PRINCE RUPERT AND CANBERRA

Shortly after Prince Rupert was laid out thirty years succeeding the late John J. Dore. Bill Withdrawn ago Australia decided to lay out a new capital city and the Mr. Landry has been stationed at city of Canberra came into being. It was laid out as a Prince Rupert for eight years. It has forty miles of treelined avenues and three million trees and shrubs have been Are Appointed

One feature of the city, according to recent visitors. is that all the residents are co-operating to make it the most beautiful city in the world by making their gardens blend with the general decorative scheme.

The buildings are all white and there are no street cars so that it is a great silent city and is growing rapidly and becoming a centre for culture and a place that tourists love to visit. It will be a fitting home for the Duke and Duchess of Kent during their sojourn in Australia.

MORE DIFFICULT CONDITIONS

Prince Rupert cannot hope to vie with Canberra in Gravelbourg as provincial secrethe matter of climate or in its desplay of flowering shrubs. tary. Our city presents difficulties in development which Canberra never encountered. And yet visitors find that Prince Rupert has a charm all its own and one that can be developed. With all its beauty and charm and delightful sunshine, Canberra cannot compete with Prince Rupert gardens in purity and depth of color and it cannot grow the splendid begonias, marigolds, dahlias and other columbia while rains have occurflowers that thrive in partial shade and in a humid at- red on the coast. mosphere.

It may take more effort but the results are amazing. This is a good time to lay plans for next year and if possible to commence work in breaking ground for additionals or laying out new gardens.

DR. TELFORD'S WITHDRAWAL

There is too much of a tendency for politicians to play fast and loose with rumors instead of seeking facts and making sure that the information given is correct. They are so eager to condemn those to whom they are opposed that they take chances and use information which may or may not be true. The case of Dr. Telford in the Legislature is one where it was possible to bring home the fact that what he was saying was not based on fact. In many cases it is impossible to refute charges owing to lack of evidence or for some other reason. While we are sorry for Dr. Telford, we are glad that the exposure was made.

LONDON RECRUITS

Recruiting for defence purposes in England has commenced and, doubtless, will be carried on with vigor. Following the recent crisis it is probable that the move will be successful. If it is not, it seems likely that Britain will resort to conscription for national defence purposes. It is not likely that conscription for overseas service would be carried out at any time.

MARRIAGE

Ziegfeld's Beauties Have Lots of Adventures But Not Often Happily Wed

More than six years after Florenz Ziegfeld's death the lives of many of the beauties he glorified still bubble with the drama and showmanship that attended their rise to fame in the "Follies."

Ruth Etting, one of the most famous of Ziegfeld's beauties, recentlyly escaped injury in a shooting affray in which her second husband, Myrl Alderman, was seriously wounded. Miss Etting's first husband, Martin Snyder, is charged with attempted murder and kidnapping as a result of the shooting.

Ziegfeld brought Miss Etting out of a Chicago night club to become co-star of Eddie Cantor in the 1927 "Follies." It was her first Broadway appearance but her singing of the hit numbers "Shine on Harvest by Moon," "Love Me or Leave Me" and Na "Ten cents a Dance" - led to almost 10 years of stage, movie and radio stardom.

Down the years a check shows that rarely have the "Follies" beauties succeeded in making a success of marriage. True, there have been successful matrimonial ventures but of these the principals in most instances have passed into obscur-

Ziegfeld himself was married twice first to the star, Anna Held, of "milk bath" fame, and next to the stage and screen star, Billie Burke, still one of the better actresses of the screen. Ziegfeld started the muchly-married Peggy Hopkins Joyce on her career of four husbands, the last being the Swedish Count Gosta Morner who bowed out in the divorce courts in 1928.

Mae Murray, whose golden beauty Ziegfeld set against a flowing background of ermine, also picked LONDON, December 2 (Canadian royalty for her fourth husband in

BALANCE IN LEADERSHIP

Editor, Daily News: Regarding your editorial of December 1 commenting upon the remarks of Premier Hepburn of Ontario on political leadership conveying a sly poke at Mackenzie King, may I say that in my opinion the first essential to successful leadership is political balance. APPRECIATION

Editor, Daily News:

A fitting opportunity having arisen for expressing, in a small way the esteem in which I hold Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell, I wish to extend my sincere thanks to them for the way in which they came to the fore in assisting those who needed help.

I think everyone will understand what I mean when I say that while those who should have been the first ones to help were trying to decide who to send, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell took matters into their own hands and came, not only with intention of helping the injured, if any, but also brought what was indeed much appreciated-food and hot coffee. Anyone who has been hungry for twenty-four hours knows what this would mean.

In conclusion may I say that the community of Prince Rupert should be very proud to have as members a.m. two such fine people as Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, and I for one say "Thanks a lot Mr. and Mrs. Mit-
