

ELECTRIC HOTEL IS THE LATEST

Current Does Everything Except to Pay One's Bill—You Have to Do That Yourself.

The interesting news comes from Paris that a hotel will be built there in which all the domestic service will be performed by electricity. If the promoters of the scheme keep their promises, everything will be done by electricity except the guests' payment of their bills. Even then they can give the cashier a shock by refusing to pay.

There will be no waiters, no bellhops, no coat boys, no chambermaids, and consequently no tips. If a guest arrives home at 3 a.m. all he will have to do is to touch a button, which will turn an electric sun, and then he can say to his wife:

"My dear, you're really getting lazy. Look at me. I'm up and dressed."

If he feels that he needs a cocktail he can touch another button. One touch brings a martini, two whisky, three a Manhattan, four vermouth, five an ambulance. In answer, a dumb-waiter rises through the floor either to bring the desired bracer, or, when need be, to lower the guest to the ambulance.

The hotel promoters lay much stress on the fact that all their waiters are dumb. In place of the ordinary Swiss, who only stand and wait, instead of running and serving, there will be automatons run by electricity, and guaranteed not to spill soup down your back or creamed asparagus in your lap. The dining table will be decorated with flowers raised by intensive electrical culture in both winter and summer, for there will be no seasons in this hotel; push a button and you're warmer than when you see another fellow walking with the "only dear one on earth," push another button and you're colder than when the other fellow frigidly asks, "What the devil are you doing here?"

One of the features of the hotel will be an electric orchestra, in which all kinds of stringed instruments will apparently play of their own accord.

The inventor, a Frenchman named Giorgio Knap, who has spent years experimenting with the various devices, asserts that they are now absolutely perfect, and has formed a company under the name "Société des Hôtels Electriques" for the purpose of building electric hotels in every big city throughout the world.

PRETTY WEDDING HELD

Miss Hester Kergin Became Bride of Mr. J. C. Halsey on Saturday.

At the home of Dr. Kergin at eight p.m. on Saturday evening a charming wedding ceremony was held, the bride being Miss Hester Kergin, and the groom Mr. J. C. Halsey of this city. Rev. Charles Sing officiated, and the bride was given away by Dr. Kergin, her brother. The bride wore a very pretty gown of Queen satin with a cream chiffon overdress and delicate lace veil with wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss MacMaster, wore a dainty dress of pink and carried a bouquet of roses. Little Fred Kergin acted as a charming little ring-bearer, and Mr. J. Thomson was groomsmen.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with carnations, pinks, and a profusion of similar flowers and a bright reception followed the ceremony at which about thirty of the friends of bride and bridegroom were present. Many handsome gifts were received by the young couple who left by the Camosun yesterday morning for their honeymoon trip. They will return to reside in Prince Rupert, in the cottage lately occupied by Mr. Benson on Fifth avenue near McBride street. Both bride and bridegroom are very popular in Rupert.

AT THE THEATRE

Williams Co. Present "Ole Olsen" to crowded House Saturday—An Amusing Success.

"Ole Olsen" as staged on Saturday night by the Dave Williams Stock Company drew a full house, latecomers to the non-booked seats being even compelled to content themselves with standing room only, and the reserved seats being filled.

Again the company did excellently giving enjoyment unstintingly to the audience. It was interesting to note the number of re-bookings evident. Nearly everyone who saw the first plays put on by the company booked again for their latest performance.

"Ole Olsen" as a comedy gives Mr. Williams his opportunity all through to show his humorous gifts and talent as an actor in the part of the kind and ingenious Swede of the title role. Miss Marguerite Doyle too had specially good chances to demonstrate again to Prince Rupert that she is a comedienne of winsome ways and sparkling talent. The part of "Genie Dimple" suits her to perfection. Miss Ora Wolff had a part to suit her excellently in that of "Mrs. Flannigan." Byron Aldenn as "Dr. Shingle" was most amusing, and George Sweatman in the role of "Jeff Bassett" did his work capably. As "Paul Jordan" Mr. S. Van Dyke with little to do did that little just right, and Miss Pinkie Mullaly in the role of "Mrs. Jordan" acted with taste and restraint relieving the frankly funny phases of the play with touches of pathos. Master Willie played all there was to play in "Little Phillip" very well.

Specialties were introduced most successfully during the acts by Mr. George Sweatman in humorous songs, Mr. Arthur Cyril in Scotch songs and a parol dance which proved a roof-raiser, and Miss Marguerite Doyle with fetching songs. Altogether "Ole Olsen" upheld the company's already good reputation and tonight's performance of King's Evidence will be pleasurably anticipated.

KING'S EVIDENCE

Williams Dramatic Company Have a Strong Play for Tonight.

"King's Evidence" is the bill for tonight at the Empress, and is one of the best comedy bills the Williams Company put on. There is a plot, a good one, and there is comedy enough to satisfy every one. There is sensational action and climaxes enough to warm the blood of the most seasoned theatre goer.

It would have been impossible for the company to put on this play if it were not for the kindness of Mrs. Bryon Casley in allowing her little daughter Lottie to play the child's part. It is a sweet, quaint, child's part to which little Lottie Casley will do full justice.

Mr. Dave Williams as "Isaacs the Jew" has a chance to show his ability as a comedian, a chance which he makes the very most of and the whole company are well cast.

QUIET WEDDING SATURDAY

Miss Margaret Nyland Weds Mr. L. B. Warner. A Popular Match

On Saturday night at the house of Rev. Father Buloz the wedding took place of Miss Margaret Nyland and Mr. Laurie B. Warner of this city.
