PRINCESS PATS DID EXCELLENT WORK

Kaiser's Men Within Forty Yards of Canadian Trenches at One Time.

Northern France, Jan. 30.—(By courier to London).—The Princess Patricia's helped furnish the Kaiser with his British birthday present of heavy German losses. There was stiff fighting on Wednesday and the Germans got within forty yards of the Canadians' trench, but no farther. A terrific volley and machine gun fire stopped them. More wounded, who came down today, tell the details of the recent fights. Private John Cooper, of London, who is in the hospital with a shrapnel shattered arm; Lees, of Calgary, shot through the hand, and Private Gowie, also from Alberta, are men who have been injured in the last fighting. They are all doing well, but there are two officers and about half a dozen men who have been killed since I sent the last estimate of losses.

Lees and Gowie are two of the best snipers in the regiment and had been located in a ruined farm house ahead of the main trenches. They helped celebrate the Kaisers' birthday by capturing twelve Germans who ventured too far forward through the frozen mud. They killed the snipers of the detachment without their location being found out and when the rather nervous remnant reached the burned cottage, out dashed the two Westerners and demanded their surrender and the trenches saw the amazing sight of the two bringing in their prisoners. They were complimented by the British officers.

Lieutenant Charles Price is one of the officers killed. He had taken one company into the trenches and was returning for another when a sniper shot him. At the hospital I am unable to trace who the officer was, but the men are positive he was a lieutenant. Sergeant Major Smith got a badly shattered arm, which he got in directing his company's fire when the Germans were within forty yards of the trench. There are several cases of sickness which have been sent down to the base hospital. Otherwise, to use the words of one wounded man I talked with, "we are all happy."

GENERAL ELECTION A FARCE OR FOLLY

cause the war will almost certainly go on well into the autumn and for some time after actual hostilities cease objection to a general election may be as grave as now. No one can foretell what controversies the peace settlement may give rise to, though everybody hopes and believes that after such an appalling object lesson Europe may agree really to set its house in order without any paltering or bickering.

The Commons, for six weeks, will devote itself almost entirely to finance, other legislation being confined to war emergency measures.

Mr. Winston Churchill and Earl Kitchener are respectively expected to make statements concerning the naval and military position. There is every reason to expect, in regard to Lord Kitchener, that His Lordship will give a compact summary of what is already perfectly well known and will then straightway resume his seat. In spite of what some newspapers say, the average citizen is not disposed to get hot because he is told so little.

Questions to the Prime Minister and Home Secretary are likely, from the private members, concerning the alleged gradual return of the Germans to their old situations in London and elsewhere. At the beginning of the war, something like a clean sweep was made of all men of German birth, whether naturalized or not, but it is asserted that many of these are being taken quietly back and even Englishmen displaced to allow this. The London police, it is further said, have actually given such proceedings their active assistance. Hotel servants of alien extraction have been released from concentration camps in order to resume their ordinary work. Last night it was stated that the Home Office does not release those detained in concentration camps, such orders proceeding in every case from the War Office and then only when two British-born subjects will guarantee that the released persons are harmless and not likely to become destitute. The Home Office asserts that the number of Germans thus lately re-employed is less than one hundred.

DACIA DEPARTS FOR ROTTERDAM ON RUSH ORDER

Arthur, Texas, following the outbreak of the European war.

Her new owners announced that the Dacia was bought with the intention of engaging in the cotton trade with Germany, but immediate opposition from the British government caused the destination of the vessel to be changed from Bremen to Rotterdam, a neutral port. The United States government asked the British government if safe conduct would be given the Dacia to carry one cargo of cotton to Rotterdam to help the cotton situation, the vessel then to return to the United States.

Contraband to British.

This proposal brought reply that the vessel itself must be considered contraband by the British, who have not recognized the legality of her transfer to American registry in time of war, but that every facility would be afforded to have the cotton reach its destination. It was said the cargo would be transferred to another steamer for shipment to Rotterdam if the Dacia was seized.

Seizure of the steamer is expected to result in prize court proceedings and diplomatic representations that may be far reaching in importance.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Last evening at 6:30 sharp the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church sat down to a sumptuous repast provided by the ladies of the church in the church hall. Everything supplied was of the very best and the ladies are to be congratulated on the elaborate spread provided.

Dinner being over, the business of the evening was taken up, which consisted of the annual meeting of the congregation. Reports were read from the Session, the Ladies' aid, the managers, and the other organizations of the church, showing the affairs of the congregation to be in an excellent shape. There was a considerable surplus for the year notwithstanding the hard times.

Two vacancies in the board of managers were filled by the election of J. H. Thompson and T. McClymont.

Votes of thanks were also passed to the various societies that had done their work so well during the year—especially the ladies.

The experiment of holding a supper in connection with the annual meeting proved to be such a success that it may be repeated in other years.

JAPAN ASKS CHINA FOR LARGE RIGHTS

Pekin, China, Feb. 4.—Certain political and territorial demands which Japan has made upon China following the Japanese occupation of Kiao-Chau, have become known in Pekin, and their extent is disquieting to Chinese officials.

These demands, twenty-one in number, were communicated to the Chinese government January 23 by the Japanese minister here. They include: First, that China turn over to Japan all existing German and Austrian concessions; second, that China pledge herself not to give concessions in the future to any country except Japan; third, permission to build a special territorial railroad, and, fourth, mining privileges in Shan-Tung and Fukien provinces, in Manchuria, in eastern Mongolia and in the Yangtze Valley.

If these demands were granted it is felt in Pekin that the result would be tantamount to turning over the above named as spheres of influence, to the detriment of the treaty rights of other nations. Up to the present time the Pekin government has not replied to the Japanese note.
