To such an extent was this fraternizing carried out that at one place where Germans and British played football on Christmas Day they agreed to suspend hostilities for two days more.

EFFECT OF ROUMANIA'S CO-OPERATION WITH RUSSIA.—The northern and southern armies of Roumania are in a position to take the Austrian armies on their flanks and to compel a retirement from the whole east half of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, thus removing the menace to the Russian left flank, which has postponed several times the invasion of Germany.

WORLD IN TROUBLE.

The debenture holders of the Vancouver paper sold so as to get back their money before the paper goes so far behind that they will lose it all. The case was deferred till today, when winding up proceedings will probably be granted by the court. A sworn statement shows the finances in a bad way.

MEASURE OF RELIEF
IS TO BE AFFORDED
BUT NOT MORATORIUM

Vancouver, Jan. 9.—As the Provincial government has not yet formulated any definite plans as to what measure of relief will be given in place of a moratorium enactment, Attorney General Bowser, when interviewed by the Vancouver Board of Trade, could make no definite statement as to the government attitude. A committee of Mr. Jonathan Rogers, president of the board; Messrs. C. E. Tisdall, M. P. P.; W. H. Malkin, H. A. Stone and Secretary Blair had been appointed on Thursday to interview the attorney general on the subject.

The question came up by a complaint to the council of the board that statements purporting to have come from the attorney general on the moratorium question were injuring prospective investments. It was said that one man alone was withholding an investment of $175,000 on account of the statements said to have been made by the attorney general, which had given rise to the belief that there would be a moratorium enactment.

While Mr. Bowser made it quite clear that there would not be a moratorium, as the term is commonly accepted, there might be some measure of relief. He intimated that the matter might be left to the discretion of judges before whom cases might come.

He gave the committee an instance of what he meant: Were a man to owe some $2,000 on a house, and the interest became due, and on account of circumstances induced by the financial stringency of the time said person could not pay up, he should not be forced to the wall on that account. The judge before whom such a case should come would be in a position to say whether or not the circumstances were sufficiently extenuating to allow the debtor further time in which to meet his obligation.

GERMAN ATTACKS

In the Vosges the snowfall has stopped the Allies' advance.

B. C. UNDERTAKERS
WILL OPEN HERE

A new undertaking establishment has just been started in town that seems destined to become a permanent fixture. Mr. Bruce Morton, a bright and energetic young business man, for three years with Centre & Hanna in Vancouver, has arrived in town and will be associated with C. O. Rowe and A. La Fortune, well known locally.

They have purchased the stock ordered by the Dominion Undertakers, which was dissolved owing to the departure for the front of A. Allet, the manager.

The premises at 117 Second Street, formerly occupied by Fisher's undertaking parlors have been secured and are being remodeled and renovated so as to be in a first-class and sanitary condition. They will open for business on Monday.

Mr. Morton is a native of Bruce, Ontario, and is the third generation that has followed this line of calling. He looks like a winner.

TO THE ELECTORS OF PRINCE RUPERT.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having consented to my name being placed in nomination for Alderman, I depend on the business and workingmen's vote for election. As I am not running in the interest of any political party, corporation or individual, but as the people's candidate for the advancement of Prince Rupert, and if elected, will do my utmost to advance the interest of all business and workingmen, and the city in particular. And also any agreement entered into between the city and any corporation or individual must be lived up to.

Faithfully yours,
WILLIAM BEVERIDGE.

ON YELLOW DOGS

A public man visiting New York a number of years ago found the Tammany politicians of the city rejoicing greatly over a clean sweep in the municipal campaign for their gang rule. One of the leaders, speaking with the visitor, remarked, "We control New York in our fist and could elect a yellow dog to office on our ticket."

The same man was visiting New York some five years later and another election campaign had just closed. Meeting the same political boss, he remarked: "What's the matter, Old Timer? Why are you so glum?" "Oh, we just had a bitter defeat," was the reply. "I thought you told me your party was so strong you could elect a yellow dog?"

said the visitor.

"So I did," returned the boss, "but the trouble is we elected too many yellow dogs."

Conservative politicians, take notice.

TO THE ELECTORS OF PRINCE RUPERT, B. C.

Ladies and Gentlemen:
Having consented to the nomination as Alderman for the election on the 14th inst., I take this opportunity to ask for your support.

If my services for the past three years have met with your approval I would appreciate your vote and influence.

Your obedient servant,
JOHN DYBHAVN.
