UNDER WHICH FLAG NEXT?

It was not the Canadian flag, but the one which has "braved a thousand years, the battle and the breeze" Borden waved during the last election. Masquerading in its folds he marched to victory and the patriot Sir Wilfrid now sits on the opposition benches. No doubt Mr. Borden would like to wave the Canadian flag just now, but can he? Bourassa says he certainly cannot, and Bourassa declares that what HE says goes. Isn't that a nice how-dye-do?

It was only the other day the administration decided upon a new flag for the Canadian navy. This was an admission upon their part, possibly without consulting Bourassa, that there is a Canadian navy. But Mr. Bourassa declares in his newspaper, like the bad boy he is, that there isn't going to be no navy. No, he is going to wipe it off the slate and the map. He is going to move for the repeal of the naval bill enacted by the late Government. And he is not going to wait for the Borden Government to do it either, but will do it himself right away. The name of his newspaper is "Le Devoir," which being interpreted means The Duty.

Perhaps it is not strange that Bourassa and his followers should consider it their duty to wipe out the Canadian and all other flags but the one which represents the nationality from which they sprung. It may be that the "duty" to which the leader of the Nationalists has pledged himself, that of wiping out the navy, is merely for the purpose of wiping out the new naval flag. When the navy is wiped out the flag goes with it.

Next of course he will haul down the flag of Canada and in its place flaunt to the Canadian breeze a new device, in which a gory guillotine is surmounted by a gory-colored Liberty cap. All in the narrow path of patriotic duty. If he fails to convince Parliament it is their duty to wipe out the navy he will declare a general election. Then the great national question will be—"Under Which Flag?"

DARE-DEVIL DICK AND THE FEDERAL CABINET.

The Toronto Star has a breezy correspondent in the press gallery at Ottawa who reminds one in his style of Sir Henry Lucy. In fact he is a close literary emulator of that genial British stroller along the lobbies of the English Parliament House. "H. F. G.," whoever he may be, calls his gossipy screed "The Gallery Clock," while Sir Henry for many years run in the columns of Punch a weekly article under the caption of "Around the Clock, by One of the Hands." In a recent issue of the Star this correspondent from his little perch above the gallery clock boldly writes this of our Premier:

"Dare-Devil Dick did not risk his own hide in the recent election, but he delivered a solid British Columbia, and so the Tory Government has taken him to its bosom. He is sealed, so to speak, to the service. The spirit and the bride say come, but the Hon. Dick will not come until he gets the Department of Public Works. He wants that—no more, no less—and of course he can't have it until Monk steps out. When that happens Premier McBride may be coaxed out of his little British Columbia flower pot and then we shall see how big he really is."

Another very capable writer, Jack McConnell, of the Vancouver Saturday Sunset, who has the advantage not only of parliamentary experience as a writer but a thorough knowledge of the personality of Mr. McBride, takes up this subject and remarks that "Dick McBride would never stand the test of greatness and he knows it well." He goes on:

"He knows his limitations very well. Dick McBride is not big enough for British Columbia. The advancing standards of this province are leaving him behind. If you subtract the dramatic artist from Dick McBride what is left doesn't amount to much. He could never live up to his photographs."

He is either not big enough or too big for British Columbia. It is little enough and mean and narrow enough beyond expression for him to hold back from occupancy or use the government lots in Prince Rupert until hard-working citizens have made those lots immensely valuable; it is the act of a big, bloated and autocratic millionaire who, in his self-sufficiency, thinks he can say with the late Vanderbilt, "The public be d—d."

LIBERAL "SUN" TO RISE IN VANCOUVER.

Vancouver will soon have a new morning journal of Liberal politics which will be called the "Morning Sun." The exigencies of the weather have retarded operations on the new building and have delayed shipments of machinery. A few days ago it was expected that publication would begin next Monday, but a further delay was occasioned by the non-arrival of linotypes, and the date had to be set forward another week. All the plant and equipment except the linotypes are now installed and in full working order and the newspaper is now expected to make its bow to the public on February 12th.

