DAILY NEWS' EXCLUSIVE SERVICE GETS PRINCE RUPERT LATEST WAR NEWS

The war news service which The Daily News gives Prince Rupert is absolutely the best news service ever given the public in this city. The Daily News has, ever since the great war started, issued from two to four editions every day, containing the war news right from the theatre of action. In addition to this, bulletins are issued, and it is through The News' service that Rupert has been able to keep posted on events as they occur.

On Tuesday afternoon the result of Sunday's big battle was announced exclusively through The Daily News service. Yesterday The Daily News issued three editions, each one having more up-to-the-minute war news than any other paper in the city.

Practically all the big events of the war have been announced first by The Daily News. They are procured by special service, and at a big expense.

If you want the latest news of the greatest war in the history of the world watch for the News Bulletins and The Daily News Extras.

War Situation To-day

Yesterday's late war news was much more encouraging and the tide was apparently about to swing the tide and take the war against Germany. On the Franco-Belgian frontier the tide appeared to be checking the German advance despite the fact that the Germans in a desperate effort to break through sent all their forces to the front, even taking the guards off the line of communication.

This morning's later despatches indicate, however, that the tide has succeeded in forcing their way through the Allies' line of points and have taken two strongly fortified French towns. Whether they can push on further towards Paris is a matter of conjecture. Certainly their progress has not been checked.

In the north of Belgium the fight continues at Malines which is at a distance in front of Antwerp where the Belgians can and do off the German hordes for a long time.

The advance German troops have made assaults on the outposts of Ostend but there appears to be no real attempt to capture it yet.

The east Russia is making steady advances into German territory. They have already surrounded east Prussia and are drawing some of their troops in Belgium to send against the Germans if they hope to hold their own country. In Austria the Germans are well into Galicia and the ally of Germany finds herself harassed both on the north and south.

The Russians with their millions behind them are casting a shadow upon Berlin and will undoubtedly make a tremendous attack to reach the German capital.

FRENCH DESTROY THIRD ZEPPELIN

Striking Evidence of the Failure of the German Air Tactics

London, August 27.—The announcement of the French war office that the German Zeppelin No. 8 has been shot down while coming from Strassburg is another striking evidence of the failure of German air tactics, from which so much had been expected. No Zeppelin has yet been able to rise to a sufficient height to escape the French artillery fire. This is the third Zeppelin destroyed since the beginning of the war. None of them have been able to venture more than a few miles over the frontier, though they possess motors of 800 horse power and are supposed to have a speed of fifty miles an hour.

(Special to The News - 2:30 p.m.)
London, August 27.—The Allies claim the occupation of Lille, Valenciennes and Roubaix in France by the Germans was not opposed. The reason for the French evacuation is not given, however.

The French deny that all the Namur forts have fallen.

CANADIAN CENSORSHIP

There is no compulsory censorship on Canadian newspapers. The Canadian Militia Department at Ottawa has suggested to the newspapers of Canada that it is not in the best interests of the Empire to publish news concerning movements of troops and warships and activities that might convey information to the country's enemy. This request was conveyed to all the newspapers in Canada and they have all patriotically adopted it. The communication is not a private document as a peevish contemporary suggests. The people of Prince Rupert look to The Daily News for the latest war news and The Daily News makes this explanation of why a certain class of news is not published.

NAVAL BATTLE MAY NOT COME FOR LONG TIME

London, August 27.—Naval authorities here are not surprised at the German naval inactivity. It is not improbable that the fleet is awaiting news of the hoped-for great German victory ashore to strengthen the morale of the German navy, which has never yet fought a battle. Meanwhile the days worry round with spasmodic eruptions by torpedo craft. Thus the great battle in the North Sea may still be a long way off. F. E. Jane, the well known naval writer, thinks the ignominious end of Germany's crack warship Goeben, in safe retreat of the Dardanelles, may be the death knell of the German fleet as an effective instrument in the present war.

HEROIC OFFICER BLOCKED TUNNEL BLEW UP FORT

London, August 27.—Correspondence from the front says:—
"The forts, which commands the railroad to Aix-La-Chapelle by Verviers and the tunnel to Chaudfontaine was subjected to a continual and extremely violent bombardment. When it was reduced to a mere heap of ruins, and Major Nameich, the commanding officer, judged that further resistance was impossible, he blocked up the tunnel by running several locomotives into each other and set fire to the fuses leading to the mines surrounding the forts."

"His mission then accomplished, Major Nameich determined that the German flag should not fly over the ruins of his forts, so he blew up the powder magazine and perished."

HORSES FOR CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE

Ottawa, August 27.—A movement is on foot in Western Ontario to get small towns, which wish to contribute to the cost of participation by Canada in the European war, and do not know how best to do so, to contribute horses. This movement was started last week by Sir Adam Beck, and already has been largely successful. The idea has been favorably received.

Three cruisers are after the Leipzig. They are the Canadian cruiser Rainbow, the British cruiser Newcastle, and the Japanese cruiser Idzumo.
