C.N.R. AGREEMENT BECOMES LAW-ATTORNEY-GENERAL OF ALBERTA GREAT FAITH IN RUPERT

ATTORNEY-GENERAL CROSS OPTIMISTIC ABOUT RUPERT

COMPLETION OF GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC MEANS MUCH TO PRINCE RUPERT AND THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA—BANNER CROP THIS YEAR

We expect that a large part of next year's grain crop will be shipped through Prince Rupert," said Mr. C. W. Cross, Attorney-General of Alberta, who, with Mr. Cross, is on the Coast for two weeks' holiday which they spend in Vancouver and Victoria.

will mean, he says, closer trade relations, which will prove of large benefit to both Provinces. On the prairies they are looking for a banner crop this fall, he said. The grain is so far advanced, and in such flourishing condition now, that a big crop may safely be predicted. On the prairies the success of the grain crop means the success of business in about every line so they are all looking for excellent business to follow the harvest.

The entire system linked up at Prince Rupert. This will be effected on October 1st and should be a tremendous difference to the company.

line between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert, taking in all the branch lines en route, will be in action by October 1st," he said, "and while Edmonton is essentially on the main line, we are prepared to reciprocate with Calgary in every way. If we get sufficient support we will develop here accordingly, and from impressions formed today I should say that we will pay considerable attention to this city—even greater than we have done in the past."

Halifax, N.S., July 16.—Telephonic communication with Prince Edward Island, on a commercial basis, was formally inaugurated last night when Premier Mathieson spoke from Charlottetown to Sir Robert L. Borden at Halifax for about ten minutes, through the new cable which has been laid by the Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Co.

GREAT FLORAL DISPLAY ON HOSPITAL ISLAND

Gorgeous Sentimental and Artist
Beauty Just Across the Harbor

"You have been talking a lot about the fish we have on this coast," said James Smith, the caretaker at the immigration hospital across the harbor, to a Daily News man. "We have lots of fish, too, but I want to show you a garden. He did. It is a real garden—one which would please an artist and an epicure at the same time."

Jim has lived at the detention hospital island for the past two years and he has converted it from a wilderness into a landscape of beauty. On the inner reach from the clam shell bar to the hospital building is a magnificent terraced lawn studded with rose trees. Along the borders are flower beds of pansies, Sweet William, daisies and other flowers in gorgeous array.

In the rear of the building is a vegetable plot where potato plants are standing three feet high, dwarf pea vines are four ft. high, turnips, cabbage, parsnips, carrots and other garden truck seem to grow like weeds in the tropics. It is a veritable paradise for the horticulturist and strange to say it is all the produce of a clam shell bar. Hospital Island is not made up of muskeg and rock like Kaien Island. It is mostly clam shell.

The grove which on the harbor side appears to be just like neighboring islands is a beautiful and cosy picnic ground. The undergrowth has all been cut out, there are tables and seats and cosy corners and a velvet carpet of hemlock needles and dainty ferns which appears to be pining for picnic parties, whose couples would appreciate its sentimental beauty.

When you have a few hours of leisure and a boat took in on hospital island and see the beautiful things this north country can produce.

Carrying Satchel With Small Fortune, Robber Makes Haul

St. Louis, July 16.—Miss Esther Copen, cashier at a wholesale grocery, was robbed today of a satchel said to contain $8,000 in cheques and cash on the street here.

Miss Copen was on the way to a bank with the money when the robbery occurred. She had left the wholesale establishment of her father but a few minutes before when a robber darted out from an airway and snatched the satchel. He ran through a hall way and disappeared.

LIBERALS LOOK FOR DOMINION ELECTION SOON

Vancouver, July 16.—Canadian Liberals are expecting the announcement of an early general election. Honorable Senator Hewitt Bostock, who represents the Mainland of British Columbia in the Senate, and Liberal leader in the upper house, made this prediction in an interview here.

Sensor Bostock said at the present time the Liberals had an effective majority of fifteen in the Senate. The actual majority was nineteen, but four Liberal senators were not always able to attend senate meetings. But the majority of fifteen gives the Senate the right of virtually controlling the Canadian political situation.

At the present time there are five vacancies in the Senate. Four of these vacancies were in Ontario and one was in British Columbia. Senator Macdonald, of Victoria, B.C., had forfeited his seat by non-attendance for two consecutive sessions.

The Conservative government would fill these vacancies with Conservatives. Two more senators were to be appointed in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, according to the terms of the redistribution bill. British Columbia would be given three more senators. This would result in thirteen new senators when the Conservatives had their way, but even then the Liberals would have a senate majority.

Losing Confidence

Sensor Bostock noted a growing sentiment throughout Canada against the continuation of the Conservative regime. Growing opposition in British Columbia and the very evident sentiment in the Manitoba elections were expected to hasten the government to a general election.

HOW MONEY IS SPENT IN SKEENA DISTRICT

By Choosing Inexperienced Men
Government Made Three Failures

Extract from The News-Advertiser, Vancouver, July 10th, 1914: "Trail to coal fields; proposed route via Stewart to Groundhog has many advantages and may be developed."

