Ed. N. Clark, the mushing journalist, tells a comical story of the hobo in overalls who hit Fort George five months back and wrote on the hotel blackboard the legend: "Veni, vidi, vici; pro bono publico." It took the united efforts of the citizens a week to find out what it meant, and the aforesaid hobo is now taking sub-contracts on the P. G. E. and offered Clark a job.

Duke of Argyle Dead

The death of the Duke of Argyle, which occurred in London last week, will be deeply regretted in Canada, especially by the old timers. He was born in 1848 and was the ninth Duke of Argyle. He held manw offices and bore many titles, among them being that of Keeper of the Great Seal of Scotland. As Marquis of Lorne, the duke was governor-general of Canada from 1878 to 1883.

Biggest Station in World

Charing Cross station, the headquarters of the Southeastern and the London & Chatham and Dover railways, which has just been reconstructed, is now the busiest station in the world. Through this remarkable new depot, which is a "four-decker," there pass daily 2,500 trains, or an average of a hundred trains an hour day and night. The two railways mentioned are the highways of the playgrounds of London—the south and east coasts, including Folkestone, Brighton and other summer resorts.
