

ALMOST FAINTED IN THE STREET

In Daily Fear Of Death—Until
"Fruit-a-lives" Brought Relief.
CHATHAM, ONT., April 3rd, 1913.
"Some two years ago, I was a great sufferer from indigestion. One day my eye caught a billboard of "Fruit-a-lives" and I said to myself "If Fruit-a-lives will build me up like that, it is good enough for me". I bought some. After taking these wonderful tablets for only three weeks, I found myself wonderfully improved. In a short time longer, I cured myself entirely. My case was no light one, either, Gas would often form in my stomach and I was in daily fear that it would get around my heart and kill me. "Fruit-a-lives" is the only remedy for indigestion".

THE MILITARY SITUATION IN NORTHEASTERN FRANCE.

On this map will be found the location of the hostile lines in France. The Germans are attempting a turning movement and have occupied Douai and Cambrai on the northwest with a view to a flanking move. The Germans are trying hard to reduce forts along the Meuse south of Verdun.

PLOT TO MINE HARBOR FAILS

1,000 German Marines and Explosives Captured at Guernsey, England.
New York, Oct. 5.—An unsuccessful attempt to mine the harbor at Guernsey, England, said to have been made by a disguised German cruiser, which had on board one thousand German marines and enough explosive to blow up a dozen warships, was reported today by Miss Margaret Daniels, a missionary of the Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, upon her arrival aboard the French liner Espagne, from Havre.
The vessel, according to Miss Daniels, was disguised as a Dutch merchantman. The Dutch flag flying at the topmast aroused the suspicion of the British authorities, who had made arrangements with the Dutch that all their vessels entering English ports should fly the Dutch flag at half mast. The ship was accordingly surrounded by torpedo boats and a search revealed 1,000 German marines hidden below decks. The marines were arrested and sent to a detention camp.

SCOTLAND LEADS IN RECRUIT PERCENTAGE

Figures Printed in England—Isle of Man Gives $50,000 to the War Fund.
London, Oct. 5.—The Manx legislative council and House of Keys met together in Tynwald and unanimously decided to ask the Imperial government to accept $50,000 as a contribution from the Isle of Man toward expenses of war. Members supporting the resolution said that the gift was only an earnest of the readiness of the fifty thousand people of the island to sacrifice all their resources in support of Great Britain at this juncture.
Figures showing the percentage of recruits enlisted in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales as obtained from the director of recruiting and published in the Liverpool Courier make Scotland appear as the most generous contributor of men. The approximate total number of men raised from August 4 to September 15 was 501,580, the percentage of recruits to the total male population being given as follows:
Country Recruits. Per.
England ... 396,731 2.41
Scotland .. 64,444 2.79
Ireland ... 20,419 .93
Wales ... 19,966 1.94
Special legislation called for on account of the war has run up to a total of forty emergency acts of parliament passed since hostilities began on August 4.

SEAL UP GERMANY FROM FOOD SUPPLY

Britain Begins to Think The Navy Should Begin to Get Busy.
London, Oct. 5.—The long drawn-out, fiercely contested fighting in Northern France is bringing home to Englishmen the terribly serious nature of the present war, as shown by the prescience of Kitchener, when at an early stage of the conflict he declared that England must prepare to put a million men in the field by next spring. Events have disproved the pet German doctrine that modern war would be bound to be short under modern conditions if Germany was only to put enough men in the field, for after eight weeks of war Germany has still failed to gain any perceptible permanent advantage.
But the astonishing tenacity of the Germans, even in retreat, compels English admiration and forbids the notion that Kitchener's million and more men, and all that Canada and the other dominions will be able to send, will not be wanted before peace is declared in Berlin. Moreover, the tragic success of Germany's submarine tactics in the North Sea is giving new urgency to Churchill's declaration that if the German navy will not come out to fight it must be dug out like rats from a hole. This could be done forthwith by mining Germany into her own ports.
Neutral nations would be warned that as Germany had resorted to indiscriminate mine laying, contrary to our wishes, are bound for our own and general security to seal up the German rats in their own holes and close the southern area of the North Sea to all shipping. At a later stage of the war by a combined movement ashore and afloat the Allies would dig out the fleet and annihilate it. Discussing this suggestion, the Daily Telegraph says: "By this policy we should prevent the German fleet putting to sea at its selected moment. We should spare a great deal of wear and tear at the expense of our officers and men and we should shut off supplies which may be reaching Germany through neutral ports. In good time our selected moment would arrive, probably when the military situation had developed on the continent to our advantage."
