

"Highly Recommended."

"I would certainly recommend that you get a Gurney-Oxford, Mary. Mother had one, and when I furnished my house, I got one. Every maid I ever had has been enthusiastic about the Gurney-Oxford."

"What are its good points?"

"Well, the best is that it cooks and bakes like a dream. I never tasted such golden brown biscuits or such flakey pastry as my Gurney-Oxford turns out, and roasts, fowls and puddings are always a success."

"Is it easy to operate?"

"My dear, it's simplicity itself. The Gurney Econo-mizer, which you cannot get on any other range, regulates the fire simply by putting one small lever up or down. You never heard of anything so simple. And by a system of divided flues the oven is always uniformly heated. You know what that means—biscuits, bread, roasts, not one half overdone and the other half underdone, but properly done all through. Yes, my dear, you take my advice as I took mother's, and get a Gurney-Oxford Range."

BOY AUTOCAR PIRATE MAKES SUCCESS OF HIS DEPRERATIONS

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD LAD IN WINNIPEG DISPLAYS MARVELOUS ABILITY WITH ALL MAKES OF MOTOR CARS—STEALS FINE AUTOS FOR SURREPTITIOUS TRIPS.

For some weeks the police authorities of Winnipeg were puzzled by a system of automobile thieving which caused considerable inconvenience to motor car owners and finally resulted in a storm of protest from the motorists.

The continuous stealing of cars in various parts of the city completely baffled the whole police force for some time, who made the mistake of looking for the customary joy riders, instead of an innocent looking lad of fifteen with a band of children. The latter conducted a piratical course in their operations, although they never made off with any of their prizes. Without exception the stolen cars were always found in some obscure portion of the city, always in good condition and little the worse for wear.

The lad in question was a very diminutive person, but evidently an expert chauffeur. He admitted to the police having taken at least twenty machines, and a peculiar feature was that no make of cars baffled his driving ability, whether it was a limousine or a runabout. He knew them all and their peculiarities.

The practice of stealing cars had become a serious menace to the comfort of those in the habit of going to theatres, of late parties and using their cars. When they came out their machines would be gone and a search would have to be instituted.

The number of cars stolen was great and each case was not always reported to the newspapers. Very frequently as soon as the loss was reported and the search commenced word would come in that the car was found, thus obviating the necessity of publicity. With the capture of the young pirate chauffeur, however, owners may rest a little more secure in the knowledge that their cars will not now be stolen.

KETCHEL SPENT FORTUNE BEING A GOOD FELLOW

Stanley Ketchel won at least $100,000 in the last five years of his career as a prize fighter. The final settlement of his estate, of which an account was filed in probate court at Grand Rapids, Mich., last week, shows him to be worth about $500 at the time of his death.

Fortunes were won by Ketchel in the ring. He held a championship, demanded big purses and received them.

Among other bills there was one from a hotel where the champion stayed a few weeks. This bill amounted to $2,000. Included was the cost of champagne and other luxuries.

All that remains of Ketchel's fortune is a little farm at Pine Island Lake. It is worth $7,000 and mortgaged for more than $6,000.

Ketchel left jewelry worth $1,000. It is mortgaged for $500. This includes a diamond stickpin and ring.

The middleweight championship belt was located in the St. Francis Hotel in an Francisco. It was sold to R. P. Dickerson, on whose farm the champion met his death. The belt brought $300.

His personal property amounted to $3,729.92; but nearly all of this was consumed in expense administration and debts.

Ketchel loaned large sums of money to "friends." He never took notes or "I. O. U." slips for these loans. Not one of these "friends" went to his badly marked grave to pay tribute to one whom all the fight world knew as a "good fellow."

ENGLISH GOLF CHAMPION IS BADLY BEATEN

London, July 11.—The sensation of the golfing world has been the defeat of Harold H. Hilton.

HAROLD H. HILTON

the holder of the amateur championship, whose chances of winning again were regarded as particularly rosy.

The curious part of it was that Mr. Hilton's play in the morning was about the finest he has shown, and he has been on a high level all the week. He beat Dod of Hunterscombe by 8 and 6, and then in the afternoon went to pieces utterly, losing to A. V. Hambro by 5 and 4—a beating such as he has not been treated to for a long time in a big match.

At the first hole Hilton sliced badly into the famous ditch and lost, and at the third he was bunkered. At the fifth he missed a two foot putt for a half. He won the seventh after Hambro had got into difficulties in the rushes. At the short eighth he was bunkered; he won the ninth, and went into the rushes on the way to the tenth.

Angus V. Hambro, who beat the champion, is member of Parliament for South Dorset. He is a member of the principal golf clubs both in England and Scotland, and is a plus 3 man. He stands 6 feet 3 1/2 inches in height, drives a long ball and has a particular fancy for his big brassy. He has played for England against Scotland on many occasions, but has never reached the final of the championship.

BURGESS HAS A BROKEN ARM; CANNOT SWIM

Dover, July 10.—The Channel swimming season is with us once again, and Rose Pitnof, an American girl, and Jabez Wolfe are both bent on performing the great feat. Burgess intended to try and break his own record in the near future, but has unfortunately had the misfortune to break his right arm. He will not be able to do much in the water until well on in September.

ENVY, HATRED, MALICE

The Reason for Foolish Discontent.

"It does not take a great deal to make a man comfortable if there is no one living near by who is more comfortable."

"What makes us dissatisfied is not that we have so little, but that somebody else has more."

So writes the Rev. Dr. C. H. Parkhurst, who goes on to say: "Seventy-five per cent. of the people who are complaining of their condition would be perfectly contented, would think of nothing better and would praise the Lord for His goodness were it not that the odd 25 per cent. have houses that are bigger, clothes that are finer and do not have to figure closely in order to make both ends meet."

"If that 25 per cent. had the felicitous life dropped to the level of those of the 75 per cent., the 25 per cent. would be the only unhappy ones left; for to have and then to lose is worse than never to have had at all."

"The excess of what others have over what we have torments us more than what we have gratifies us."

"It may be foolish, but we are made in that way."
