Reception for Returning Hero

MASSETT, Oct. 1-His native village gave a hearty reception to one of its war heroes on Saturday when Gunner Ivan Adams arrived on the Cassiar after having been two years overseas and paying a visit at the home of five years in all in the Army. He was met at New Massett and driven to the old village where the Massett band greeted him, playing "O Canada" and other patriotic selections. A community banquet was then held with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Swanson as hosts. A great community party was held in the town hall in the evening with the entire population turning out to greet and honor Gunner Adams.

A prospector who tells of his experience will take no other than Pacific Milk with him on his trips to the hills. "It fills so many wants, goes farther, and every ounce less is a help when the pack is on your back and you have hills to climb." We know several miners who prefer Pacific Milk.
