ARE THERE TOO MANY RETAIL LICENSES?

Answer Depends on Prince Rupert's Population and Definition of a Bottle License—What the Municipal Act Has To Say About It.

Over the question of the granting of bottle licences in Prince Rupert there is some difference of opinion between the Licence Commissioners, and some citizens. A glance into the Municipal Clauses Act where it deals with the subject brings out the points of difference. The main point is population.

Section 205 of the Act, Sub-section B, says that only three licences to sell liquor by retail shall be granted or issued for a city or municipality unless or until the population of such city or municipality exceeds 500, and thereafter only one additional licence in respect of each additional 1000 actually resident within the limits of the city may be granted. This works out thus:

The Exact Figures

With a population of 500, three licences; with 1500, four licences; with 2500, five licences; with 3500, six; with 4500, seven; and with 5500 to 6499 of a population only eight licences may be issued. Before the ninth retail licence can be issued the population has to be 6500 people. There are eight licensed hotel bars in Prince Rupert today, and two bottle licences have been granted. What is the population? The census figures will be available in November.

What is Retail Licence?

Hotel licences are certainly retail but what about the two bottle licences granted yesterday? Section 175 of the Municipal Clauses Act, Clause 3, defines a bottle shop licence as follows: "A licence to one who sells, barbers, or traffics BY RETAIL in fermented spirituous or other liquors, in a shop, store, or place other than an inn, saloon, ale or beer house, or other house of public entertainment in quantities of not less than a reputed pint bottle" etc. . .

Section 192 of the same Act mentions: "All applications for the granting of a retail liquor licence and the petitions or requisitions for the granting of such licence signed by the requisite number of persons mentioned in Sections 193, 194, and 198 of the Act," thereby implying that the licences mentioned in those sections are retail licences. Section 193 of the Act says: "No retail liquor licence in any city, or municipality shall be issued or granted under authority of Sub-section 3 of Section 175 'A bottle licence,' again showing that a bottle licence is a retail licence.

Section 194 similarly treats a bottle licence as a retail liquor licence and Section 196 again speaks of a retail liquor licence under authority of Sub-section 3 of Section 175, that is a bottle licence.

Point Previously Raised

This point was raised at the sittings of the Board of Licence Commissioners in 1910, and several of the solicitors who were then present gave it as their opinion that bottle licences were retail licences within the meaning of Section 205. The matter now remains for the courts to decide in case anyone applies to quash the licences granted.

MANY ARRIVALS CAME BY TRAIN

First Train from Copper City Carries Big Crowd

The first train to come in through from Copper City arrived yesterday afternoon. It had some eighty or ninety passengers among whom was the Hon. William Templeman, minister of mines and member of parliament for this constituency.

The next train goes out at one o'clock tomorrow and passengers who left Vancouver by steamer on Thursday will be in Copper City tomorrow night.

SUFFOCATED AT HIDDEN CREEK

Swedish Miners Overcome by Fumes after Shot in Tunnel. Frantic Efforts to Restore Life. One Died.

From Hidden Creek this morning comes news of the death of a Swedish miner whose name has not yet been ascertained. In the active operation of developing this mine night and day shifts are being worked. Two Swedes were on the night shift tunnelling, and during the night they fired a shot in the tunnel. They went into the tunnel too soon after the shot, and were overcome by the fumes of the dynamite. All night they lay unconscious, and next morning were found and dragged out to the air. Desperate efforts were made to resuscitate them. Their comrades worked all day to try and restore respiration, and succeeded in reviving one man. The other was beyond help. A doctor was sent for but it took two days to bring him by row boat up the river. The accident happened last week, and an inquiry was held yesterday at which it was decided that no one was to blame.

BAPTIST CHURCH ORGAN RECITAL

Interesting Concert Given in Celebration of Event

The congregation of the Baptist Church last night celebrated the opening of their new Estey organ with a concert. Rev. W. H. McLeod, the pastor, opening with a brief history of the instrument, upon which Mrs. Anderson then played a voluntary and later gave vocal selections. Organist J. E. Davey also sang as well as played. Mr. Fletcher sang and Miss Grant gave a recitation.

There was a good audience who thoroughly enjoyed the concert. Under the pastorate of Mr. McLeod the Baptist Church is doing splendidly.

Commissioner Merryfield asked Mr. Manson whom he represented. Mr. Manson replied that he was there on his own behalf as a citizen and also on behalf of others who had desired him to keep their names private.

City Solicitor's View

City Solicitor Peters interpreted the Act according to his view. He said he had not given a written opinion to the Licence Commissioners that a bottle licence was a retail licence within Section 205 of the Act, which limits the number of retail licences that may be granted. Mr. Peters said that he had not been asked for a written opinion by the Commissioners, but he gave it as his verbal opinion that bottle licences were not retail licences within the meaning of the Section. In reply to Mr. Manson who quoted the maxim familiar to the legal fraternity that an Act must be read as a whole as well as section by section, Mr. Peters said he preferred to read this as a single section apart from its relation to the rest of the Act.

The Chairman—"My way of looking at it is simply to see that the city of Victoria has made it law, whether it be law or not."

One Wholesale Licence

Mr. Manson had some reason to believe that Maynard's application was not in order and asked leave to examine it. He had been refused the right after Wednesday's meeting through a misunderstanding. At short notice he was now allowed to examine the application which is of course a public document, but he did not detect any particular objection to it technically. The licence was granted, as also that for J. Arthur Smith. A. M. Brown's application was refused. A wholesale licence was granted yesterday to Charles E. Partington, and the application of J. F. Macdonald was held over until next meeting of the Commission which stands adjourned until Friday, July 14th, at three p.m.
