Extraordinary Predicament of Young Couple in Seattle Through Ignorance of Marriage Law.

A Seattle couple who have been keeping house on a marriage license since July 11 last visited the | Marriage License Clerk yesterday and asked him to "finish filling

"But I did not marry you," said the official, "and I have no right to fill it in. Is it possible that you have failed to get married after I granted you the license?"

"No foolin', young feller," said the head of the family. "You married us, and you know you did, and I want this filled in, and filled in quick. We have been keeping house since July 11, when the license was issued, and I suppose you are making a bluff to get another fee out of us."

The clerk explained several times that a marriage license means Tenders for movin nothing, except that it authorizes Block 12, Section 5, will be received the proper authority to perform wedding ceremony, and that without the ceremony there is no wedding, and finally it dawned on the "husband." Dejected and disgusted the newly married couple.
