Ladies' Music Club Meeting

Miss Margaret McCaffery Reads Interesting Paper—Miscellaneous Program

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Music Club was held at the home of Mrs. Chris Perry, Second Avenue, yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance. Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, the president, was in the chair.

Miss Margaret McCaffery was in charge of the program for the day. Her paper on "Music and Animals" proved to be a very interesting and agreeable change from the usual type. The program of miscellaneous music was very enjoyable. It was as follows:

Paper, "Music and Animals," Miss Margaret McCaffery.
Vocal solo, "Rose of Tralee" (composer unknown), Ms. J. McLeod.

Vocal solo, "Lovely Spring," (C. Willer), Mrs. F. N. Good.

Piano solo, "Song Without Words" (Mendelssohn), Mrs. R. Bartlett.

Vocal solo, "When Shadows Gather," (C. Marshall), Mrs. W. Millar.

Vocal solo, "Dry Those Tears," (Teresa del Riego), Mrs. Chris Perry.

Piano solo, "March Grotesque," (Sinding), Miss M. McCaffery.

Reading, (by Lighton Hayes) Mrs. Chris Perry.
Accompanists were Mrs. C. E. Cullin and Mrs. E. Smith.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. R. Bartlett and Mrs. J. McLeod poured. Serving were Miss Ruth Gillies and Miss Margaret McCaffery.

Mrs. E. J. Palmer, who has been spending the past few days at Billmor following her arrival at the first of the week from Crescent Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands, arrived in town from the mill on this morning's train and will sail tonight on the Prince Rupert to pay a visit in Vancouver. Other members of the family are already in Vancouver.

Granby Profits Are Down—Placer Mining in Atlin District—Placer Mining at Lorne Creek

The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. Ltd., for the quarter ending September 30, 1931, reports profit of $52,183 after expenses but before depreciation and depletion compared with a profit of $7,405 in the quarter immediately preceding and profit of $172,017 in the same quarter of 1930. Profits for nine months ending September 30, 1931, amounted to $229,666 before depreciation and depletion against profit of $1,278,502 in the first nine months of 1930.

Boulder Creek flows into Surprise Lake near its southerly or outlet end, says a report of Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer for the northwestern mineral survey district, on the Atlin placer district. Good results were achieved from this creek in former old workings and some length of virgin ground from which good pay is anticipated from hydraulic operations still remains to be worked along the westerly side of the creek-bed. The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Canada, through control of the Boulder Creek placers, is operating an extensive stretch of Boulder Creek. The objective of the present preparatory work is to get into virgin ground lying west of the present creek-bed. In order to attain tailings-grade to bedrock in this area it was necessary to start cutting up the creek from near Surprise Lake, a distance of about 2500 feet. This necessitated a cut about 55 feet deep at the lower end through barren ground. At the upper end of this cut a very tenacious and deep hardpan has been encountered which has considerably impeded progress. Due to water shortage and the hardpan that has to be blasted, advance is slow. Piling is being carried out with a four-inch monitor operating under a head of 100 feet. Some trouble is also realized from insufficient grade for dump disposal into the lake, causing frequent blocking and necessitating continuous moving of the dump flumes. The cause of this difficulty is excessive high water in the lake, resultant from the inadequate escape through the dam at the foot of Surprise Lake, particularly during the period of spring freshets. It is suggested that this condition could be eradicated by allowing sufficient escape through the dam during this period to the lower lake level in accordance with the immediate necessity of water consumption by operations on lower Pine Creek. In the old workings on Boulder Creek pay was reported to be mined in gravel up to about eighteen feet above bedrock with an overburden of about fifty feet. It is anticipated that future operations will be by both underground and hydraulic work, a combination of which may to some extent offset the water shortage. During the 1931 season a crew of fifteen men was employed with McLeod White as superintendent and H. P. Pearce as foreman. As the cut is gradually working up towards the old campsite, the camp has been moved and a new cook-house erected on a splendid site about 300 feet west of the old site. With the natural difficulties of this operation it cannot be accurately forecast when it may reach production. Ruby Creek flows into the north side of Surprise Lake about three miles east of Boulder Creek. It is somewhat unusual in the Atlin section in that it has a granite bedrock where it is worked whereas most of the other creeks have a slaty or schist bedrock. An interesting feature also is a bed of young, though possibly pre-glacial lava about 100 feet thick that buries the old channel gravels bordering the banks of the present creek-bed. There is a widely varying thickness of gravel under the lava with a possible tendency to diminish towards the upper reaches of the stream. Good pay has been struck

Cross-breed Between Pink And Sockeye Is Said To Be Efficient Fish

At Cultus Lake in Southern British Columbia workers of the Biological Board of Canada are reported to have met with success in the cross-breeding of what may be called the pink-sockeye salmon. The new species has been found to be a prolific breeder and highly efficient as a food product.

In the most northerly drifting operations and it is logical to conclude that this condition will continue for an appreciable distance upstream under the lava beyond the present worked ground. To work the upper area efficiently, however, it would appear that a bedrock drainage tunnel is necessary. It would seem that the lava buried gravels of upper Ruby Creek have not yet been exploited to a point commensurate with their indicated potentiality.

F. A. Neville and S. L. Carpenter of Dorreen were recent visitors in Terrace on business in connection with development of placer ground at Lorne Creek.

Cheapest Way of Reaching the People

The cheapest way of reaching practically all the people of Prince Rupert and district is by means of the classified columns of the Daily News.

Nearly everyone has something they could turn into cash through the "For Sale" column. Perhaps they have a house to rent. Here is the chance. Spend 50c on a classified advertisement and secure a tenant rather than have it idle.

If a girl wishes a position or a housewife wishes help, the best means of getting supplied is through a want ad.

Dressmakers sometimes want work; small storekeepers want to move their goods; or maybe you need an article that has been used rather than pay the price for new. Give the Daily News classified columns a trial. Many have been very pleased at the result.
