DAILY EDITION.

THURSDAY, JAN. 11

IN FAIRNESS TO ALDERMAN CLAYTON.

In an editorial article which appeared yesterday The News stated in reference to Alderman Clayton:

"He has gained in nothing but bumptiousness during his term of office, and the pitiful exhibition of childish temper he showed on the platform of the Empress Theatre on Monday night stamps him as unfit to be an alderman of the city, just as his recent assault on an Empire reporter at a public meeting stamps him as unfit to hold the office of police commissioner, for which he expressed an ambition. It would be a kindness to leave him at home on Thursday."

Events which have transpired since the publication of the article make it incumbent to alter the paragraph. We would desire to amend the paragraph by deleting the word "stamps" after "Monday night" and inserting the words "and last night stamps" in its place.

MORE SORROW FOR THE FAT MAN.

Our good friend Cy Peck once aired from a Prince Rupert platform the sorrows of a portly gentleman in regard to reciprocity in food products, and every playgoer is familiar with the plaint of the fat cowboy in "The Cowboy and the Girl" that "nobody loves a fat man."

Now a new terror has broken out for fat folk. An editorial in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association warns all and sundry of the danger of using thyroid in cases of obesity. Thyroid is the base in most of the anti-fat nostrums. Some recent alarming cases of illness in the Newport "four hundred" have been traced to the use of thyroid. So dangerous is it considered by the German authorities that the sale of the drug has been prohibited there.

ALD. HILDITCH'S FINAL RALLY

ment powers, was two and a half million dollars—only a million and a half had as yet been borrowed. (Cheers.)
"The only reason why I am standing for this position is because I believe Alderman Newton is absolutely incapable of filling it," said Alderman Hilditch.
Mr. Scott's Reputation.

Mr. Joe Scott took the platform for a moment to refute the charges made against him by Alderman Newton. He admitted that he had used in the heat of the moment, perhaps, unparliamentary language, still what he had said was by no means as bad as what had appeared many times in Alderman Newton's own paper, and once in particular when in glaring, black type there had appeared the statement: "The Mayor is a liar." That had gone broadcast over the country. Mr. Scott hoped his phrase had not got beyond the limits of Rupert. Alderman Newton had suggested that he had copied his term "cowardly cur" from Alderman Hilditch. He did not need to do that. He could have got such phrases more easily from the pages of the Empire. As for the charge made he defied any man in Rupert to substantiate it. (Applause.)

Attack by O. H. Nelson.
O. H. Nelson brought the meeting to a close with a speech in vigorous denunciation of Alderman Newton's attitude over the printing of the local improvement schedules. "I call that a diabolical thing," said Mr. Nelson. "It simply goes to prove, as I have seen and known in a year and a half's newspaper work at the City Councils here, that Alderman Newton charges his cloak of righteousness and square dealing who nit affects his own interests adversely. It was very noticeable from the first that he was for tenders in everything for the city except printing work. He was elected last year while he had a large printing account in dispute with the city, held over from payment because all the Council agreed that it was exorbitant." Loud applause greeted O. H. Nelson's address, and the meeting broke up with cheering for Hilditch.
