

Buildings are getting older and chimneys less secure. Winter fires are being started. The fire risk is increasing as winter approaches. The value of buildings is high and steadily mounting as the cost of lumber and labor goes up. Insurance rates have not advanced. They are materially lower than formerly in this town. Do you not think this is a good time to fully cover the value of your building, furniture or stock with insurance? We write it.

before purchasing a baking powder that may possibly contain injurious ingredients. Many food scientists claim that baking powder containing alum is unsafe for use in food. The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. Our chemists find a good many have "No Alum" on the outside but large quantities of it inside.
