FLIGHT AROUND KAJEN ISLAND

Officials from Surf Inlet Mine
Take Ride in Len Bell's
Bus

Late yesterday afternoon the fine launch Belmont of the Belmont-Surf Inlet Gold Mining Company, arrived in the city and a few minutes later saw C. A. Heller, of Philadelphia and F. H. Penn, superintendent of the company on board Len Bell's flying yacht "Hazelton" on a twenty minute trip round KAJEN Island. Several local people joined the party and flying conditions were ideal.

Read the Account.
Mr. Penn had read the account of the flights in the Daily News and the moment he saw the craft as she came in the harbour he suggested a flight.

The plane rose from the water very slowly and glided out of the harbor in the same course taken by the big steamers, and was soon off Ridley Island. By that time considerable height had been attained, but the craft was still climbing and the Zenard rapids looked rather small while the proposed bridge site between the island and mainland at Galloway rapids looked so narrow it might be possible to leap across. Steadily the machine rose to its maximum height almost level with the top of Mount Oldfield. The trees below looked stunted and many a tiny lake was located by those who knew something of the island and its topography.

Long Descent.
To the east of KAJEN lake was enshrouded in mist, the only cloud visible anywhere. The mountains of the interior were plainly visible and Shawatlan's Lake spread out very clear. No sooner had the plane passed Butse rapids than she began to drop and the turn at Seal Cove was made on the downward stretch. In spite of the long way back when the descent was commenced, the plane ran past the landing place almost to the new Government dock before it was able to turn and taxi back to the berth. It was a flight to be remembered.

MONTGOMERY'S OPINION OF BOARD OF TRADE

The consideration of a letter from the secretary of the Board of Trade setting forth the activities of the board during the past year and giving a detailed account of the financial statement came before the council at the meeting last night. Alderman Montgomery thought that the Board of Trade was a dead issue.

Alderman Theo. Collart, being a member of the organization, took exception to this remark and invited his brother-alderman to join the Board of Trade and thus put some life into it.

It was decided to file the correspondence.

He stated that the water pressure in his house was very low during the day although early in the morning and late at night the pressure was good. He thought it was evident that too many people were using water at the same time. It was decided that the matter be referred to the Board of Works for report.

POISONED FROM EATING SEEDS FROM LABURNUM

GLASGOW, Oct. 10. — Seven Glasgow boys, their ages ranging from seven to eleven, are seriously ill as a result of eating seeds from a laburnum tree. It appears that after school a boy climbed a laburnum tree in a garden in Princes Street, Govan, collected a quantity of the seeds, and distributed them among his companions, who ate them. Later the boys all complained of pains in the stomach and giddiness. Their parents notified the police, and six of the boys were removed to the Sick Children's Hospital, while a doctor was called in to the seventh.

A similar case occurred in the Govan district recently, but it was not reported to the authorities, and about a year ago there was a fatal case in one of the public gardens in Glasgow.

SALVATION ARMY HAS SUCCESSFUL SALE OF COOKING AND FRUIT

Something like $100 was raised by the Salvation Army yesterday at their sale of home cooking, candy and fruit. The event was well attended and proved a real success. M. Hunt, the auctioneer, proved himself to be a master of the art and the amount raised testifies to the interest taken.

In addition to the auction there was a candy stall arranged by the young people of the Sunday School, where the sum of slightly over ten dollars was raised.

Capt. and Mrs. Coleman wish to thank all the friends for their practical interest in donating and in attending the sale.
