DENTAL STUDENTS STILL SMILING AFTER THE FIGHT.

ANNUAL SCRAP OF ONTARIO DENTAL COLLEGE.

This college boasts of having students from and graduates in every city in Canada. Every year the students have a scrap, and an added interest was attached to this as a result of the war paint. One side wore sticking plaster on the forehead so they might distinguish friends from foes; and both sides were armed with pots of shoe blacking with which they daubed each other's faces. It was a high old time, but the young men cut ludicrous figures at its close.

JAY P. GRAVES HAS RESIGNED FROM BIG GRANBY SMELTER CO.

HAS CARRIED BURDEN OF MANAGEMENT SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION FOURTEEN YEARS AGO—FAILING HEALTH ASSIGNED AS REASON.

After carrying the larger part of the burden of the management of the corporation ever since it was organized in 1899, Jay P. Graves, for years vice president and general manager of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Company, has relinquished the active management of the enterprise, and at the annual meeting of the company in New York last Tuesday F. M. Sylvester, who has been assistant general manager for the last year, was promoted to the vacancy caused by Mr. Graves' withdrawal and also was given a position on the executive board.

Mr. Graves as the reason for his relinquishment of the management, but he still retains the position of vice president and will be actively associated with the company in an advisory capacity. He endeavored to be relieved at the annual meeting a year ago, but his fellow directors prevailed upon him to remain in command of operations until the Hidden Creek smelter and development projects were advanced well toward completion, and a compromise was effected by creating the position of assistant general manager for Mr. Sylvester, with the understanding that he was to succeed Mr. Graves this year, provided his services were satisfactory.

OIL STEAMER GIVEN A GREAT RECEPTION

Tanker That Quieted the Waves About Burning Volturino Is Greeted by London.

London, Oct. 15.—The oil tank steamer Narragansett, which arrived "with the milk in the morning" on the scene of the Volturino disaster, and by scattering tons of oil on the raging sea greatly aided the rescue work, received a great reception on her arrival in the Thames at noon today. A band on board a tug met her down the river and played "The Conquering Hero" and a succession of national airs.

Vessels' whistles screamed and salvos of cheers from the crowds on the river banks greeted the crew of the Narragansett as they reached the Anglo-American Oil Company's wharf. The ship had a number of survivors on board.

They Usually Knock.

"How is the play?"

"It must be fine. I heard it praised by a couple of dead-headers."

SCOOP AND THE BOSS.

"What mischief has Scoop been into today?" is a question that most readers of The News ask of themselves each evening when they pick up their favorite paper. To those who follow his antics daily he is a real, live being in whom they take a personal interest. The News has recently received plaster casts of both Scoop and the Boss which have been displayed in The News window and attracted much attention. Scoop admirers who wish duplicates of these can get them at The News office for 75 cents a pair.
