

Remember Mother this Christmas

YES, of course, Mother knows you are busy—too busy to write—she overlooks it—it is a way mothers have, but there can be no possible excuse for neglecting her at Christmas.

Send her something this Christmas. It doesn't make any difference how much you pay—just show care and thought in its selection. Picture to yourself her pride when she shows her friends and yours your gift "From my boy. He doesn't forget Christmas."

There are hundreds of articles in the "Ryrie" Gift Book that would gladden Mother's heart. She will appreciate the fact that your gift comes from "Ryrie's."

While you remember—write for the Gift book—to-day.

WINNING OF THE INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP BY MCGILL.

"NO RENT" SCHEME OF MILITANTS DESCRIBED BY MISS PANKHURST

BELIEVES THIS PLAN WILL DO MORE TO SECURE VOTES FOR WOMEN THAN ANY OTHER PLAN SO FAR THOUGHT OF.

London, Nov. 27.—Interviewed after a speech made from the window of her shabby dwelling in the West End of London, Sylvia Pankhurst, who is a fugitive from justice, refusing to leave her room, where she alone is safe, according to the "cat and mouse" act, she said:

"For the first time I have spoken about the plan which, I think, will prove the most effective method of obtaining the vote yet devised. It consists of persuading all rent payers in the crowded tenement district of London to refuse to pay rent until women have the vote.

"At first it may seem difficult to an outsider to comprehend how it can be possible to make thousands of rent payers stand together in so revolutionary a movement and to face the danger of eviction and exposure to the rigors of the winter season, but when one sees how, heart and soul, nearly every man, woman and child in East London and other tenement districts support us it will be understood why we place such confidence in their loyalty.

"The danger of eviction is not so great as it might seem when it is considered how many thousands of families are involved, and what a stupendous task it will be to handle the starving, freezing hordes who would be let loose on the city if landlords choose to take drastic measures.

"Nothing short of a disciplined army on a war footing would be able to cope with them, and even though they maintained good order, think what a tremendous expense it would be for the London authorities to find temporary homes for them. Besides, while the authorities were acting to prevent fearful riots, which would be inevitable in case of wholesale evictions, hundreds of landlords would be losing small fortunes in rents.

The Poor Man's University

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."
