Confidence Shown in B. C.

London, Dec. 31.—The Times includes a Pacific Coast supplement today, and describes British Columbia's exploration, its early history, including that of the gold discovery, and its social life. A column is devoted to the real estate boom, and the writer says the investigation shows that the commercial situation is substantially sound, and British Columbians have no reason to be downhearted.

He sees nothing to be deplored in the civic and industrial progress which has outrun the money market. "Knowing the vastness of their country's undeveloped wealth, they wait confidently for the recovery of the financiers from their attack of nervousness."

Agriculture, mining and manufactures are discussed at length. British Columbia's industrial situation being summarized as one of boundless raw material and enormous power. The comparatively little used forest wealth of the province, which was formerly described in the Empire Day number of 1911, is renewed in another column. Three columns are devoted to a study of the effect of the Panama Canal upon shipping, "a question vitally interesting to the whole of Western Canada."

Crib Work Completed

Work on the big dam, which has been under construction about half a mile above the main bridge on Bear River, by the Provincial Government was suspended for the winter on Tuesday. Foreman Dan McPhee has been working for the last week with a crew of 20 men and three teams, and a very substantial log cribbing 1000 ft. in length has been built angling across the river bed. This has been filled with brush and the first layer of gravel ballast has been put in. It is the intention of Road Supt. C. J. Gillingham to complete the filling early in the spring—Portland Canal Miner.

"In Australia"

The play which will be presented by the Deffy Company tonight and tomorrow night at the Westholme Theatre will be a four-act comedy-drama of the Australian gold fields. Telling the story of the long drought, and the consequential development of the baser characteristics of mankind through poverty, hardship and greed, and a good woman's influence over hard men, and her after many years of trying to fight the bigotry and narrow-mindedness of a religious fanatic, and her ultimate triumph and rich reward in happiness makes a most pleasing story, and one that will live forever in the minds of those who witness the story's portrayal. There are many thrilling situations, and strong dramatic moments, and in between there are many laughable comedy situations introduced.

Wednesday and Thursday's bill is a bright, laughing comedy entitled "The Marriage of Kitty." This play was first brought out by Marie Tempest, and ran for many months in New York and London. Altogether this is one of the very best plays in the Deffy Company's repertoire.

Reference Library

The Board of Trade rooms is getting quite a reference library. Recent additions to it have been made by ten volumes with the reports of the provincial minister of mines. There are also now complete reports of the Dominion geological survey, with maps of British Columbia and the north. Quite a number of interested persons use this library.
