CANADA AND HER WINTER SPORTS

climate of the Dominion of Canada, with its wide expanse, various. However, the winter sports of Canadians are additional. They furnish for their inhabitants, right where they live, the same exhilarating and enervating recreations that the people of the Old Country travel to Switzerland to get. The illustration shows our people at some of the most exciting outdoor winter sports.

EDMONTON IS LOOKING FOR CHEAP FISH FOOD

Expect New Railway to Open Peace River Fisheries for Their Use

The completion of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway promises to prove a boon to the people of both the north country and the outside world, particularly Edmonton. In more ways than one, and one way which may be by no means the least important, is bringing the enormous freshwater fish resources of the great Peace River country to Edmonton's door.

The lakes and rivers of the north teem with the finest of fish. Lesser Slave Lake, which will be directly connected with Edmonton by the new railway, is simply full of jackfish, ling, trout and whitefish. Ten pounds is not an uncommon weight for the whitefish caught in this northern body of water, while 50 pound trout have been caught on more than one occasion.

At present it costs $1.25 per hundred pounds to haul fish from Sawridge, at the eastern end of the lake, to Athabasca, and just one-fifth of that amount to bring them by C.N.R. to Edmonton.

The fishing seasons last from December 4 to February 15, and from May 15 to September 15.

WOMAN'S LONG TRAMP FROM THE FAR NORTH

Edmonton, Jan. 16.—A feat seldom attempted by a woman has been accomplished by Mrs. Grant Owens of this city, who arrived at Edmonton after walking the 270 miles from Fort McMurray to Athabasca Landing.

Mrs. Owens, who was with her husband in Fort McMurray all last summer, left there in company with Mr. Owens, R. M. Beard, E. A. Wintworth and Bert Parker, on December 4. They started out with a carryall on which were their provisions and valuables, but owing to the small amount of snow on the trails, and the heavy windfalls, this had to be abandoned four miles from their starting place. Mrs. Owens insisted on packing her own share, and despite heavy travelling, kept well ahead of the party.

On the second day out about fifteen miles was made, members of the party stopping to shoot rabbits. Later the party were fortunate in being able to buy moose meat from a squaw at an Indian encampment, for their stock of provisions was low. Getting a new carryall, the party started out again, but had to abandon the vehicle. On the following day the provisions ran out, and time was wasted trapping rabbits.

The only time Mrs. Owens was seriously inconvenienced, she states, was one night when the party camped in the centre of a ten-mile muskeg, about 30 miles from Athabasca Landing. At this point the party decided they would make Athabasca in one day, so the blankets were discarded. The male members of the party state that Mrs. Owens rather shamed them all, for during the whole of the long tramp she was continually in front, and reached the town the least tired of any.

What is claimed to be a punctureless automobile tire contains an air space within which is a Maltese cross shaped core, interlocking with the outer casing.

- FACT HUNGER -

As children, our first demand is for nourishment; our second for facts.

All through life we go about searching for information.

We make a new acquaintance; but before we will accept him as a friend or invite him to our home we ask for facts about him.

We visit a foreign land; and from the moment we step across its border we are asking questions—searching for facts.

We are asked to try a new food product; isn't it instinctive with us to ask at once:

"Who makes this new article?"

"How is it made? what goes into it?"

"Is it worth the price charged for it?"

Facts—we are simply hungry for them.

Strange, isn't it, that we should so often have to search for them? Odd, that some manufacturers still withhold the facts about their product. Not always because they are facts to be ashamed of—for there are many worthy articles yet unadvertised.

But it will not be so much longer. The fact-hunger of the human race is becoming keener and keener. The more facts we get, the keener our relish for more of them.

Soon it will be impossible to sell a man or a woman anything until everything has been told about the goods that can be told through Advertising.

The public has discovered that Advertising tells much-needed facts—that, in fact, Advertising satisfies fact-hunger.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

Thank their many out-of-town Customers for their splendid patronage during the past year

Looking backward from the threshold of 1914 we cannot but congratulate ourselves on the splendid increase of our out-of-town business during 1913. Therefore, on account of the staunch support and this display of confidence in our service, we must thank our many out-of-town friends for their patronage during the past year. We do not claim that our service is perfect beyond mistakes, for where so many hands are employed small errors in despatching orders are bound to occur. These, however, when brought to our notice, are rectified with the utmost haste and care, while we are particular that our customer shall suffer no loss. We trust that each of our customers will interpret this message as directed to them personally. To all we send sincere wishes for a happy New Year.

PRINTING

Summer is over and the Fall trade has begun. To get your share you must have some sort of printed matter—a circular, folder, booklet or catalogue. Be sure to have that work done properly. You would not send out a shabby salesman to represent you; then don't make the mistake of sending out a poorly printed circular or booklet. We are QUALITY PRINTERS and can produce a piece of printed matter that you would be proud of and which will get results. Try us. Phone 98.
