PEACE RIVER RAILWAY AGAIN

Edmonton Newspaper says Premer Greenfeldi has Definite Offers from Companies

DEPENDS ON ALBERTA

Neighboring Province Holds Key to Situation in Edmonton, Dunvegan & B.C. Railway

The Peace River railway outcome depends very largely on what action the province of Alberta takes in the next few months. Premier Greenfield has returned from the East with two definite offers, according to the Edmonton Journal which says:

Transfer of Alberta's natural resources and settlement of the northern railway question are both substantially nearer than they have ever been before, according to Premier Greenfield, who has just returned from a ten weeks' mission to Ottawa and Montreal. What seems to be the last chapter in the negotiations has been reached in each case, but the final page hasn't turned over yet.

The latest word on the resources question is that Premier Greenfield has a definite understanding from the prime minister that between now and the next dominion session the agreement already drawn up as to the details of the settlement will be finally reviewed and that it will then be laid before parliament for ratification.

And as to the railways, the premier has brought back with him two black and white, official, and precise offers for the future operation of the Dunvegan and Canada Central lines. One is from the Canadian Pacific and the other is from the Canadian National. Which is to be accepted is the question now to be decided.

Two Better Offers

Both offers for the railways lines have been considerably altered since the recent negotiations began. The matter of land subsidies has been eliminated, the lease-period reduced, and various other conditions modified. It is still to be a case of leasing, not buying, but the terms will be better than they have been.

"Whichever offer is finally accepted and whichever of the companies gets the lines, the transportation situation in the north will be much improved," says the premier. "Of that I am certain, for the conditions set out in either offer will guarantee a settlement distinctly more advantagious to the Peace River country in particular and the province in general. We have still a good deal to do before the end is reached. The cabinet must go into the two offers and decide between them. Then we must draw up an agreement and the necessary legislation. And also we must get the consent of the Royal bank, which holds the common stock as security. The matter will then go to the legislature."

Before House Meets

Asked as to whether or not the adjourned session of the legislature will meet on August 3, the date last named provisionally, Mr. Greenfield said it will depend upon how fast these remaining details can be disposed of. The government will move at once, and now that definite offers from the C.P.R. and C.N.R. have been secured it will be possible to deal with the other interested parties and to come to final terms.

The premier's first effort at Ottawa, he says, was to secure some form of direct assistance from the federal government, either as a grant to reduce the E.D & B.C. freight rates to the prairie basis or to help the provincial government to meet capital charges. In this, however, he was unsuccessful, and the only course left was to get the best possible offers from the railway companies. The offers as now in hand were the outcome of negotiations with Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, the two railway chief executives.

BUILDING MESS HOUSE AT ELEVATOR FOR USE MEN EMPLOYED THERE

Jack Nelson has already started the construction of a mess house for Geo. Richmond at the elevator site.

The building will be of good dimension and will be large enough to accommodate fully 100 at one sitting. If there is need to serve more during the meal hour, a second sitting will be arranged as is done now in the large camps such as Anyox and Ocean Falls.

The mess house will naturally be able to accommodate each shift, and if later there should be three shifts operating it will mean a continual service during the twenty-four hour day. The building will be ready shortly, as it is expected there will be a demand for it before long.

ADDITION TO STAFF OF SALVATION ARMY

Lieut Kenny Coming From Saskatoon: Guards Corps Going Camping at Cedarvale

To such an extent has the work of the local Salvation Army increased here that an increase in staff has become necessary. Lieut. Kenny of Saskatoon has been appointed to assist Captain and Mrs. Rea and will arrive in the city on July 23.

Arrangements have just been completed for the life saving scouts and guards of the local corps of the Salvation Army which was organized six months ago, to go into camp at Cedarvale at the Old Tomlinson Mission on July 20 and remain until August 3. Steady progress has been made with this corps and a number of the members have bought the official uniform.

Sport Chat

To secure the patronage which is necessary for success, it should be born in mind, by those responsible, that to start a game at the time advertised will do much to please patrons, and assist in promoting the interests of sport generally. This is necessary for several reasons, and one is that from now on there will be a gradual shortening of the days, and so shorter evenings to play, and if the starting of the games is delayed it will mean a very much shorter game than planned. This is not satisfactory either to players or fans, and, where possible, should be avoided. A team, which might be in the lead might be glad to quit at the end of the seventh inning, and the team which is behind always feels hopeful of overtaking the lead and perhaps winning in the end. A little co-operation from all concerned would do much to help matters.

The baseball game between teams representing the Rotary and Gyro clubs to be played this afternoon is attracting considerable attention. It is suggested that some of the players in their enthusiasm to get into shape for the battle have done a little overtraining and at this time are sore and stale. A number of substitutes are available, however, and the game should proceed without any undue interruption.

The Veterans line up tonight against the Callies in the final for the Dominion Cup will be as follows: S. Gawthorne, S. Erskine and V. Menzies, R. B. Skinner, W. Murray, and G. Mitchell, W. Barton, F. Russell, H. Norwood, J. R. Mitchell and D. Gurvich. Reserves—B. Long and F. Hunter.

Hockey has been made a major sport at Princeton University.

All racing cars entering big auto speed classics must qualify at more than 100 miles an hour.

In Portugal, the most popular sports are lawn tennis and football.

Dick Baugh, who is playing so well in the West Bromich defense, is a son of the old Wolverhampton player of that name. This is his first season with the Albions, but he had previously done good work for the Wolverhampton Wanderers, and, but for an injury, he would have played for them in the 1921 final against the Spurs.

Good centre-forwards are always hard to find, but the climax appears to have been reached in England this season. Actually 370 players have had a trial in this onerous position. Only six have played in every game for their clubs this season.

ALICE ARM

Mrs. McGuire and baby has returned to Anyox after spending two months holiday here.

Among recent visitors here was H. T. S. Woolderton representing Vancouver capital. He made an examination of the Homeguard property and also looked through the Toric and Aberarder and expressed himself as much pleased at the showings made.

Miss Leitch, who has been visiting with Mrs. P. Whelan, is now in Stewart and from there will continue to Vancouver for the remainder of the holidays.

Sid Miller is working on his properties here and will probably remain for about two months before returning to Anyox.

A. Johnston and D. Bengston, who have mineral claims here, are doing assessment work on them and will return to Anyox in a week or two.

Charles Bocking, general manager of the Granby Company, has been looking over the company's timber holdings here.

A recent visitor from Prince Rupert was J. Smith, manager of the Prince Rupert mill, who inspected the Granby Company's timber in this district. He is looking for highest grade logs and it is understood he was satisfied with those he saw here.

A ledge of ore carrying silver, lead and zinc was discovered by C. Williams and J. O'Hara on the Silver Jack property.
