

HIS HEALTH IN A TERRIBLE STATE

"Fruit-a-tives" Healed His Kidneys and Cured Him

HAGERSTOWN, ONT., AUG. 26th. 1913.
"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys were not doing their work and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory. Their action was mild and the result all that could be expected. My kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old-time vitality. Today, I am enjoying the best health I have ever had."

B. A. KELLY

BRAVE JAPANESE.

Three Seamen Risk Their Lives in Securing German Submarine Mine Which Was Loose.

Vancouver, Oct. 15.—A brave deed done by three seamen of the Japanese navy—outside Tsing Tau is reported in Vancouver. The Japanese torpedo boat destroyer Kagero was engaged in mine sweeping in the harbor, when those on board saw a submarine mine which had broken loose from the spot where the Germans had moored it.

It was a potential danger which must be dealt with. Three seamen volunteered to jump overboard and secure it. Under a heavy fire from the Germans ashore, the men entered the water, swam to the mine and secured it with a rope and the electric wire by which it was discharged. The men, still under fire, returned to the torpedo boat safely, and the mine was then destroyed.

The Japanese government has suitably decorated the seamen for their gallant action.

IT IS MUCH EASIER TO GET MEN THAN ARMS AND EQUIPMENT

GREAT TASK OF LORD KITCHENER TO EQUIP BIG FORCE FOR BRITAIN—WITHIN A YEAR ONE MILLION MEN WILL BE IN THE FIELD.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—It is only about eight weeks since Lord Kitchener took charge of the War Office, and he has accomplished some remarkable work. Canada has had in the dispatch of her expeditionary force of rather more than one division some idea of what an undertaking the outfitting of an army is. Some paragraphs from a recent issue of London Truth give some idea of what the Mother Country, under Lord Kitchener's guidance, has been doing.

The Army Council has now completed the framework of the new army organization, says Truth, and this is how they have done it. The Sixth Division has at last gone abroad, leaving Sir John Jellicoe to take care of invasion. Thus her two new divisions, the Seventh and Eighth, are being formed out of regular troops unallotted to Sir John French's six divisions, together with the units which have been brought home from South Africa and the Mediterranean. When the artillery and transports for these two divisions are ready the field marshal will have a fourth army corps under his command, the Fifth Corps and a third cavalry division being on their way, if they have not already joined him, from India. Judged by the quantity alone, to say nothing of quality, this force of 200,000 men hardly answers the German Emperor's description of a "comtemptible little army."

Now about the new armies. The Army Council has got some half a million or more recruits of the best raw material to play and this is what they have done with them. Six divisions were organized on August 21, six more on September 11, and another six on September 13—18 divisions in all. Here we have the framework of three new expeditionary forces amounting in round numbers to 360,000 officers and men, with another 150,000 more remaining at training centers to replace casualties. As Lord Kitchener pointed out, men are easier to get than arms, ammunition or equipment, but the new war minister has plenty of driving power in his nature, and he is making the best of it now. The spring will soon come round.

In addition to these three new six-division armies is the prospect of a fourth army, which is to be formed out of reserve battalions created when the expeditionary force embarked for foreign service, these battalions being brought up to war strength by new recruits. This will give us another six divisions of what Kaiser Wilhelm calls "mercenary" troops, or 32 divisions altogether, yielding a total of 640,000 officers and men, who are increased to 710,000 by the Indian Contingent. As this figure does not include Colonials, Territorials or the local corps now to be raised in large numbers throughout the country, it is safe to say that within a year or less we shall have an army in the field amounting to a million of men, with plenty more behind them.

ON BOARD H. M. S. "DREADNOUGHT"

(From the Montreal Weekly Witness.)

When the sea grows gray and silent, and the moon sinks out of sight,
And the stars turn sick an' tremble after seven hours of fight,
God keep us dirty sailor men, from the Pole Star to the Cross,
For we need Almighty keepin', an' some high, Almighty Boss.

For when the whole deck's throbbin'
There ain't no time for prayer;
But it's "Point your Long Tom dainty
Over twenty miles of air!"

When them wounded German fellows came a-shakin' up our side
I was funny round my stomach, an' my bloomin' British pride
Trembled like a silly pennant, they was all so human like;
They had eyes an' hands an' faces just like any human tike.

But when the horizon's spittin'
And we're coughin' back at it,
Say, it's "Sweep the sea o' Germans!"
An' "I guess—that—hit!"

I was walkin' past a cabin where we kept our prisoners tight,
The sentry-go says, "Look here," an' I see a funny sight;
There was two of them a-lookin' at a picture in their hand,
Just as if there's German mothers in the German Fatherland.

But when we're in the fight line,
It's "Forget your thoughts and fire!"
While the look-out says beside you,
"Steady! Nose her up a little higher!"

When I stopped an' looked to seaward in a tiny breathin' spell
I see a Dreadnought stagger with her nose deep in the swell;
She was struck below the belly, an' she sunk an' gurgled down,
Very casual like, an' careless; made me sweat to see her drown.

But when we're stripped for action,
Say, it's "Glory! glory!" then,
An' it's "Sweep the sea o' Germans!"
As we pick the range again.

We were lyin' close in harbor, coalin' up at Halifax.
I was messin' with the range guns, streakin' polish down their backs.
There was somethin' in the air—fell like a happy English rain;
An' my mate, he says "You're bawlin'" an' I says, "I guess that's plain!"

But when we're sweatin' dirty,
An' the sea's unholy red,
Say, it's "Mate, we'll fight for England
Till the sun hisself is dead!"

September 15, 1914. —ARTHUR L. PHELPS.

The above poem, written for the Montreal Weekly Witness, is one of the many strong things appearing in that splendid journal, and coming so close upon the heels of our own ships grips us hard. The editorials of The Witness on the war situation have the right ring to them, and are the product of a mind more than usually well informed, and foresighted. Those not now getting The Witness may have it on trial to the end of the year by sending fifteen cents in stamps to its old time publishers, John Dougall & Son, Witness Block, Montreal. It costs little to try it, and people who are not getting The Witness do not realize what they are missing. Some do not agree with it in everything. Neither do we. But it is one of the few great worthwhile papers all the same—and fifteen cents gets it to the end of the year.

STRONGER DEFENCE HERE.

Sir Richard McBride at Ottawa Urges Strengthening of Pacific Coast Defences.

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, has been in Ottawa for several days discussing Pacific Coast defence with the Federal government. He has left for New York. The two American-built submarines, which are now guarding the approaches to Victoria, were brought out of American territorial waters an hour before orders reached Seattle to detain them, it is said. While here Sir Richard strongly urged the strengthening of Canadian defences on the Pacific.