"The three men commissioned by the Department of Lands to travel over the country lying between Stewart and the newly discovered Groundhog coal fields with the object of ascertaining the feasibility of constructing an easier trail to that district than the present route, have just completed their task, and their observations show that the route via Stewart has many advantages over the present one via Hazelton."

"The Provincial Government is alive to important developments on these great coal fields, but lack of transportation has deterred progress. To transport supplies via Hazelton costs the prohibitive sum of twenty cents per pound and on the outward journey even when Hazelton is reached there still remains a rail journey of 180 miles to Prince Rupert. The cost of this route therefore is a serious obstacle in the way of extensive development. If the Government should decide to open the new route, it will be actually shorter by nearly forty miles than that via Hazelton and the maximum elevation will not exceed 3,500 feet as against 5,200 feet by the trail now in use. On their journey the travellers were able to make many corrections and additions to existing maps, and they encountered many rivers not shown on the atlases. They accomplished the whole of the journey of 275 miles in twenty-two days."

Extract from "The Omineca Miner," Hazelton, 4th July, '14:—"A party of road men who were lost while attempting to follow the trail from Stewart to Groundhog managed to reach No. 6 cabin on the Telegraph trail and arrived here on Monday."

These extracts are of interest and go to show the manner in which the all too needy allowance for roads and trails is spent in the Skeena District. We would ask the local member if it is not true:

That in 1912, $2,000 was appropriated for a cruisers report on this route, and that if it is not true the government party who went in to report LOST ITSELF?

That in 1913, a road superintendent went in to report on this route and LOST HIMSELF?

That in 1914, a government party was despatched to report on this route and LOST ITSELF?

That if each of these trips did not cost in the neighborhood of $2,000?

That if the amount spent on these lost legions would not have almost built the remaining part of the trail under efficient management?

That if the trail was not supposed to have been completed in 1913.

That if the figures given in

HUERTA RESIGNS PRESIDENCY --CARBAJAL SUCCEEDS HIM

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY SENATE AND THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES BY LARGE MAJORITY--IN COMPANY WITH
GEN. BLANQUET HE LEAVES CAPITAL

Mexico City, July 16.—The resignation of Gen. Huerta from the presidency was accepted by the Senate and Chambers of Deputies by a vote of 121 to 17. Francisco Carbajal was appointed president and he took the oath of office. Generals Huerta and Blanquet left the capital, having boarded the train of the Mexican railway a few miles beyond the city. It is thought that they are going to Puerto, Mexico.

On Carbajals' shoulders will fall the burden of bringing peace to the stricken republic, although just how this will be brought about is still an unsolved problem. Huerta's step justifies in a measure the waiting policy of President Wilson and it is now thought probable that the new ruler will be recognized by U. S. Gen. Huerta, it is freely stated, will leave the country, probably making his future home in France where he has many friends.

OVER PROSPERITY, SAYS SIR WILLIAM

Diagnosed the Case of Canadian Conditions at London
Reception

London, July 16.—Sir William Osler, presiding at a reception held in London in honor of Prince Alexander of Teck, said Canada had been suffering lately from a very interesting and peculiar disease. He diagnosed the disease as over-prosperity. Like men who went on a steady diet of lobster and champagne—the trouble Canada was suffering was over-feeding.

The microbe that attacked it in this condition was the interested speculator with his "wild cat" schemes. There was only one cure, and he was glad to see the people were taking it.

Sir William reminded his hearers that there was one type of prosperity which had undergone no interruption in Canada, namely, the growth of the mental prosperity of the people.

Police Court Matters

In the police court this morning, J. Kelly was charged with playing cards in a pool room contrary to city bylaw No. 107. The case was adjourned for the police commissioners to report upon and to bring the same up before the City Council.

Bruce Morrison was charged with stealing a suit case containing clothing from the cold storage, the property of A. G. Camacho. He was committed for trial.

THE GREATEST WAR PICTURE EVER MADE

"THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO"

4 - FOUR MASSIVE PARTS - 4

Thousands of soldiers and hundreds of horses used in the production. Probably the most dramatic series of events in the history of the world were those which culminated in the battle of Waterloo and put an end to the career of Napoleon Bonaparte. This wonderful set of pictures shows with marvellous fidelity all details of this titanic struggle. Wellington is seen marshalling his forces. Regiment after regiment of the flower of the English soldiery is seen marching into battle. The great English general with superhuman energy is apparently every place on the field of battle at the same moment. Napoleon is seen seated on his famous white charger directing the movements of the French. Regiment upon regiment of both the English and French infantry in charges and counter charges is shown in the most minute detail. This great war drama closes with the arrival of General Blucher and his army of Prussian soldiers.

This historic event, which took place one hundred years ago, is re-enacted on such a gigantic scale that even the greatest military pictures thus far produced sink into comparative insignificance.
