stooped over the other end and pulled the string. He received the bullet in his breast, but as the rabbit ran from its refuge he caught it with his hands and staggered, bleeding, two miles to

THRICE WIDOWED, IS NOW ACCUSEDMRS. JOHN M. QUINN BY THE DEATH OF HER THIRD HUSBAND, "SHOT BY A BURGLAR," IS IN A SERIOUS POSITION."The female of the species is more deadly than the male" is Rudyard Kipling's latest expressed philosophy. The great writer goes on to instance proofs of his contention from the animal kingdom, which he applies to humanity.Women the world over are vigorously "denying the allegation and detesting the alligator," as the humorist remarked. But evidently the courts of justice in the States have suspicions that Kipling may have at least grounds for his philosophy in certainaroused suspicion: She married John McDonald at London, Ont., October 23, 1883. McDonald died September 23, 1901, at Jackson, Mich., of alcoholism.She married Warren Thorpe October 28, 1901, at Jackson, Mich. Thorpe was killed by "a burglar" at his home June 13, 1903.She married John M. Quinn at Kalamazoo, Mich., not long after Thorpe's death. Quinn was shot dead by "a burglar" at Chicago November 2, 1911.

cases, for at present the deaths of the three husbands of Mrs.
Jane Taylor Quinn are being investigated by the Chicago police while she is in a cell.Her first husband died of alcoholism. Her second was shothas ever been known to mankind all over the world not only as the "fair sex," but also as the "softer sex," it may be recalled that even if Mrs. Quinn were proved really guilty of getting rid of her husbands in cold blood there are numerous notable cases from that of King Henry VIII downward in which husbands have gotten rid of their wives still more callously, while women too often are able to quote with the intensity of experience the lines of Kingsley's which Alderman Bullock-Webster has tellingly recited:"That husbands could be cruel," said Lorraine, Lorraine

I've known for seasons three."Color Note.The newest note is the use of vivid colors in embroidery. Lace continues to be used on everything in every style and weight and every known design.Looks Good.A pretty and fashionable way to wear the hair is to part it in the middle and draw it loosely over the ears, gathering it into a simple knot at the back.Head-dresses.Head-dresses of rhinestone bands, paradise plumes or bands of gold embroidery set with different colored stones are all very distinctive and effective.

Charles E. Thorpe, her stepson, testified that she was alone with Thorpe when he was killed, a few hours before he was to have transferred his property to his son. Her third husband was shot in his Chicago home November 2.
She accused a burglar of the deed.
A revolver was found later hidden in her bathroom. Two of her husbands were insured in her favor.Here are the facts of Mrs.
