THE SECRET OF MONEY MAKING

The Time to Buy Real Estate in Prince Rupert is Right Now as Prices Will Begin to Soar This Summer.

It is probably safe to say that 90 per cent. of the wealth of the world has been accumulated by a comparative few—not by mere savings or the fruits of actual labor, and not by the pursuit of any manufacturing or mercantile business, but by investments and trading, principally in real estate.

Fortunes have been made by early investors in Western Canada townsites. Lots that were originally bought in Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Moose Jaw, Regina, Saskatoon and Prince Rupert at $100 to $500 have been turned over in but a short space of time at $10,000 to $60,000. For instance, Robert Ross bought lots 15 and 16, block 9, section 1, in Prince Rupert, on May 29th, 1909, at $600 the two, and sold them October 17th, 1911, for $6000. Phil L. Serwe bought in 1903, lots 4, 5, and 36, block 2, Davis addition, Seattle, Wash., at $140 each, which were sold in 1909, only six years later, at $2,000 each.

Then, again, A. G. Ferguson bought of the C.P.R. in Vancouver twenty years ago lots on Hastings street at $700 each which were worth $20,000 ten years later, and today cannot be ought for less than $155,000.