MORGAN'S ART COLLECTION WORTH ONE HUNDRED MILLION

THE GREAT COLLECTOR HAS STUNNED THE WORLD—OFTEN STUNG IN HIS PURCHASES—SINGLE COLLECTIONS AMOUNT TO MORE THAN ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

With the casual report that J. Pierpont Morgan paid $2,000,000 instead of $1,000,000 for the Hontschel collection of gothic works and enamels the world is beginning to realize that the premier American financier is the possessor of treasuries of art that fairly stupify the imagination in their range of variety and their enormous value.

No perverted writer of fiction ever filled the palaces of a fabled monarch with such treasures. The longest line of the most prosperous kings of Europe left behind them but a shabby store compared with the almost limitless collections of Mr. Morgan.

When, three years ago, Mr. Morgan permitted the Queen of England and the Dowager Empress of Russia to inspect one of his three great treasure houses in London they were fairly paralyzed by the wealth of art, of paintings, of statuary, of jewels, of ceramics, of porcelain, of bronzes, of reliquaries and priceless antiquities of every form and conception of art treasure of every age of barbarism and civilization.

"Stung" More Than Any Other.

Every collector has felt the sting of being stung, and as the greatest of all collectors of any period of human evolution J. P. Morgan has undoubtedly been stung oftener than any other son of Adam.

There are some connoisseurs who have seen all of the Morgan collections and who have looked into all of the Morgan treasure chests who say that his collecting has cost him in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Others cut this to half a hundred millions, but admit that before many years have passed and as the world's wealth increases that the Morgan treasuries of art will be worth easily $100,000,000.

Still others say that the Morgan collections are priceless and that there is no human means of estimating their value.

PANAMA DUES ON OUR SHIPS

Dollar Two Bits a Ton for Freight—Dollar Four Bits for Passengers—Railroad Owned Steamships Double if Bill Passes.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Washington, Feb. 1.—American ships would use the Panama Canal free of cost, while foreign vessels would pay a charge not exceeding $1.25 a ton under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator Bradley of Kentucky. If an American ship, however, is owned by a railroad company, and is operated to offset the expected reduction in cost of freight transportation, it will pay double the foreign rate.

Senator Bradley's bill provides that all laws and executive orders now in force in Panama should continue until amended or repealed, and that the President should operate the canal through the chief of engineers of the army. The charge for carrying passengers through the canal would not exceed $1.50 per passenger.

Australian Government Curing Drink Habit Adopts Famous NEAL CURE

Sending Sunshine and Happiness Into Hundreds of Darkened Homes Instead of Inflicting Fines or Prison Cells Upon Her Unfortunate Citizens

The government of South Australia has set an example worthy of imitation by the other nations of the world. Owing to the extent, enormity and the awful consequences of the drink habit, they have for years past been investigating its cause, effect, treatment and possible cure.

In the year 1910 Rev. A. C. Rankine, commissioned by that government, visited the United States, and after a thorough investigation of drink habit treatments, returned to his government last September and gave a detailed and lengthy report recommending the adoption of the NEAL THREE-DAY DRINK HABIT CURE. The government of South Australia adopted his report, and established the cure in a large government sanitarium, where those addicted to the drink habit are treated at government expense, instead of being fined or sent to prison cells.

During the first ninety days 182 persons so affected were perfectly cured by the Neal treatment at government expense and restored to citizenship. In addition to this, reports show that more than double that number availed themselves of the Neal treatment in private sanitariums in Australia.

Scientific research and investigation of the centuries has recently culminated in the establishment of the fact that the drink habit, so called, is caused by the poison of alcohol stored up in the system by the long continued or excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and that the man or woman thus afflicted is as much in need of and must have medical help as if suffering from typhoid fever or other serious ailment.

Dr. Neal has solved this problem. He has not only demonstrated the above, but he has found the drug which antidotes this poison, and, combining same with other well known neutralizing and eliminating drugs, he has organized the Neal treatment, which, in thousands of cases, has perfected absolute and satisfactory cures in the short space of time of only three days.

The Vancouver Neal Institute is one of the many that is carrying on this good work, and grateful patients every day attest to the efficiency of the Neal Treatment.

If in need of help yourself or if you have a friend who is losing his grip write for booklet giving full information.
