SUPPLIES FOR THE INTERIOR

We have a letter signed "Terrace Citizen's Committee" stating among other things that the supplies in the interior are running short and urging that some action be taken to get mail and supplies to the people of the stricken district. With this request we are in full accord. The chief difficulty has been to find a suitable boat for the purpose and to place the responsibility of operating it where it belongs. No one was willing to risk several thousand dollars unless they felt assured that the people of the interior were actually suffering, which we have been assured they are not.

As a result of a meeting of the council of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday it is probable some action will be taken which will result in the Terrace, Usk and Pacific people getting such things as are badly needed until the railway is again open for traffic a month from now.

At the meeting yesterday Superintendent Tobey assured the members of the Chamber of Commerce that every effort was being made to open the road as soon as possible.

C. C. F. ATTITUDE

We are wondering if the C. C. F. leaders at Prince Rupert are in accord with the C. C. F. members at Ottawa in thinking that Prince Rupert should not have a public building costing $100,000. Just as a matter of knowing how we stand and who is for us and who against, it would be an excellent thing to bear this in mind for the time another election comes along. While every person and every member of Parliament has a perfect right to his opinion, so have the electors a right to decide whether such opinions are in accordance with their views. Prince Rupert has always suffered from having some section of the community pull back when others wanted to go forward.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS

The month of May showed considerable industrial progress over May of last year in almost every country except Denmark which showed a 42% decline. Belgium and Austria led with 20% increase, Estonia, with 14.5; Czechoslovakia, 12.4; Germany, 13; Canada, 11.6; Norway, 10; Chile, 7.9; United Kingdom, 7.6; France, 7.5; United States, 6.8; Finland, 6.1; Greece, 3.9; Netherlands, 3.7 Japan, 2.8; Poland, 1.5, and Spain .8%.

These figures do not necessarily show the general improvement over a period covering the time since the depths of the depression. Greece has the highest index of industrial improvement with Japan second and with Canada and United States away down in the scale, not far from the bottom.

A Chess Master in the making is 11-year-old Abraham Yanofsky, Winnipeg's leading player of a game that requires the utmost in concentration and stamina. He is the most promising youngster in Western Canada. Young Abie, so anxious to begin his education, he told authorities he was six years old instead of five when he entered school, can defeat the majority of chess players in this city where the game is progressing by leaps and bounds.

But while they praise the skill of the lad who took to the game only two years ago, becoming an expert in an amazingly short time, J. H. Booker, Joseph Dremann, Abraham Hellman and other of Winnipeg's first rank players do not think Abie is a child prodigy.

They hasten to add, though that in no way are they disparaging the boy's game. In time they think, he may become a master. Abie himself doesn't care if he never does. He has not seriously considered taking up the game as a professional. He just plays for the love of the game.

Mr. Booker, president of the Manitoba Chess Association and a first-rank chess player for 25 years, thought Abie "is a mighty fine player, but not a Master. Yanofsky, Mr. Booker added, is "undoubtedly the best youngster in Western Canada, and has the makings of a Master." The pale-faced youngster was selected last year to play on a team that represented Winnipeg in an international match against Minneapolis. He did so well he was again chosen for this year's tourney, held last May 24 at Fargo, N.D. Abie won his game, though the Canadians lost the tournament 16½ to 13½ points.

Abie was only nine years old—only a few months after he took up the game—when he played against Isaac Kashdan, a recognized United States Master chess player. In a simultaneous exhibition by Kashdan, the boy earned a draw. Abie thinks that was his best game, though he did not keep a record of it. On a visit to Winnipeg, Bernard Freedman, treasurer of the Canadian Chess Federation, played Yanofsky, whom he described as "almost a second Reshevsky." Mr. Booker thought Mr. Freedman "rated the boy too highly," pointing out that Samuel Reshevsky was giving simultaneous exhibitions and amazing the chess world at the age of seven.

Yanofsky has not yet given such exhibitions of his skill. He merely plays for the fun of it at the Jewish Chess Club. Whether he will be sent to Toronto to play in the Dominion championships at the Canadian National Exhibition has not yet been decided. Young Yanofsky was born in Poland, shortly before his parents emigrated to Canada. His father, Abraham, sr., taught Abie the moves then took him to the Jewish Club where his skill amazed men who had played the game for years.

Abie also plays baseball and football. Soccer, he says, is the game he likes best—apart from chess. He doesn't let his love of the chess board affect his studies, either, devoting only two nights a week to the game. Abie is being coached by Mr. Hellman, present city champion, and a member of the Jewish Club and Mr. Dromann, Manitoba champion for the past two years. They hope to develop something which never yet has Winnipeg produced, a Master chess player.

