Army Week In Prince Rupert...

Army week is being held throughout Canada commencing today at the instance of the government itself so that the public may see and learn more about Canada's fighting men and their equipment, so that the Army may be bought up to the same level of respect and attention as the other branches of the service. Here in Prince Rupert the Army is too busy today to engage, except in a very limited way, in demonstrations and put on displays such as other military centres are staging. However, there are opportunities to learn about the Army here and certainly there is plenty of chance for us all to honor the Army on this occasion. The Army has, indeed, become a part of Prince Rupert and, by and large, we would say a very esteemed and valued part of our life today.

Since it is the Army that will "finish the job," there is an especial need for a fine army during war time so that final victory will be successfully achieved. There is also need for an army during peace time. Therefore, the public should realize that our Army should be maintained much as we maintain our police and fire-fighting forces.

The reputation of the civilian and the soldier is sometimes one of animosity when they meet whereas it should be one of comradeship and cheerfulness. The civilian and soldier should work together to help each other and this is particularly true here in Prince Rupert. Actually the soldier is only a civilian who is going up to the front lines to fight while those who remain behind do the home front work. The soldier's sacrifice is greater than that of any one else and, therefore, he should be treated accordingly.

Unfortunately there can be no equality of sacrifices during wartime. The man who steps into a uniform gives up his entire personal life. And if he is killed fighting for democracy he has made a sacrifice which no other can equal. He should be honored and respected for his willingness to fight for those who must remain at home. He is guarding their futures, making the world a safe place for them to live in peace and comfort.

Canada can be proud of its Army in comparing it with those of other countries. It is among the three highest paid armies in the world. It is the best clothed and fights with the finest equipment. Its fighting spirit can be compared with that of any other army. It will be in the vanguard of the armies that take the offensive and win the war.

In that spirit we salute the Army as Army Week commences and we have good reason to do so here in Prince Rupert which conceivably may be one day a "front line" itself.

We would urge every citizen of this community to do everything possible to make the soldier's life more pleasant not only during this Army Week but as long as the boys in uniform are with us. Nor should we forget our duty to them when the fighting is over and they return to us as civilians.

Midlands and Searchlights Chalk Up Wins In Sunday's Games

Midlands defeated Dry Dock 7 to 6 in a bang-up baseball game Sunday that had the crowd on their feet all the game. The Searchlights found an easy victim in the Co-op nine, shelling them to the tune of 10 to 2.

With the score 3 to 1 in Dry Dock's favor the Midland nine came to life in a wild sixth inning to chalk up six runs. Mathews, the Midland left fielder, sparked the sixth inning rally, starting it off with a hard hit double into centre field. Singles by Puffer and MacKenzie tied the score at 3 all. Lewis, the Dry Dock short stop, came in to try and stem the tide and was promptly slapped for four more runs to give the Midlands a 7 to 3 edge.

The Dry Docks tried hard in the seventh scoring three runs but MacKenzie, the Midland hurler, cut them off with a strike out and an easy pop-up to give the Midlands the game 7 to 6. The Searchlights had an easy time with the Co-ops trouncing them 10 to 2, scoring three runs in the first inning to two by the Co-ops, adding two more in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth. G. Karlan went the route for the Searchlights and had a comparatively easy time.
