Manson's Hold Bowling Lead

In this week's Men's Five Pin Bowling League play, five teams won four points apiece. They were Manson's, Jaycees No. 2, Brownwoods, Watson Island Stages and Philpott Eviitt, defeating Oddfellows, Thom Sheet Metal, Jaycees No. 1, Triple C's and Mallets. Other matches ended in 3 to 1 point victories by Home Oil, Crescents, Cold Storage, Grand Cafe, Blain's, Stones, D & S over C.P.A., Scotians, Undesirables, Rupert Motors, Ambassadors, Canadian Legion and Commercial.

There were many high scores over the 300 mark per game but Bill McKenzie was high with 353. High three games were by J. Ewart of Blain's with 826.

THE SAINT—This colorful wrestler will appear in two bouts tonight at the Civic Centre. He meets Felix Kohnke in the first bout and it will be twenty minute or one fall decision. The semi-final will be another one fall bout with two of wrestling's main stars as opponents, in the persons of Leo Karlenko of Fresno, California, and Chief Thunderbird of the Saanich Indian tribe. The third and main event will be a tag team match with all four wrestlers in the ring. The winners of the first two bouts will flip for partners, and from there on it will be a wild free-for-all, with the final decision going to the winner of the first two falls. There will be no time limit. Referees for tonight are George Howe and Tom Andrewchuck. Bob Cameron will be timekeeper, and Graham Alexander is providing the handlers from the Legion Boxing Club. Art Murray will be announcer.

At home in any company...

And a 19th hole winner on any course for its distinctive, mellow-brewed flavour and downright satisfying taste.

Truly the beverage of moderation—the perfect expression of genuine hospitality that is so much a part of our Canadian life.

Murray Sez -

All of us know that wrestlers are the craziest peoples. Yet Don Forward expects a packed house tonight at the Civic Centre for his current showing of the fugitives from the house of horrors. This gang carries with it a rather personable character in a lad known as "The Saint" who is masked, obviously to hide his sins and refuses to admit his place of origin. Now if he were from where most saints hang out, I could be convinced he is being modest but, according to reports, he just couldn't be. He just isn't the type Peter would go for.

I mention the Saint as he is probably the most interesting of the gang because of his disguise yet I know many will be eager to see Mr. Karlenko, the Undesirable, who took a bit of a whipping from Jack McLaughlin a few weeks ago. If "The Saint" is billed as being from up above it should be easy to bill Mr. Karlenko. He has all the earmarks of one that has been hanging around spots Peter might banish one for, say, wrestling for a living. By the way how did Peter get into the wrestling game anyhow. In case you are confused, however, he will not show tonight.

I don't know why it has taken until now to tell you that we have Chief Thunderbird on show also and a better showman we have never had. Thunderbird is Chief of the Saanich tribe of Indians and although Saanich is known as the home of the clams and not the home of Thunderbird, it is because Thunderbird has never been canned. He has been exported though and has travelled the entire Globe trying to rove something or other by wrestling.

The other victim of this terrible disease called "Rasslin" is a Mr. Konke who hails from the Williams Lake country originally and who in my way of thinking might end up the goat in this deal.

Tonight's show is lined up in this manner. In the opener, we have Messrs. Kohnke and Saint mixing themselves for a full 20 minutes or one fall. Then we have the other two chaps, the famous Karlenko and the Thunderbird chief doing much the same only at a different time. They will wrestle 20 minutes or until one has secured a fall. After this is all over and the wife says "Let's go dad," there is an excited gang busy up on the ring tossing to see what will wrestle what and who and this will all end up in the winners tossing to see who they will pick from be their partners other two to see who. Now if one can imagine how lows are gonna be they wanna enter
