coast and getting them out is a hand logging proposition. To get a hand logger's license it is necessary to be on the voters' list, which makes it difficult to get a sufficient number of men to get out the required quantity. Mr. Morgan referred to another hardship in the matter of the export duty of half a cent per foot. He thought in view of the distance from the market this duty should be abolished. There is no export duty on manufactured lumber and poles should come under the same head.

Mr. Ross pointed out that the government is following a policy of conservation and that the poles would be much more valuable a few years hence. In reply to this Mr. Morgan stated that the life of the trees which are cut for poles is comparatively short and by their removal now the province would suffer no loss. Mr. Ross asked that the whole matter be laid before him in writing and promised that it would be given every consideration.

Before adjourning, G. R. Naden, on behalf of the meeting, thanked Hon. Mr. Ross for his interest in matters pertaining to the district and for consenting to meet the board of trade to hear its grievances. In reply Mr. Ross said he was glad to have the opportunity of hearing at first hand the grievances which the city and district have to present.
