

SONGSTER AGAIN IN TROUBLE

The Previously Convicted Pietro Pays the Penalty of $15 and Costs in Police Court Today.

Once again the tuneful Pietro has been caged by the wary artist of the police force bird lime department, Constable Mansell. Injudiciously the Pietro tuned his erratic pipe in the neighborhood of the Knox Hotel about 12 o'clock last night. Though warned by Constable Mansell to retire to his perch for the night, the bright bird after a brief cessation of his chirping warbled anew at 1 p.m. and the listening neighborhood enraptured heard his echo-awakening lilt. Constable Mansell heard it too and returned with a plentiful supply of salt for the bird's tail and bird lime for his tootsies. So the Pietro spent the night on the old familiar roost at the Government Buildings. "Not Guilty" was the burden of his song in the police court today, and he even dared to suggest that Constable Mansell was no good as a musical critic. But Magistrate Carrs decided that the diploma should be awarded to the pretty Pietro, and he retired to the tune of "Fifteen dollars and costs" pitched in an appropriate key by the Magistrate.

OTTAWA TEAM FINE ATHLETES

The Eight Who Did so Well at Henley are All Crack Men and Credit to Canada.

Inquiries have been made in Prince Rupert about the personnel of the Ottawa Rowing Club's eight which put up such a fine race for the Grand Challenge Cup at Henley last week.

The Ottawa eight representing Canada at Henley is made up of a crew that is well-known in the East not only in the rowing circles, but in various other lines of sport. Pulford is stroke and D. J. O'Donahue is bow car. The intermediate seats are held down by Kilt, Harrison Green, McCuaig, Joliffe, Phillips and O'Donahue, with Sowden in reserve. Pulford, Kilt, McCuaig and Phillips are members of the Ottawa football team and D. J. O'Donahue was secretary of the Ottawa Amateur association for years.

The Ottawa Rowing club has been making a name for itself for several years at the Canadian Henley, at Baltimore and at Washington, where first honors were reaped. This is their first attempt across the pond, and Canadians have followed the crew closely since it sailed from Quebec. Their easy victory over the Belgians raised the hopes of their supporters.

Though defeated by Magdalen in the final the race was one of the fastest ever rowed on the course.

If your business needs a hard-to-find sort of employe, the quest is worth a little want advertising.

NEW C.P.R. BOAT FLOATING PALACE

S.S. Princess Mary Called Here Last Night on Her First Trip North—Finest C. P. R. Boat on Coast Service.

Those who saw the C. P. R. S.S. Princess Mary, when she stopped here last night on her way north from Vancouver, with a full complement of passengers say she is one of the finest boats in the C. P. R. coast service. She is a brand new steamer. Her maiden voyage was made last March when she came out from England to Vancouver to be placed on the Nanaimo and Comox run. Owing to the S.S. Princess Royal being placed on the Vancouver-Victoria run while the S.S. Princess Victoria is being overhauled, the Princess Mary was sent north instead of the Princess Royal.

A good deal of interest was centered on the arrival of the Princess Mary and the fact that she came and went away in the night time was a disappointment to many people. An opportunity, however, will be afforded to those who want to see the Princess Mary on Monday afternoon when she will be here southbound.

She is about the same size as the S.S. Princess May but even more palatially fitted up. Her length is 210 feet, her width 40 feet and she draws 16 feet of water. She is a twin screw steamer of 1,697 tons, 2,310 h.p. and can speed about 16 knots an hour. Her sixty staterooms are models of convenience and comfort and the eight tables in the dining room seat sixty people. The passenger accommodation is 500.

Captain Neroustos is master of the Princess Mary.

DRAGGED TO DEATH

battle for life. After crashing against some lumber on the false work two-thirds of the way down in his fall, he dropped into the sea. Rising painfully to the surface, though with fractured ribs and thigh, he struggled to swim to the nearest pile. He was held up by his mates until a boat was hurried round to him. All was done with splendid speed though unavailingly. The men giving evidence are capable fellows, and clearly proved themselves so for Dr. Kergin remarked on the speed with which the hurt man was taken to the hospital.

Doctor's Evidence

In his own evidence Dr. Kergin described the injuries to deceased, and explained the measures taken to preserve life. Deceased was suffering from severe shock, and though efforts were made with warmth and restoratives to revive him, he collapsed. The cause of death was probably injury to the large blood-vessels of the lungs thought Dr. Kergin.

The jury consisted of Messrs. H. S. Wallace, foreman, G. R. T. Sawle, T. McClymont, Charles Halsy, H. Helgerson, and J. A. Smith. They considered the evidence for about an hour before bringing in their verdict as given. The funeral of deceased took place today. Messrs. Hayner Bros. had charge of the arrangements.

DING DONG RACE UP TO RUPERT

New C.P.R. "Princess" Romped into Port Ten Minutes Ahead of the American City of Seattle. Hot Race.

Spirited rivalry exists between the coastwise steamers of similar tonnage and power, and the latest pair of live challengers are the new C. P. R. S.S. Princess Mary and the sturdy old City of Seattle which has already had a run or two with the Princess Royal.

An exciting ding dong race kept the two boats lively between here and Seymour Narrows on the way up to Rupert. First the "Princess" passed the "City" just beyond the Narrows. Afterwards the American steamer put it over the Canadian for a lap or two, but the C. P. R. boys had something tucked away to spare as a little surprise for their rivals, and piling it on at the last moment nipped into Prince Rupert ahead of the City of Seattle.
