MEXICAN REBELS ARE PREPARING FOR BIG BATTLE

LIFE BOAT WITH CREW OF BURNED STEAMER ADRIFT ON ATLANTIC--GRANBY BAY'S SMELTER

LITTLE TRIP TO GRANBY BAY HOME OF BIGGEST MINE IN B. C.

WHERE THE JUNGLE OF THE COAST HAS BEEN TRANS-FORMED TO TOWN OF INDUSTRY AND ARTISTIC HOMES--UNIQUE LOCALITY HAS ONLY ONE MUNICIPAL VOTE

Three years ago Goose bay was one of a thousand little spots on the coast line map of British Columbia. It was a small bit of water where the wild ducks found a shelter, with nothing to disturb them but the rise and fall of the tide. The shores were just as nature had made them through a thousand years of seasons--hills and mountains covered with a blanket of muskeg and fallen timbers and a tangle of spruce and hemlock and underbrush. Then came the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, and Goose bay took on the more dignified cognomen of Granby bay. Its boats and steamships chased the wild fowl from the waters; its picks, shovels, dynamite and the ingenuity of man cleared big places on the hillsides, wharves sprang up the shore line of the bay, while the boom of the blast and the rattle of steam drills kept the echoes busy among the snow-capped peaks. Granby bay is preparing to pay tribute to man. It was in the process of evolution; civilization had come. A Great Mine

Nature has many great caches of wealth hidden away in the mountains of British Columbia. She made one of them at Granby bay and a keen-eyed prospector found it. It was a copper claim, and steam drills and dynamite proved it was a big one--a whole mountain of ore. It is the biggest mine in British Columbia. A treasure house that will be yielding wealth for a lifetime, and more. This treasure house looked good enough to induce the Granby Bay company to invest millions in machinery, railroads, wharves and ships, and to build a little city in the midst of a jungle. Its discovery brought about a transformation that overdoes the imagination of a fairy tale.

A Modern City
A few years ago a visitor to Goose bay would have had to paddle a canoe. Today he can go in on a palatial steamer and step

CONSTITUTIONALISTS ARE MAKING SECRET PREPARATIONS

REPORT MINOR VICTORIES--BIG BATTLE IS LIKELY TO BE PENDING--UNITED STATES GENERAL ARRANGING
LINES OF DEFENCE

(Special to The Daily News)
Washington, May 7.--While the Mexican situation outwardly is calm, an active undercurrent is unseen in the preparation of plans and definite reports of a constitutionalist victory near San Luis Potosi and other points in South Saltillo, where it is thought the next big battle will be fought.

A significant part of the constitutionalist successes lies in fact that San Luis Potosi is only three hundred miles from Tampico and west of Mexico City. General Funston has given instructions to increase the lines of defensive measures as required.

PRISON FARM IDEA HAS BEEN GIVEN UP

Police Commission Estimates for 1914 Amount to
$14,352

The city prison farm idea was up at the meeting of the police commissioners again yesterday afternoon; when the mayor stated it had practically been decided to abandon the idea as it would make an additional expense. He thought it would be better to press the government to have a district prison established here. Just at the present time he thought it would be unwise to press the matter as the city had some other things it wants first. City Solicitor Peters enlarged on the mayor's statement. In addition to the expense of building a prison at Shawatlans there would be heavy expense in maintenance and the expense of shipping prisoners to and fro. Besides he doubted whether the city had a right to build such a place outside the city limits. The chief's monthly report showed $492 in fines collected in April. There were also 39 drunks convicted, an increase of ten per cent. The police estimates for the year are made at $14,352, an in-

NORWEGIAN LECTURER STUDYING CONDITIONS

Sent Over by Society to Restrict the Emigration of Scandinavians

J. Jansen-Fuhr, the Norwegian lecturer, who was to have given a moving picture show in the K. of P. hall last evening, was unable to do so owing to the regulations concerning the use of machines in buildings. The lectures were called off and will be given in the Majestic theatre. Mr. Fuhr is just completing a trip through Mexico, the United States and Canada, where he has been sent by a Norwegian society in the interests of restricting Scandinavian emigration. He is making reports on the condition of the immigrants in America, and these reports are published all over Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Steen & Hebert had the contract of installing the plumbing and German silver sinks of the new Savoy bar. Increase of about $1,500 over last year. The big items of increase are extra patrol and a fingerprint photographic outfit.

Ottawa, May 6.--School attendance in Canada is set forth in a statistical work just published by the census branch and based upon the last census. MISSING LIFE BOAT WITH CREW BELIEVED YET AFLOAT

AN AIRSHIP FREIGHT LINE FOR THE DOMINION?

DIRIGIBLE BALLOONS ARE CHEAPER THAN NEW SYSTEM OF CANALS, SAYS BURNHAM OF PETERBORO

Ottawa, May 7.--J. H. Burnham, Conservative member for West Peterboro, has sprung a new one on the house of commons, and apparently in all seriousness. He advocates the expenditure of one one-hundredth of the money the Georgian bay canal would cost in the building of dirigible balloons for freight-carrying purposes. Why should war have the full benefit of air transportation? urged Br. Burnham. In twenty-five years every man of means would have his aeroplane.

25 feet of water and carry over 250,000 bushels of grain. But they don't make their money on the grain. They make their profit in carrying return cargoes of coal from the Erie ports.

Mr. German of Welland said there were some 400 miles of Georgian bay canal, either actual or submerged, to build or dredge if the project is to be carried through. There are 24 miles in the Welland canal, and as that 24 miles is to cost $50,000,000, the 400 miles to the cost of the Georgian bay canal, he argued, figured out to a billion dollars. Taking only one-third of this amount, the interest of $300,000,000 would pay for all the wheat moved east of the north-west for the next hundred years, he said.

"Now, to say that the boats can navigate the Georgian bay canal for 400 miles is an absolute absurdity. The curves are too short. There is not one man living who operates one of the big freighters who will say that the Georgian bay canal is a feasible proposition. They couldn't make four miles an hour. The Ottawa water powers are another question; they are a matter of dams. They should not be considered with the proposition of making a ship canal 400 miles long. This is the first time I have said a word on this proposition, and I tell you it is an absolute absurdity."

FAMOUS PLAYERS PICTURES DREW CROWDED HOUSE

"Paid in Full," the five-reel drama which was put on for the first time in the Empress theatre last evening, drew a crowded house and won a pleased audience. The romance of the drama with its many plots is well known, but the movies present it in a new and thrilling way. It took five reels of splendid pictures to present the story in full. The acting of the various parts was in the usual good Famous Players' style. The new orchestra gave some splendid music which was thoroughly enjoyed. "Paid in Full" will be shown again tonight.

Mother Dies of Grief

New Westminster, May 6.--Stricken with grief over the news of the murder of her son in New Westminster, Mrs. Taylor, mother of James H. Taylor, who was murdered in this city recently when leaving a Sapperton poker game, died while on her way home from California to Jeffersonville, Ind. She had been spending the winter in California with another son when the sad news was received. She at once started for home to receive the body of her boy for burial, but died on the train. The funeral of mother and son was held on the same day. The brother is making an effort to solve the mystery of who struck Taylor the fatal blow on Easter Sunday in New Westminster.

S. A. Corley with a party of friends left early this morning in Mr. Corley's motorboat the Royal on a trout fishing trip up to the Kyax river and expect to be gone several days. It is said that the trout fishing is very good up the Kyax just now.