BORDEN WINS OVER BOOTH

In the exhibition football game yesterday between Borden Street and Booth Memorial School teams at the Elks' sports day, Borden won a closely contested match two goals to one.

Booth pressed from the start and Mah saved twice. Holkestad shot wide and Mah saved McKay's shot well. Booth beat the goalie but someone was offside. Smith and Jurrie got away but Parsons and Beynon were safe. Mah saved McLean's penalty kick well but was beaten by Holkestad who converted McKay's overhead kick. Fitch and Schubert were hard workers. In a breakaway Smith beat Dybhavn to equalize.

Borden pressed with Fitch driving the ball well down. Mah did well to clear from Holkestad. McKay and Cameron made a nice run out Brown cleared Dybhavn saved Currie's hard drive. Booth forwards were weak.

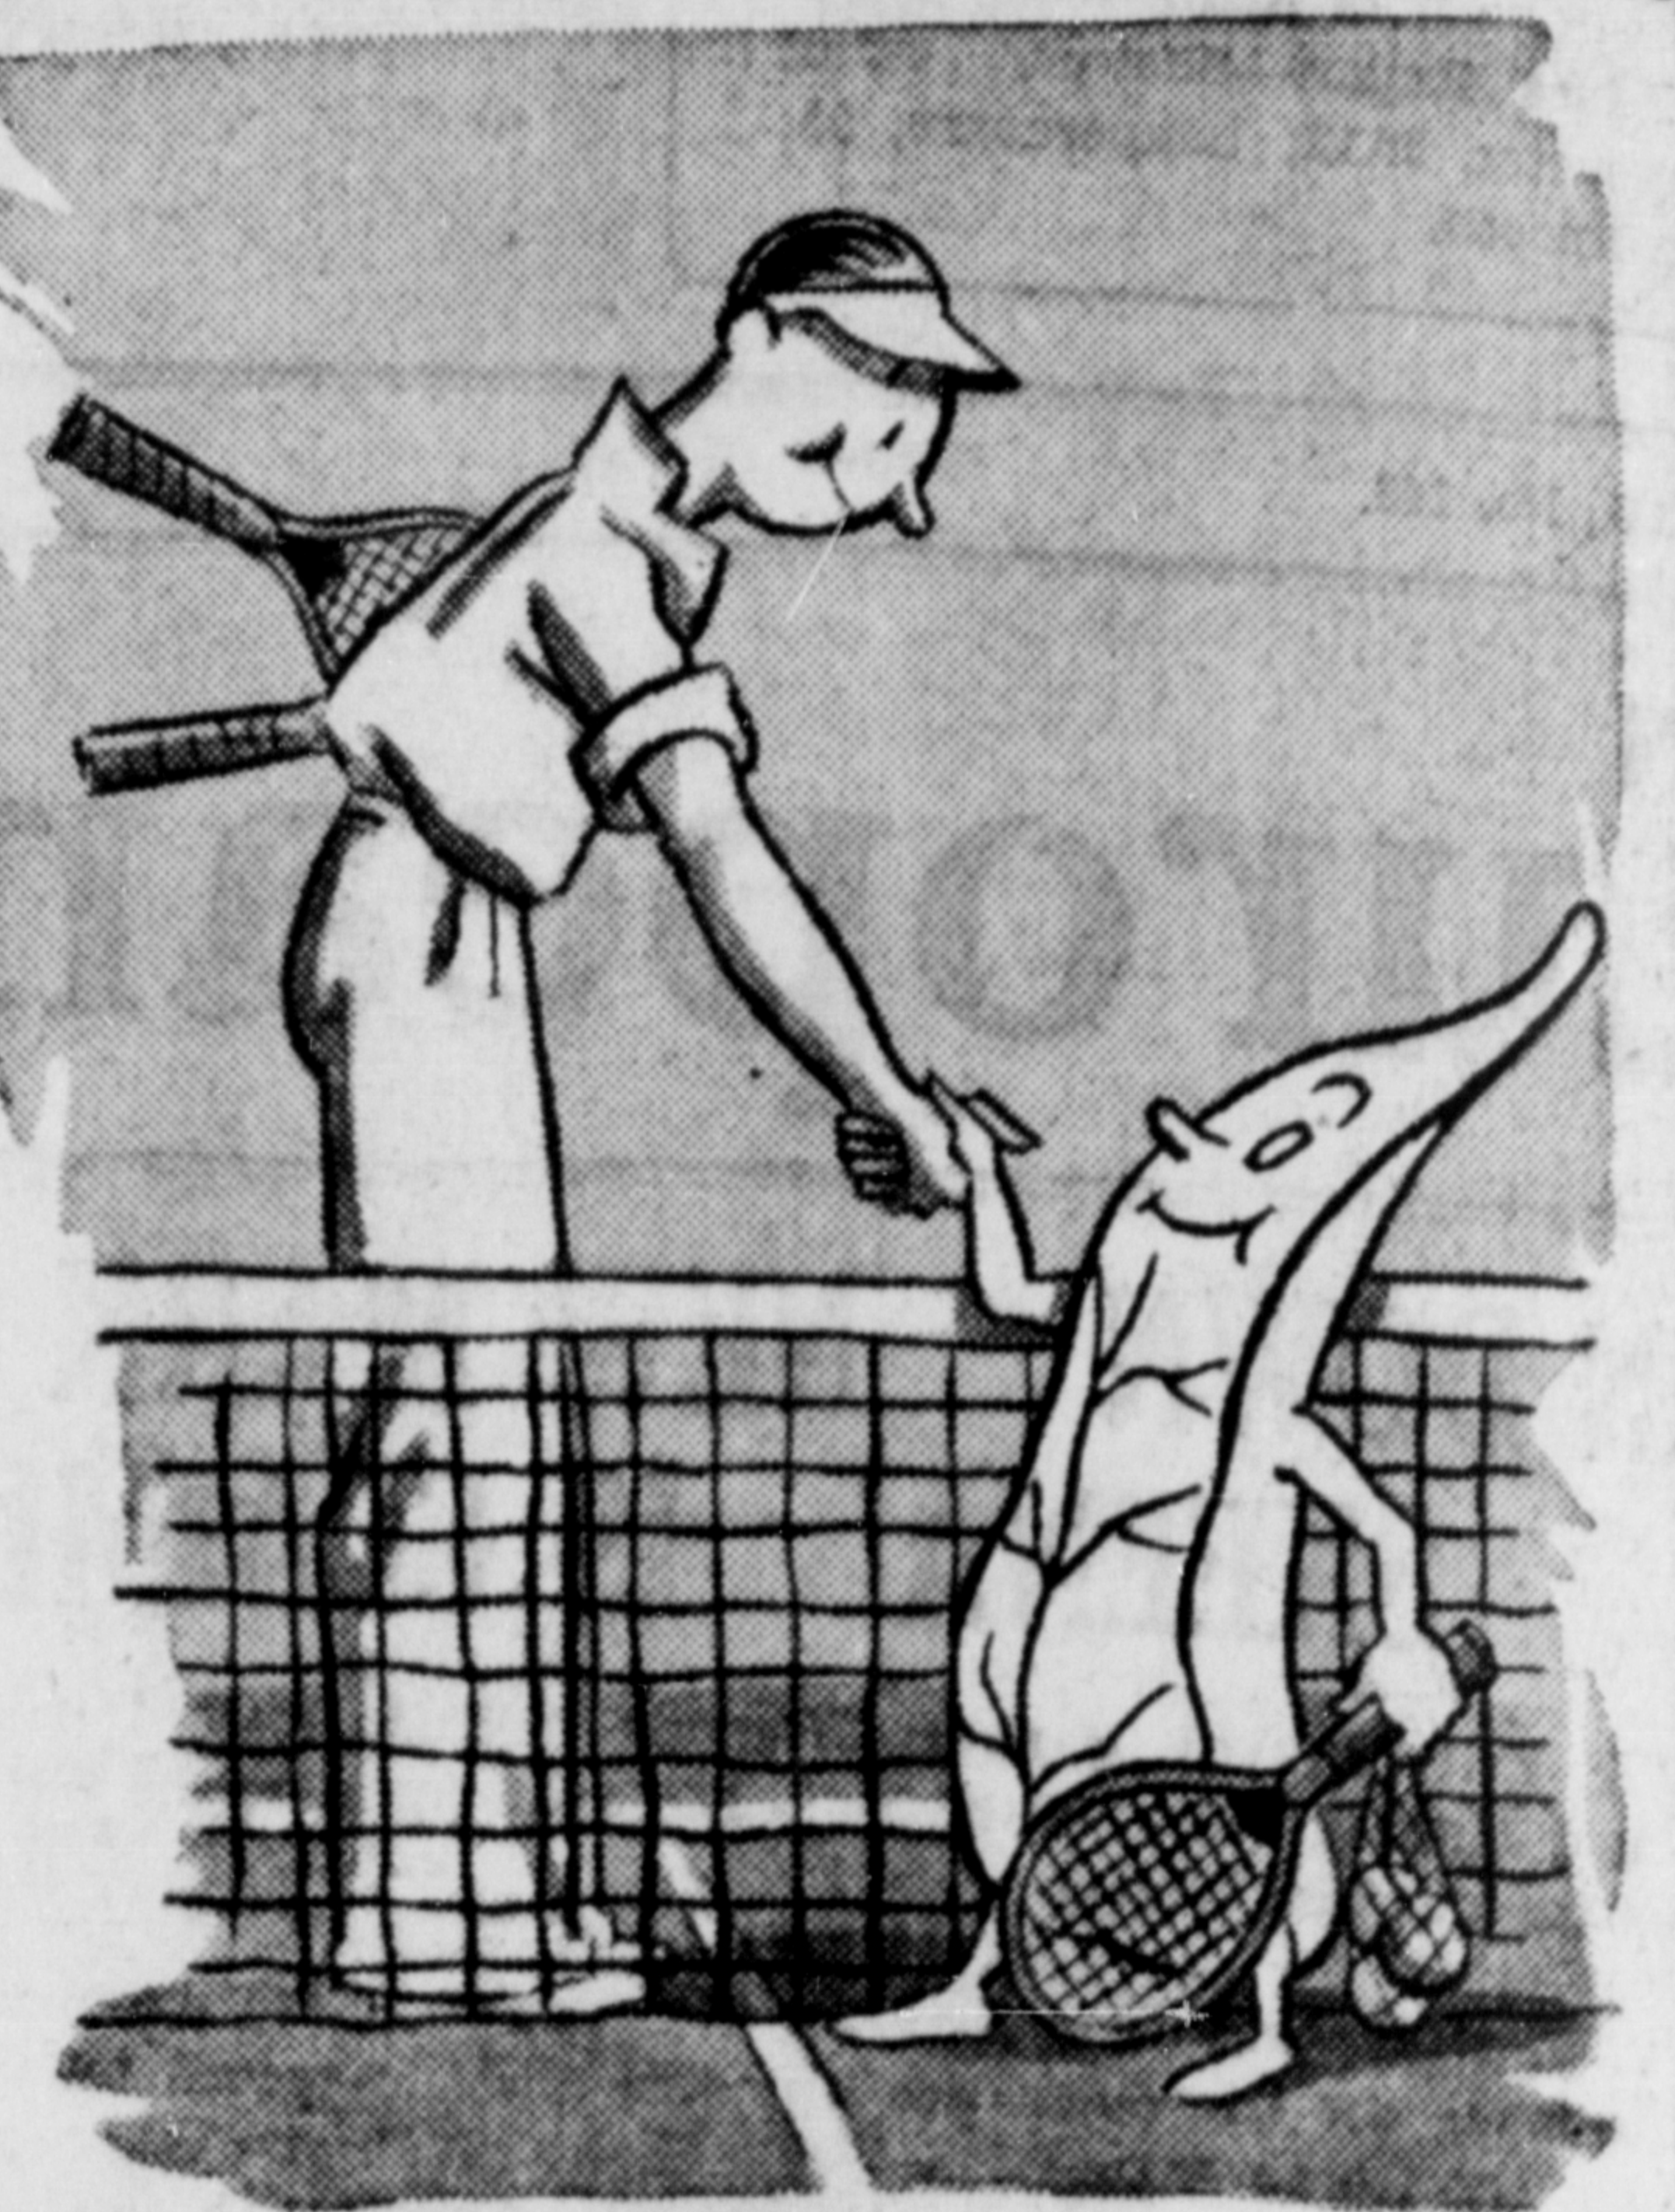

Borden now attacked and Booth defence was lucky to clear. Mah saved. McLean backed up his forwards but Borden made another strong attack and, after the ball seemed to have been cleared, Donnie Nelson collared it and beat Dybhavn to give victory to Borden. Borden—Mah; Brown, Scherck; Schubert, Fitch, McLeod; Houston, Currie, Smith, Nelson, Judge.

Booth—Dybhavn; Beynon, Parsons; Franks, McLean, Christian; Cameron, Flewin, McKay, Hougau, Holkestad.

J. Carroll refereed and J. Bremner and P. Palmer were linesmen.

Borden was well served by Mah. Scherck was a sound back and Fitch, Schubert and McLeod made a good half-back line. Smith and Currie were dangerous with Houston and Nelson doing better towards the end.

Booth had a sound defence but the forwards were very weak. Dybhavn did well and Parsons and Beynon were two strong backs. McLean and Christian were very good half-backs but Holkestad was the only dangerous forward. Ritchie and P. Knutson were badly missed. The game, as usual, was very keenly fought out with every boy giving of his best.
